[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, Oct. 8.—[By Atlantic Cable, After Midnight.] The Daily Telegraph's Chefoo correspondent, cabling under date of October 7, says that the gale is preventing communication with Port Arthur.

MESSAGES SLIP THROUGH.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 8, 8:05 a.m.—[After Midnight.] A special dispatch from Mukden, October 7, says there has been no change in the general situation.

The blockade of Port Arthur appears not to have been so effective, as a number of messengers have slipped through. The latest advices said that the fortress had sufficient ammunition and provisions to enable the garrison to hold out nine months.

LEAVE FOR THE FRONT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 8, 1:50 a.m.—[After Midnight.] The first troops of the Imperial Guard left St. Petersburg tonight for the front. They consisted of the Second Division of the Finland Guards, of which the Czarevitch is honorary colonel.

M'CORMICK STARTS HOME. SEES DE MARTENS FIRST.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 7.—Ambassador McCormick, who has been granted leave of absence to go to the United States on urgent private business, left St. Petersburg tonight. Before going, Mr. McCormick had an interview with Prof. De Martens, who is a member of the Admiralty Appeal Court. The sessions of this court will be open to the public except when communications from foreign governments are to be submitted.

The decision to hold open sessions is a new departure for Russia. English criticism of the fact that the majority of the court is composed of admirals has been met with the explanation that Admiralty courts of Russia are modeled after those of France, Germany, Italy and other continental countries.

MEDIATION NOT DESIRED.

LANSDOWNE ANSWERS LETTER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Replying to a letter from the International Arbitration and Peace Association, suggesting that the time is at hand when His Majesty's ministers, in concert with the other powers, can, with good hope of success, appeal to the governments of Russia and Japan to suspend the conflict in the Far East, Foreign Minister Lansdowne writes as follows:

"Neither of the belligerents having expressed any desire for mediation on the part of other powers, His Majesty's government does not consider that it could with advantage take such action as is suggested by your committee."

RUSSIAN FINANCES. VILENKINE'S STATEMENT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Russian financial conditions, with particular reference to the ability of the Russian treasury to meet the enormous war expenses, were discussed tonight by Gregory Vilenkine, financial agent of the Russian embassy, in an interview with the Associated Press. He explained that the Russian bank notes, upon the recent large issue of which the foreign press has laid great stress, are secured by gold in the treasury. M. Vilenkine said:

"On February 1 of the current year the gold reserve of the bank consisted of 915,000,000 roubles, while there were only 598,000,000 roubles or bank notes in circulation.

"August 1, 1904, the gold reserve of the State Bank consisted of 948,700,000 roubles, while there were only 695,300,000 roubles in bank notes in circulation.

"As a whole, the war expenditure of Russia from the beginning of the campaign until the end of the year may be approximately placed at 625,000,000 to 650,000,000 roubles. With regard to the means for covering this expenditure, unforeseen by the budget, it must be regarded that the reserve in the government treasury January 1, 1904, consisted of 312,000,000 roubles, and, after the covering of all the standing expenditures, according to the budget of 1904, it amounted to 130,000,000 roubles, to which there must be added 135,000,000 roubles of economics realized by curtailing already sanctioned expenditures for the current year; also 282,000,000 roubles realized from the issue of 5 per cent. treasury bonds, and 150,000,000 roubles from the 3.6 per cent. treasury bills. The government treasury thus has at its disposal approximately 700,000,000 roubles, which is sufficient for covering the above expenditure applying to the new loans."

WARSHIPS REPORTED DAMAGED. RUSSIANS ADMIT POSSIBILITY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

TOKIO, Oct. 7, 2:30 p.m.—[By Asiatic Cable.] It is reported here that the fire of the Japanese land batteries severely damaged four Russian warships in the harbor of Port Arthur. It is stated that one of the vessels was completely wrecked. The names of none of the ships were given.

ST. PETERSBURG'S VIEW.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 7, 6:05 p.m.—Up to this hour, the War Office has not received fresh advices from the front.

The Admiralty continues without news of the reported sea fight off Port Arthur, as well as of the Tokio report of the wrecking and damaging of Russian warships at Port Arthur by the Japanese land batteries. As a portion of the squadron has been going out occasionally to bombard the Japanese land positions, the possibility that some of the Russian vessels may have been damaged by the Japanese batteries is admitted.

AGAIN THAT RUMORED DASH.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 7, 8:11 a.m.—The only reference to the reported sea fight off Port Arthur is contained in a special dispatch from Chefoo, which says that on the night of October 5 the sound of firing was heard in the direction of Port Arthur and that searchlights were seen to be working in that vicinity. It is thought there may be have been a battle, but no confirmation of the report of one has been received.

TO EXPEL THE COSSACKS. JAPANESE ACTIVITY IN KOREA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

TOKIO, Oct. 7, 3 p.m.—[By Asiatic Cable.] Lieut.-Gen. Hasegawa, late commander-in-chief of the Imperial Guards Division, will depart for Korea today to assume command of the Japanese forces there. It is probable that the Korean army will be dispersed or brought under Japanese command. Gen. Hasegawa is expected to effect this change at an early date.

It is probable that this Japanese move is made in order to expel the bands of Cossacks now operating in Western and Northwestern Korea.

PRESENT RUSSIAN MOVES. REPORTED BY JAPANESE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

TOKIO, Oct. 7, 4 p.m.—[By Asiatic Cable.] The imperial headquarters issued a report today of the recent Russian military movements and skirmishes with the Japanese south of Mukden, as follows:

"October 4, a few of the enemy's cavalry approached the vicinity of Aly Sangpienmen, but our forces drove them off.

"The enemy, with a battalion of infantry, eleven squadrons of cavalry and five guns advanced toward Shaliuhatzu October 4, and retreated toward Huangshan October 5. In this direction there were only two or three of our squadrons of cavalry, whose outpost lines extended between Niaokoshan and Wangchiafe. The Russian infantry heading the column wore Chinese costumes.

"October 4, a small body of the enemy attacked our picket at Pintaitzu and on the Mukden road and were repulsed. The enemy left his dead and rifles behind. All the enemy wore Chinese clothing.

"Four squadrons of Russian cavalry came to Sunshutsuitzu on the Fushun road, October 3, and remained there until the morning of October 5.

"The enemy's cavalry patrols have been seen south of Wulichies and Lungwangiao, but they retreated north to Lutakow, leaving infantry patrols.

"A detachment of the enemy's cavalry, October 4, with three guns, advanced toward Shiotai, and, taking up a position at Tatai, fired on our troops north of Yentai.

"The enemy posted at Chantang, on the right bank of the Hun River, has retired, leaving a small force there.

"There are no troops of the enemy in the neighborhood of Taiotaitzu.

"A small force of the enemy recently attacked our outpost on the left bank of the Hun River, but was driven back."

LOOK LIKE LIVING CORPSES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHELIABINSK (Russia) Oct. 7.—Capt. Andreieff of the Russian armored cruiser Rossia, of the Vladivostok squadron, passed through Cheliabinsk October 6 on his way to eastern Russia. He is suffering from acute nervous prostration, the result of terrific tension during the naval fight August 14 with the Japanese fleet under Admiral Kamimura, following the departure of Rossia, Gromoboi and Rurik from Vladivostok. The same ailment affects many of the wounded, who are being invalided home and who look like living corpses. It seems impossible for the nervous system to recuperate from the awful strain to which it is subjected in a modern naval battle.

FLOOD VICTIMS IN NEW MEXICO.

FRANCISCO LUCERO'S FAMILY DIE IN THEIR HOME.

Body of Mrs. Thomas Acosta Taken from the Water Near the Town of Mora—Reports of Nine Deaths Come from the Red River Country and Drownings Elsewhere.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LAS VEGAS (N. M.) Oct. 7.—Word has reached here from Chaperito of the drowning in the recent flood of the wife and three children of Francisco Lucero, formerly a member of the Legislature from this county. The woman and children were at home alone the night of the storm, and the water rose so rapidly that they were unable to get out of the house. The body of Mrs. Thomas Acosta, one of the victims of the flood, has been found near the town of Mora.

Reports of nine deaths come from the Red River country. Seven are reported drowned in the Rayado, and there are indefinite reports from the Cimarron. It is now believed the trains here cannot go south until Saturday night.

SENATOR CLARK SELLS.

Eastern Capitalists Buy the Townsite and Coal Mines of Bridger, Mont., for Two Million.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RED LODGE (Mont.) Oct. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A deal has been closed in Bridger, near here, whereby the extensive mining interests of Senator W. A. Clark, consisting of the Bridger coal mines, together with the townsite of Bridger, embracing a section of land, and 50,000 horsepower rights in the Bridger River have been taken over by a syndicate of eastern capitalists, headed by Samuel Glidden.

It is understood that the deal involved $2,000,000, of which $500,000 was paid down. The new syndicate will install a gypsum plant to work extensive bodies of the mineral, to be found in the vicinity of Bridger, large deposits having already been secured by the Glidden people. The Bridger coal mines employ several hundred men, and are rated as among the best coal properties in the State.

There is no confirmation here of the sale of the Great Falls Tribune, though reported probably effected.

FIGHTING IN AFRICA.

Portuguese Minister States that Natives Killed Two Hundred and Fifty-four Men.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LISBON, Oct. 7.—[By Atlantic Cable.] In the Chamber of Deputies today, the Minister of Marine made a detailed statement of the recent fighting in Portugese Southwest Africa, where a force of 419 Portugese, operating against the Cuanhamas, was ambushed by the tribesmen as it was crossing the Cunene River. Two hundred and fifty-four of the Portugese were killed.

The Minister said that when the attack was made, the detachment formed in a square, which was subjected to a heavy fire and had at one moment to defend itself with the bayonet. The square was not broken, but the irregular troops became panic-stricken, and were thrown into confusion. A hand-to-hand conflict, assegai against bayonet, was the principal feature of the engagement. Reinforcements sent to the relief of the detachment succeeded in saving only a few of the wounded.

The commander of the detachment recrossed the Cunene River with his forces, to return to Humbe, where he is now secure, having sustained no further loss.

WHY FEWER YALE FRESHMEN.

NEW HAVEN (Ct.) Oct. 7.—In commenting on the decrease in the number of freshmen this year, the Yale News today says that rigidness in the examinations in ancient and modern languages and bad business conditions in the West are two potent reasons.

BOMB FOR PRESIDENT.

Heflin of Alabama Advocates it.

Democratic Aspirant for Congress Makes Speech Which Mob Wildly Cheers.

Treasonable Talk Follows Attack on His Colored Opponent, Capt. Walker.

Also Threatens Booker Washington—Democracy of the Country Alarmed.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MOBILE (Ala.) Oct. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Telegrams have been pouring in for twenty-four hours to the members of the Democratic State Committee, begging them to get the Alabama newspapers to denounce the speech made by Representative Heflin, in which he suggested that the assassination of President Roosevelt would be no great loss to the country. Heflin's speech is several days old, but until yesterday there was not a Democrat in the State who had anything but praise for it. He was applauded wildly by several hundred Democrats who heard him deliver it, and this was only the day after he had brutally assaulted Capt. B. W. Walker, his Republican opponent for Congress.

Alabama Democrats have now heard from Gorman, Taggart and other men supporting Parker, and today they induced the sanguinary Heflin to claim that his remarks were in the nature of a jest, and that he did not mean to make voters believe that the assassination of Roosevelt and Booker T. Washington would be a good thing for the country. The fact is, however, there was no jest about Heflin's speech. It was the opening of his campaign in Tuskegee, and all his followers had gathered to hear him denounce Capt. Walker, whom he called "a black-and-tan serpent."

It was an enthusiastic meeting. Heflin was carried into the hall on the shoulders of his followers, as a mark of appreciation of his attack the day before on Capt. Walker. He contemptuously described the dinner at which Booker T. Washington met the President and then he said:

"There they sat, Roosevelt and Booker, and if some Czolgosz, or one of his kind, had thrown a bomb under the table, no great harm would have been done the country."

THREATENS BOOKER.

The crowd yelled itself hoarse, and not a single Democrat had a word of protest. Heflin was encouraged, and then asserted that Capt. Walker was pinning his faith on the help that Booker T. Washington would be able to give him in Congress.

"And," said Heflin, "if Booker interferes in this thing, there is a way to stop him. We have a way of influencing the negroes down here when it becomes necessary."

The courtroom, which had seen half a century of use and which echoed to the eloquence of the most famous lawyers of the State, was filled from the beginning of the speaking. Heflin was introduced to the crowd by Henry P. Merritt, a well-known lawyer of Tuskegee. He was presented as "our distinguished nominee, known to every man in Macon county."

After Heflin had thus assailed the President and Booker T. Washington, he took up the Democratic campaign book and compared Parker with Roosevelt.

"This man in the White House is a wild, military, bucking bronco President," said Heflin, "and Parker a patriot and a statesman. When Parker is elected, if Booker Washington goes to the White House, you will find him eating in the kitchen. The center of Roosevelt's gravity is all military, and his motto is to eat with Booker Washington whenever he gets a chance."

KILLED BY TAME BEAR.

Boy Fires Shot at One of Sights of Yellowstone Park, With Fatal Result to Himself.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CODY (Wyo.) Oct. 7.—Information has reached here that James Wilson and a nephew, both from Pennsylvania, who were traveling in Yellowstone Park, came suddenly upon a bear in a timbered part of the park, which attacked them. The boy was crushed to death and Wilson was so badly torn and bitten that he died soon after being rescued by other travelers.

The bear was supposed to be one of the number of tame animals kept in the park and the boy fired a shot at it. The animal became infuriated and attacked the boy. Wilson went to his nephew's rescue.

POLITICAL.

TICKET SAFE IN NEW YORK.

Republican Campaign Plans to Make it More so.

Gubernatorial Candidate of Democracy is Strong.

Hoosier Democrats Relying on Bryan's Assistance.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Word has been brought to Washington that the managers of the Republican State campaign in New York "have substantial hope of carrying the State ticket for the Republicans." This information is directly contrary to popular opinion on the subject, and confronts betting odds of 10 to 7 on Herrick.

The way the case was stated in the information that is brought here from authoritative sources was after this fashion: If the election should be held today, New York State would go for Herrick. Before election day, however, plans for the Republican campaign will have been worked out, and it is believed they will be sufficient to overcome the unfavorable trend and to warrant the reasonable hope that the State ticket will go along with the electoral ticket, which is generally conceded to be already as good as won by the President.

HOW THE BETTING STANDS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Bets were made in Wall street today at odds of 10 to 4 that President Roosevelt will be elected. Bunnell & Buchanan stated that they had $10,000 to bet, at 2 to 1, that the President wins, and $10,000 at even money that he will carry New York State. They also offered $2000 to $1600 on Herrick.

The only Parker money around appeared to be a limited amount which Bunnell & Buchanan stated they had been commissioned to bet at the rate of $350 to $1000; that is, at 2½ to 10.

WOODRUFF'S INTERVIEW.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Former Lieut.-Gov. Timothy L. Woodruff of New York and William Berri, proprietor of the Brooklyn Standard-Union, were guests of the President at luncheon today. Woodruff came to Washington by invitation of the President. As he was leaving the White House, he said to a representative of the Associated Press:

"I had a very pleasant and satisfactory conversation with President Roosevelt. It would not be quite the proper thing for me to discuss for publication the details of our conference, but I may say that it related to the general political situation, with particular reference to that in New York State.

"Yes," he continued, in response to a question, "I think there is no doubt that President Roosevelt will carry New York by a substantial plurality, and I told him so. There is no disguising the fact, however, that a sharp contest is being made on the Republican ticket, but I am entirely hopeful as to the result."

The subject of the Postmaster-Generalship was not mentioned at the conference.

RELYING ON BRYAN.

HOOSIER DEMOCRATS' WEAKNESS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] National Committeeman Harry S. New returned to Republican headquarters today after a trip to his home State of Indiana, and for the first time in this campaign talked for publication regarding the situation.

"The Democrats are making strenuous efforts to carry the State," said Col. New, "but their plans betray the party's weakness. For instance, at first they planned to have Bryan make forty speeches in Indiana; then this number was increased to fifty-two, and now he is booked for more than sixty meetings. This is a confession that the party is divided, and that something must be done to bring the radicals back into line."

FAIRBANKS IN UTAH.

BIG SALT LAKE MEETING.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BRIGHAM (Utah) Oct. 6.—Senator Fairbanks spoke here at 9 o'clock today. He came up from Ogden in his special train after remaining at that place all night. He was accompanied by Senator Dolliver of Iowa, Senators Smoot and Kearns of Utah, Congressman Smith of Iowa and a large contingent of Utah's leading Republicans, who occupied a Pullman car of their own. The meeting was held in the operahouse. The attendance was not large, but the lack of numbers was in a measure compensated for by the interest manifested by those present.

Senator Fairbanks made an appeal for the support of the Republican ticket, contending that only by keeping that party in power could the highest degree of prosperity be attained. He made no mention of the differences existing among Republicans in this State, and he also failed to refer to the question of polygamy. The anti-Mormon wing of the party is, however, quoting a sentence from the Senator's speech at Ogden last night, in support of their position. The passage is as follows:

"In the final analysis, the American home is the unit of the republic's strength; that home wherein presides one mother, where there is gathered about the hearthstone faithful hearts filled with love of the American flag and with adoration for the institutions of our fathers, which have been committed to our highest and most loyal keeping."

The Senator's speech here was cordially applauded as were the speeches of Mr. Smith and Senator Dolliver, who followed in the order named. Mr. Smith said that there is no trustworthy assurance that the Democratic party has really permanently returned to sanity, as claimed for it. Senator Dolliver referred in his speech to the fact that female suffrage prevails in this State.

"For my part," he said, "I think the Republican party has everything to gain and nothing to lose by the system. I trust the intuitive sense of the women to catch and appreciate the wisdom of Republican policies, for those policies make for the improvement of the home as no other policies can."

The party left here at 9:45 o'clock for Farmington and Salt Lake City.

YOUNG WOMEN SHAKE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 7.—As Senator Fairbanks's special train was preparing to pull out of Brigham, a number of young women employes of an adjacent tomato cannery came up to shake hands with Senator Fairbanks.

"How many of you can vote?" asked Senator Dolliver.

Only one confessed that she was old enough to exercise the franchise.

"Be sure you vote the Republican ticket," said the Senator.

"You can bet your life on that," was the reply, as the train left the station.

At Farmington, Senators Fairbanks and Dolliver made brief speeches, from the rear platform of the Edgemere, and Senator Fairbanks shook hands with the people there congregated. In his speech at that point, Mr. Fairbanks spoke of the facility of the Republican party for government, saying that it amounts to genius, while he claimed that on the other hand the Democratic party is absolutely deficient in this respect. He urged the people of Utah to stand by the party capable of best handling the affairs of the government, saying that wise policies must benefit all sections alike, while poor government must be equally hurtful to all.

The Fairbanks special train arrived in Salt Lake at 12:15 o'clock p.m., and headed by a brass band, Senator Fairbanks and Senator Dolliver and the other members of the party were escorted to the Salt Lake Theater, where Senator Fairbanks, addressed one of the largest crowds seen on the trip.

Gov. Heber M. Wells presided at the meeting, and besides the immediate members of his party seated on the stage with Senator Fairbanks, were Apostles John Henry Smith and Lyman of the Mormon Church. In the audience were many Mormon leaders from all parts of the country, who are here in attendance upon the semi-annual conference of their church.

In his address, Senator Fairbanks spoke of the stability of Republican policies, saying they are the same under Theodore Roosevelt as they were under Abraham Lincoln. Not only, however, should a Republican President be elected, but a Republican Congress as well.

After the meeting, the Fairbanks party were entertained at luncheon at the Knutsford Hotel, as the conclusion of which they left for Evanston, Wyo.

FAIRBANKS IN WYOMING.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

EVANSTON (Wyo.) Oct. 7.—This little city on the extreme western border of Wyoming tonight holds within its borders six United States Senators. They are Messrs. Fairbanks, Dolliver, Fulton, Kearns, Warren and Clark. This is the home of Senator Clark, and he and Senator Warren, with a number of other Wyoming Republicans, met Senator Fairbanks and party in Utah, and came in with them on the Fairbanks special, which arrived here shortly after 7 o'clock.

Senator Fulton rejoined the party at Ogden. He had intended leaving for his home in Oregon last night, but, failing to get a train, decided to remain with the Senatorial party for the present. The meeting was held in the operahouse here soon after 8 o'clock. Senator Clark presided and speeches were made by Senators Fairbanks, Dolliver and Fulton and Representative Smith. A suspicuous feature in the audience was body of forty young ladies, constituting the Evanston Woman's Club of first voters. The hall was crowded and the speeches were all received most favorably.

BAY STATE REPUBLICANS.

GOV. BATES RENOMINATED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—With the assembling of the Republican State Convention today to nominate a State ticket and Presidential electors, the situation, so far as the only contest, that for nomination for State Treasurer, was concerned, was less involved than last night. Attorney-General William E. Moody had been selected as permanent chairman, and the State ticket agreed upon by the leaders, save the office of Treasurer, was:

JOHN L. BATES, Governor.
CURTIS GUILD, JR., Lieutenant-Governor.
WILLIAM M. OLIN, Secretary of State.
HENRY A. TURNER, Auditor.
HERBERT PARKER, Attorney-general; all renominated.

Mayor A. B. Chapin of Holyoke was nominated for Treasurer.

The pre-convention meeting of the Resolution Committee was brief, and after its adjournment it became known that the committee had agreed upon a Canadian reciprocity plank.

Permanent Chairman Moody, in his speech, paid an eloquent tribute to the late Postmaster-General Payne. He reviewed the Republican administration, commencing with the election of President McKinley, in 1896, which he characterized as the beginning of an epoch that is not yet ended. He predicted victory in the coming election, basing his claim upon the achievements of Republican national administrations.

The resolutions commend the administration of the President and pledge unswerving support to the national ticket; endorse the entire platform of the Republican National Convention at Chicago particularly those planks in favor of the maintenance of the gold standard, and continue:

"We believe that still further measures should be taken toward negotiating reciprocity treaties with foreign countries, and especially with Canada and Newfoundland, upon such terms and conditions as will secure an enlargement of our foreign trade, for the common benefit of our people wherever reciprocal arrangements can be effected, consistently with the principles of protection and without injury to American agriculture; American labor, American industries, or when, as President Roosevelt said in his message of 1902, 'The minimum damage done may be disregarded for the sake of the maximum of good accomplished.'"

The resolutions were presented and adopted unanimously.

The convention also adopted resolutions paying an eloquent tribute to Senator Hoar.

BAY STATE DEMOCRATS.

W. L. DOUGLAS FOR GOVERNOR.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—The business of the Democratic State Convention today was that of placing in nomination a complete State ticket and Presidential electors, adopting a platform of principles and electing the members at large of the Democratic State Committee. The unanimity of the leaders, with respect to the ticket to be nominated, was one of the remarkable pre-convention situations. The names agreed upon were:

WILLIAM L. DOUGLAS of Brockton for Governor.

JOHN C. CROSBY of Pittsfield for Lieutenant-Governor.

HENRY T. SCHAEFFER of Winchester for Secretary of State.

EDMUND D. CODMAN of Boston for Treasurer.

JOHN P. LEAHY of Boston for Attorney-General.

FRANCOIS TARAULT of Southbridge for State Auditor.

NATHAN MATTHEWS of Boston was chosen permanent chairman.

The most marked cheering of the hour was given when Matthews mentioned the name of Parker.

Charles S. Hamlin followed Matthews with the report of the Committee on Resolutions.

The platform declares in favor of Philippine independence. The proceedings of the convention closed with the adoption of resolutions in memory of Senator Hoar.

"PRESIDENTIAL PROBLEMS."

GROVER CLEVELAND'S BOOK.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Grover Cleveland's book, "Presidential Problems," was published today by the Century Company. The book contains no new matter, consisting of four essays, two of which have been printed in the magazines, the other two having been delivered as addresses at Princeton. They are: "The Independence of the Executive," "The Government in the Chicago Strike of 1894," "The Bond Issue" and "The Venezuelan Boundary Controversy."

There is something of a defense in the matter of the bond issue, treated by Cleveland, and also in the essay on his action in 1894, and in the matter of the Chicago strike. The Venezuelan boundary essay reveals events which led to the settlement of the dispute between Venezuela and Great Britain.

KERENS PROMISES MISSOURI.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—Among the callers at the Republican national headquarters was R. C. Kerens of Missouri. He gave encouraging accounts of the political condition in the Intermountain and Pacific States and astonished Harry C. [BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The first conference between Judge Herrick, Democratic candidate for Governor of New York, and Judge Parker took place today at the apartments of the latter. Daniel S. Lamont and National Chairman Taggart arrived shortly after Judge Herrick. The four conferred at length concerning the State issues in New York and the relations they bear to the national campaign. At the conclusion of the discussion Parker's callers departed, declining to talk of the conference. Parker will leave this afternoon for Esopus.

NOTABLE ELECTION BOARD.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.—A number of prominent citizens today received notifications from the election commissioners that they had been selected to serve on the election board in their respective districts. A list of those who have been selected to act, either as inspectors or ballot clerks, includes the following: William Alvord, president of the Bank of California; Joseph D. Grant, president of Murphy, Grant & Co.; James D. Phelan, ex-Mayor; M. H. De Young, editor and proprietor of the Chronicle; W. W. Sanderson, attorney; Maurice Block, merchant and grand juryman, and F. J. Devlin, insurance manager. Upon receiving notification of appointment the official must appear at the registration office and be sworn in, or be punished for contempt, if no sufficient excuse is presented. Ex-Mayor Phelan has expressed his willingness to serve as ballot clerk in his precinct.

FIRE ON THE KANSAS.

Positively Nothing Suspicious About Blaze Started on Battleship Building at Camden.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CAMDEN (N. J.) Oct. 7.—General Manager Hill of the New York Shipbuilding Company today made the following statement concerning the fire last night on the battleship Kansas, in course of construction at the yards:

"There was positively nothing suspicious about the fire on the Kansas. As a matter of fact, blazes are not unusual and can hardly be prevented. The fire occurred in a lot of sawdust that had been thrown about one of the tanks. This is done after the tanks have been filled with water to test them, the sawdust being used to dry up the surface of the tanks and show any leak.

"There are twenty gangs of riveters working on the battleship, which is about 30 per cent. completed. One of the riveters late yesterday afternoon must have dropped a hot rivet, or perhaps a splinter fell from a rivet and landed in the sawdust. A fire ensued and continued to smolder until discovered. The damage to the ship amounts to nothing."

It was erroneously reported last night that the fire had occurred on the cruiser Washington.

ORGANIZED PEACE MODEL.

Boston Congress Produces an Elaborate Plan.

Powers Urged to Conclude a New Convention.

Next Year's Congress at Lucerne, Switzerland.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—The first subject taken up today at the International Peace Congress was the elaborate plan of organizing the nations into a positive peace-making union, as favored in resolutions by the Danish Peace Society, the Universal Peace Union of the United States and other organizations. The memorial aroused keen interest among the delegates.

The preamble points out that there is no concert of action proposed or feasible plan whereby The Hague convention may be put in force to prevent war where war is threatened and that the present conflict between Russia and Japan shows unmistakably that sympathy with something more potent and rational than brute force is needed to prevent the useless sacrifice of human life and property. Therefore, it is

"Resolved, that the congress recommend that a new convention be concluded between the powers which are parties to The Hague convention, or so many of them as may be willing to join in such a convention, establishing a pacigerance union between them on the following basis:

"First—While the high contracting powers mutually recognize each other's absolute sovereignty and independence, they bind themselves, each for itself, to work together for the furtherance of universal peace.

"Second—The high contracting powers pledge themselves to refer to the permanent arbital tribunal (established by the convention for the peaceful solution of international disputes signed at The Hague July 29, 1899) every dispute or contention which may arise between them that cannot be solved by diplomacy, or any other amicable mode of adjustment agreed upon, whatever the cause, nature or object of disagreement may be; and, further, pledge themselves not to engage in any warlike action, directly or indirectly, with respect to each other.

"Third—Each of the high contracting powers shall in turn take the presidency of the pacigerance union; and, with its accession, the task of securing the united method of proceedure decided on in Article Four below, which has for its object the fulfillment of the duty imposed by Article Twenty-seven of the above-named convention.

"Fourth—On the first of January each year the presidency passes to that one of the signatory powers whose name follows alphabetically, in French, that of the state of power whose presidentship has expired.

FURTHER PROVISIONS.

"When the lits of the states has been gone through, the presidency will be transferred back to that state or power in the alliance which stands first alphabetically. Which state shall have the presidency the first year shall be determined by lot.

"If a power whose turn it is to preside finds itself at war the turn passes over to the next state alphabetically.

"In case an acute contention shall threaten to break out between two or more powers, the signatory powers shall immediately, by a collective note, remind them that the permanent tribunal open to them.

"The state which holds the presidency shall, for this purpose, be provided with the full authority needed. Its adherence to the alliance carries with it a binding duty to fulfill this task.

"Also, it shall be the duty of the president-state to offer to states in mutual contention, if it should seem advisable to do so, the 'good offices' of the pacigerance alliance, or its mediation.

"This duty shall in no wise lessen the right of any of the allied states to offer its own good offices of mediation to the states at strife; nor shall the action of the alliance relieve any of the allied states from the duty of using all means within reach to secure a peaceful or judicial solution of the conflict.

"Sixth—If any of the high contracting parties should desire to withdraw from the present treaty, such withdrawal would not come into force until one year after it has notified the remaining states, and then only with respect to the powers which it has notified.

"Seventh—This convention is open to all powers on sending their adhesion to the president-state for the time being."

Accompanying the above resolutions was a long resume of the "pacigerance" movement.

The resolutions were adpoted unanimously, with the provision inserted that the congress merely called the attention of the powers to the treaty suggested in the memorial as one model for adoption by all.

The congress voted to hold the congress of 1905 at Lucerne, Switzerland.

LEOPOLD CALLED TO ACCOUNT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—King Leopold of Belgium was asked for his policy as sovereign of the Congo Free State by E. T. Morrell of England at a public meeting this afternoon in connection with the sessions of the International Peace Congress. Morrell charged that the King was personally responsible in a large measure for alleged cruelties practiced on the natives of the Congo Free State in the terrific endeavors of monopolistic commercial organizations to obtain from the country all the ivory and rubber possible. The King was defended by George Herbert Head of Cambridge, Eng., who submitted that King Leopold had done all possible to stop the alleged cruelties. The government policy in the Congo also was bitterly denounced by Rev. William Morrison, for seven years a missionary in the Congo.

A dinner was given tonight, at which the foreign delegates were guests. Speeches were made by Bishop Percival of England, Baroness Von Suttner, Booker T. Washington, and others.

WASHINGTON ARRAIGNMENT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—In a brief after dinner speech delivered before the congress tonight Booker T. Washington arraigned the Belgian government for the alleged outrages in the Congo Free State and stated that he had evidence of abuse and cruelty and said that a state of affairs existed there that was a blot on modern civilization.

Introducing Mr. Washington, Robert Treat Paine, president of the congress and toastmaster of the evening, referred to him as "honored almost universally throughout the country but especially in Boston." At this, the distinguished company arose and greeted Mr. Washington as it did no other guest of the evening. Mr. Washington was seated at the head of the table beside Miss Lund, daughter of Herr John Lund of Norway.

After acknowledging the unusual and spontaneous reception, Mr. Washington at once plunged into an earnest denunciation of the wrongs which he alleged were perpetrated on the blacks of the Congo Free State.

"I have testimony direct," he said, "that their villages have been burned, their people murdered and maimed. Dr. Shepard tells me that he has seen with his own eyes in one village eighty-one human hands hung up to dry, to be presented afterward to the Belgian authorities to show that the soldiers did their duty.

"And these atrocities are committed for the sake of wealth and self-aggrandizement. There exists in our own country mobs of men who are given to lynching and burning men for supposed or real crimes without due process of law. Nothing in the last ten years has so rejoiced me as the sentiment of certain parts of the South within the last few weeks against this form of outrage.

"Race hatred never settled any problem upon this earth. The way for one race to show a greater degree of superiority over another is by a greater degree of kindness and of brotherly love. No race is free indeed so long as it is ruled by passion and brute force."

PANIC LAST MAY IN NORTHERN PACIFIC EXPLAINED.

Stock Which They Did Not Own Was Sold — Savannah Steamer Line and Railroads Cut the Rate on Sugar—Successful Opening of the New White Fish Cut-off.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—In the testimony of Otto Kuhn of Kuhn, Loeb & Co. today before a referee, Kuhn said that if persons had not sold stock they did not own there would have been no panic May 9. He said that if J. P. Morgan & Co. or anyone else had offered 30,000 shares of Northern Pacific stock for sale May 9, a panic might have been averted.

The witness insisted that the calling in of their stocks which had been loaned was not in any way responsible for the panic. If there was a corner in Northern Pacific stock, he said, it was caused by shorts selling stock which they did not own.

PRESIDENT OF TWO LINES.

PROSPECTS OF W. C. BROWN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] W. C. Brown, vice-president of New York Central and Lake Shore railroads, is to be elected president of both companies January 1, 1905. The statement was made today by an eastern railroad official who is close to the Vanderbilts and to financial interests on Wall street. It is said arrangements for the change have been completed, and that W. H. Newman has expressed a desire to retire from the presidency of these roads and accept a position as chairman of the boards.

It is said that Senator Chauncey M. Depew, who is now chairman of both executive boards, will relinquish both positions.

SUGAR RATE WAR.

STEAMERS AND RAILROADS CUT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—A renewal of the sugar rate war, recently declared off by the reinstatement of the old rate, is imminent through the action of the Savannah line of steamers, running from New York to Gulf ports. A 22-cent rate has been put in force in place of the former rate of 52 cents. The new rate is made in connection with the 'Frisco Railway to Missouri River points.

The Illinois Central has put in a rate of 20 cents, which is a cut of 12 cents under the present rate from New Orleans to Missouri River points. Chicago roads threaten to put in a rate of 10 cents to Missouri River points.

ARIZONA AND COLORADO.

FILES INCORPORATION PAPERS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SANTA FE (N. M.) Oct. 7.—The Arizona and Colorado Railroad Company filed incorporation papers today to build a north-and-south railroad in Western New Mexico, with termini at Durango, Colo., and Clifton, Ariz. The capitalization is $5,000,000. The company has filed upon 20,000 acres of coal lands in Western New Mexico, and will have its headquarters at Tucson, Ariz. The road has been surveyed, and will, with its branch lines, immediately be constructed over 650 miles in New Mexico. A subsidiary corporation, the Arizona and Eastern Railroad, fifty miles long in New Mexico and with headquarters at Lordsburg, also filed incorporation papers. The capitalization of the road is $1,000,000.

The Southern Pacific Railroad is said to be backing the project, although the company which recently completed the El Paso and Southwestern and the Lordsburg and Hachita Railroad are the prime movers, as it wants the coal of Southwestern Colorado and Western New Mexico for its smelters at Clifton, Morenci, Bisbee, Nacozari and Douglas.

BACKED BY HUNTINGTON.

OAKLAND-MARYSVILLE ROAD.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The identity of people who are behind the proposed Oakland and Marysville Railroad, which has been a matter of much mystery and wild speculation since the articles of incorporation of the company were filed Wednesday last, remains no longer a matter of doubt. The information was given out today, semi-officially, that H. E. Huntington is the money power behind the big undertaking, and that his plans contemplate the building, equipment and operation of an electric road that will be in a position to compete for a large share of the freight and passenger traffic between Marysville, Sacramento, Oakland and intermediate points, of which the Southern Pacific now enjoys a monopoly.

Granting of Interlocutory Decree of Divorce to San Diego Woman is Followed by Assault by Her Former Conjugal Partner With Result that Neither is Likely to Live.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 7.—As a sequel to a divorce granted in the Superior Court this afternoon, Mrs. S. O. Campbell is at St. Joseph's Hospital tonight suffering from three bullet wounds, one of which may prove fatal, and Isaac M. Campbell, her former husband, against whom she obtained the decree, is at the County Hospital with his throat cut and a bullet wound in his head.

The couple are colored and have lived unhappily, and this afternoon the suit brought by the woman resulted in an interlocutory decree in her favor. Between 8 and 9 o'clock tonight Campbell went to their house at Ninth and University streets and fired four shots from a revolver at Mrs. Campbell, three of which took effect.

One bullet entered the woman's stomach and is thought to be fatal. After shooting the woman Campbell attempted to blow his brains out, but his aim was poor and the bullet glanced from his head.

He then caught up a razor and cut his throat and windpipe. There is little prospect that he will recover.

UNIQUE THIEF CAUGHT.

Chicago's "Gentleman Burglar," Sought for Weeks, at Last Run Down.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—Pursued by two women and a score of pupils of the Marshall High School, Harry Russell, whom the police call the "gentleman burglar," and who has been sought for weeks, was last night captured after a chase covering several blocks. The pursuit was along the streets of the residence district about Garfield Park, and followed an attempt at burglary.

When arrested the man wore kid gloves, patent leather shoes, a light overcoat of expensive make, and carried a silver-headed cane. When seized he protested with indignation against the arrest. The police were puzzled for a few moments, but the insistence of the women pursuers convinced them, and Russell was taken to the Police Station, where later he is said to have admitted the robbery.

Burglar's tools and false whiskers were found in the man's pockets. Several pieces of jewelry, supposed to have been thrown away by the man during the chase, were found in the street. Russell is accused by the police of nearly twenty robberies committed in the Garfield Park district in the last month.

STEAMER MINEOLA WRECKED.

OFFICERS AND CREW SAFE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.—The Merchants' Exchange has received a dispatch from London stating that the steamer Mineola, Capt. Kirkwood, from Petropaviovsk, Siberia, for this port, struck a reef in the Tugi bar, September 5, and became a total wreck. The officers and crew were rescued and taken to Yokohama, Japan, by the British warship Algerine.

The Mineola was under charter to Williams, Dimond & Co., provision packers, and was sailing with a return cargo of salmon in fine form when she sank. Her crew numbered twenty-eight men. The vessel was valued at between $150,000 and $200,000, and was insured for $100,000. The cargo was the property of the Kamschatka Commercial Fishing and Improvement Company of Russia, Blum & Co., of this city and its agents.

The Mineola sailed from San Francisco July 2, and from Tacoma, July 15, with a cargo of general merchandise for Petropaviovsk. At the time of her departure it was indicated that she was carrying supplies destined for some of the Russian troops in the east. She was a steel screw steamer of 1600 tons, built in 1887, at Sunderland, England, and was owned by the Williams Improvement Company of this city. She was 284 feet long, 37.7 feet beam and 14.7 feet deep.

TROUBLE AT MORENCI.

SITUATION NOT SERIOUS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Oct. 7.—According to the most reliable advices obtainable regarding the troubles at Morenci, a mining town in Graham county, over the alleged attempt ... of the Sisters to carry children from New York to Mexico, the situation is not as serious as has been represented.

Advices received here from Clifton, a ... town near Morenci, are that forty children were sent out by the New York Foundling and Orphan Asylum. Sixteen of these were placed in families in Clifton, and twenty-four taken to Morenci, where the majority of them were placed with poor Mexican families.

The American residents of Morenci objected to the children being placed with a class of Mexicans whom they claimed were entirely unfitted for the care of them. An indignation meeting was held in Clifton, and resulted in the arrest of G. W. Swayne, the agent of the asylum, and the local priest. The people demanded that the children be put in the care of American families, but Swayne refused to do this, and said that he would take them back to New York. Objections were made to giving over the children into Swayne's charge, as it was feared that he would take them to Old Mexico. The latest authentic report is that Swayne is awaiting instructions from the asylum officials in New York.

The purpose of Swayne and associates seems to be to place the children with Catholic families in this section, of whom there are few, but what are Mexicans. While charges have been made that the children were being sold, there appears to be nothing to substantiate the claim.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SOLOMONVILLE (Ariz.) Oct. 7.—Dist.-Atty C. L. Rawlins of Graham county today gave the Associated Press the following account of the troubles at Clifton and Morenci over the alleged sale of foundlings sent out from New York City for adoption by Mexican families, concerning which many sensational stories have been sent out:

"When the train arrived at Clifton bringing the babies, those in charge of the little ones read from tags attached to the children the names of the persons to whom children were consigned. As the name of the consignee was read each in turn came forward and received a child. In every case these were Mexicans and not of the better class, either. Sixteen of the children were given out at Clifton and the agent then proceeded to Morenci with the others.

"After he had left Clifton a feeling of indignation arose in the American population and a meeting was called. A committee of twenty-five citizens was named to recover the children from the Mexicans. Accompanied by a large crowd of citizens, this committee visited the Mexican huts and demanded the babes. In every case the Mexicans were willing and glad to give them up. Several Mexicans claimed, however, that they had paid the agent for the white children and desired the return of their money. The claim of the Mexicans that money had been paid the agent is corroborated by several citizens of Clifton and Morenci. The sixteen infants thus gathered up were taken to the Clifton Hotel, where they were cared for. Several of the children became ill during the night, due to the coarse food given them by Mexicans.

"At Morenci, the following morning, the agent proceeded to give out the remaining babes to Mexican families. A meeting was held the following evening at Clifton and Agent Swayne was ordered to gather up the children at Morenci and put them in the care of the Sisters and nurses at the Morenci Hotel. Swayne was asked to consent to the adoption of the children by American families who were worthy and able to care for the little ones as they should be cared for. This Swayne positively refused to do, declaring that they must go to the Mexican families or back to New York.

"A meeting of citizens followed, at which some very serious threats were made against the agent. To avoid any harm to the agent and Father Manlin, the local priest, from hot-headed persons, they were taken under guard to Morenci and requested to take the train out of the district until the trouble was over.

"Tuesday afternoon the citizens of Morenci met and decided to give the children into the possession of the Sisters, provided they would take them direct to New York and not again attempt to place them with Mexicans. This was assented to and yesterday the Sisters departed with twenty-four babies.

"Father Barette of Solomonville was very much disturbed over the affair and criticises the action of those responsible for giving the children to the Mexicans."

NAZARENE CHURCH AN ISSUE.

The Church of the Nazarene, founded in Los Angeles, was made an issue in the Chicago Methodist Conference today, when Rev. J. P. Brushingham protested against the reading of a letter of withdrawal from Rev. C. V. Fontaine, who has resigned a Chicago pastorate to join the California movement. In spite of Dr. Brushingham's objection, the letter, which lauded Methodism, but also recorded in glowing terms the work of the new movement to promote the principle that "Jesus Christ baptizes with the Holy Ghost and with fire," was read in full. Further discussion of the Nazarene movement is expected when the case of a supernumerary who has been preaching the new doctrine comes before the conference.

THE DIVORCE QUESTION.

The divorce question was again considered by the conference, which has appointed a special committee to consider the adoption of the laws of the Church of Rome on the subject. In a sensational address, Rev. Dr. R. W. Rogers of Dean College declared that divorced people who remarry and the offspring of such unions should be barred forever from membership in the church.

Asks Reprieve for Mahatch.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 7.—Marshall B. Woodworth of San Francisco, United States Attorney for the Northern District, was in this city today and presented a petition to Gov. Pardee for a reprieve in the case of John Mahatch, an Indian, who was recently convicted of murder in the first degree for the murder of an Italian named Confabio in the town of Requa, Del Norte county. Friends of the indian appealed his case to the Interior Department at Washington, upon the ground that there was enough doubt about the commission of the crime to warrant an investigation. The matter was referred to the United States Attorney-General, who in turn sent it to Woodworth. The execution was set for October 28.

San Francisco Babes Missing.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.—The police are searching for two mere babies, who disappeared from their homes at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and whose families, after a frantic search, enlisted the assistance of detectives at 10 o'clock last night. Robert B. Grant, aged 2½ years, whose father lives at No. 457 Tenth avenue, is one of the missing tots. The other is Frank Killiae, aged 4 years, whose home is at No. 463 Tenth avenue. The two children disappeared together under peculiar circumstances, and it is feared they have been kidnaped.

Hanged With Apronstrings.

STOCKTON, Oct. 7.—Mary Callahan, who was sent from San Francisco to the local State Hospital, about two months ago, committed suicide some time Wednesday night by hanging herself with her apron strings from the grating of her room. The deceased was about 68 years of age, and her hallucination was that people were after her to do her harm. She did not appear to be afflicted with suicidal mania. The inquest was held last night, but the asylum authorities kept the entire matter secret until today, when it leaked out.

WOODLAND IN DARKNESS.

TRANSFORMER BURNED OUT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WOODLAND, Oct. 7.—During an electric storm of unusual violence this afternoon, lightning struck the Bay Counties Power Company's main line near Woodland, burning out the principal transformer in this city. Tonight the city is without light and electric power. Institutions which depend upon electricity for power are making arrangements to use steam and other devices for the next several days. The lightning was accompanied by a very heavy rainfall.

It is estimated that nearly an inch of rain fell in an hour. The result will be still heavier damage to grapes in Yolo county, which were already materially injured.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.—John C. Weston and Frank Rixey, formerly brakemen on the Southern Pacific Railroad, have been arrested here and will be sent to Santa Barbara for trial on charges of grand larceny.

It is alleged that within two years the accused men appropriated thousands of dollars' worth of goods, principally cigars and whisky, from freight cars on their run between San Luis Obispo and Santa Barbara.

In connection with the case, W. E. Lynch of Santa Barbara has been arrested on a charge of receiving stolen goods.

COAL MINE BURNING.

FIRE AT BEAVER HILL, OR.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

COQUILLE (Or.) Oct. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Afire from top to bottom is the coal mine of the Spreckels Brothers Company at Beaver Hill. The information was brought to this city by miners tonight. The bulkheads have been closed, and every effort is being made to stay the flames, but so far with little success. The fire had its origin in an explosion on the sixth level. Efforts are being made to shut out the air, in the hope of smothering the flames, for millions are at stake.

The mine is of recent development, and now employs about 200 men. It is regarded as one of the best on the Pacific Coast.

75 in Every Hundred Refused Life Insurance on Account of Kidney Trouble
Dr. S. J. Reade, a Medical Insurance Examiner of Wide Experience, Located at Buffalo, N. Y., Says More People Are Refused Life Insurance on Account of Kidney Troubles Than For All Other Causes Combined

DR. S. J. READE

Warner's Safe Cure
Secures Life Insurance for Thousands once Rejected—"I prescribe it in My Practice, and Regard it as a Most Wonderful Cure for Kidney Troubles."
Dr. Reade, in his interview, went on to say:
"In the course of my life I have examined many thousands of men and women for life insurance, so that I speak from experience when I state that more are rejected on account of weak kidneys than for all other diseases put together. In fact, nearly every second person has kidney trouble, though very few even suspected its presence until they came up for examination.
"Many of those I had refused returned later on and were accepted, the most careful examination failing to discover the slightest trace of kidney disease in their systems. I always asked how they were cured, and invariably the answer was, 'By taking Warner's Safe Cure.'
"For many years I have prescribed Warner's Safe Cure in my practice with marked success, and my professional friends use it exclusively. I believe in it firmly and recommend it as a wonderful cure for kidney, liver and bladder diseases."—S. J. Reade, M.D., 1471 Seneca St.

Cures Kidney Diseases
Kidney troubles creep into the system unawares. Before you know it they are deep-seated. Do not neglect yourself if you have backache, headache, rheumatic pains and swellings, drowsiness, loss of appitite, stomach trouble, bad complexion and skin troubles, frequent desire to urinate and painful passing of the water, a brick-dust sediment in morning urine after it stands 24 hours; or, if a woman, bearing down sensation, painful periods, fainting and other so-called female sickness. Those all tell you your kidneys have been diseased for months, for such outward symptoms seldom show themselves until the poison has penetrated the organs and the danger point been reached. Warner's Safe Cure is the one certain and unfailing remedy. It not only removes the first symptoms, but cures advanced cases of Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Rheumatism, Gout, Gall Stones, Inflammation of the Bladder, Liver and Urinary Organs. It is prescribed by doctors, and used in hospitals. You can buy it at any drug store or direct; 50 cents and $1.00 a bottle.
If you have any doubt as to the development of the disease in your system, send a small sample of your urine in a bottle to the Medical Department, Warner's Safe Cure Co., Rochester, N. Y., and our doctor will analyze it and send you a report, with advice and medical booklet, all entirely free.

WASHINGTON.

SIMPLE BUT IMPRESSIVE.

Funeral Services Over the Dead Postmaster-General.

The President Attends and Other Officials Also.

Secretary Metcalf Expected. Los Angeles Mail.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Although an official funeral, the services in St. John's Church today over the body of the late Henry C. Payne, Postmaster-General, were marked by impressive simplicity. Official Washington filled the nave of the church, and brilliant as were the uniforms of the large representation of the army, navy and marine corps, the solemnity of the scene was only enhanced by the sharp contrast of color with the deep mourning of the family and personal friends of the dead. Cabinet officer. Side by side with Mrs. Payne sat the President and Mrs. Roosevelt, both in deep mourning.

The entire right side of the church was occupied by the officials of the Postoffice Department, headed by Robert J. Wynne, the acting Postmaster-General. Diplomatic corps, the chiefs of the bureaus of the Navy Department, the commandant of the Marine Corps, members of the Supreme Court, Senators and Congressmen and other officials filled the remaining space.

The President and Mrs. Roosevelt arrived at the south door, and accompanying them were the President's aides, Col. Charles S. Bromwell, Superintendent of Public Buildings and Grounds, and Commander Cameron McR. Winslow of the Navy and Secretary Loeb.

The funeral party was met at the door by Rev. Roland Cotton Smith, rector of St. John's, and his assistants. The procession formed at the transept door, the rector leading the way and reading from the burial service of the Episcopal Church. The casket was borne to the chancel by eight uniformed postal carriers. After them walked the pall-bearers, Secretary Hay, Secretary Hitchcock and Secretary Wilson, the only members of the Cabinet who were able to reach Washington for the funeral.

Mrs. Payne entered the church supported by Charles S. Jones and his sister, Miss Louise Jones, the nephew and niece of Mrs. Payne, and followed by a few personal friends.

The service was read by Rev. Smith and his assistant, Rev. Dunlap, the only alteration in the regular order of service being the offering of a special prayer for Mrs. Payne. The hymns sung during the service were "Lead, Kindly Light" and "Jesus, Lover of My Soul." For the recessional, the vested choir sang "Hark, Hark, My Soul." The selections were made by Mrs. Payne, and are her favorite hymns.

After the funeral party had left the church, the congregation remained standing until the President and Mrs. Roosevelt had entered their carriage. Mrs. Payne and the relatives of the Postmaster-General were driven to the Arlington Hotel, where they remained until train time.

The body was placed on the special train for Milwaukee, provided for it and guarded by the postal carriers.

Secretary Hitchcock, who had expected to go to Milwaukee on the train, was unable to go, and telephoned his regrets. Secretary of Agriculture Wilson is the only Cabinet officer who went with the train, but the plans contemplate that Secretaries Shaw and Metcalf will join the funeral party later.

ERUPTION NOT SERIOUS.

Report that Mont Pelee is in Dangerous Activity Not True—Much Steam and Ashes.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

FORT DE FRANCE (Island of Martinique) Thursday, Oct. 6.—[Delayed in Transmission. West Indian Cable.] The report that there has been a serious eruption on Mont Pelée is not true. There has been great activity on the mountain the last few days, and a week ago the volcano emitted enormous quantities of steam and ashes.

September 29 the mountain was throwing out steam all day, forming a dense cloud eight or ten thousand feet high. The escape grew less violent as night approached, but after dark there were two points on the cone which were brilliantly lighted, while at the foot of the dome was a hole from which fire escaped into the valley below, but not in sufficient quantities to occasion damage.

MESSAGES INTERRUPTED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Owing to interruption in the telegraph lines messages from the Island of Martinique have been badly delayed. Between Cape Haytien and Puerto Plata, on the Island of Santa Domingo, it is necessary to send them by courier, involving twelve hours' delay.

WHAT THE CAPTAIN SAID.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

KINGSTON (Island of St. Vincent) Oct. 7.—Capt. Roberts of the Intercolonial steamer Sibun says that September 29 his vessel passed within three miles of St. Pierre, island of Martinique, on the way to Fort de France. At that time Mont Pelée was emitting large volumes of black smoke. On leaving Fort de France at noon those on board the steamer had two other views of the volcano. The disturbance increased until 2 a.m., Septemebr 30, when a magnificent explosion occurred. What appeared to be large stones were ejected high in the air. Subsequently, the volcano became wrapped in a black cloud until the steamer lost sight of land. Capt. Roberts is unable to say what results the eruption had on the cone of the volcano.

There are conflicting statements regarding the volcano. Some think there were low detonations following by a light upheaval on the night of October 1, causing volcano dust to fall at Chateau Belaire. Others hold to the opinion that Mont Pelée alone is responsible for the heat that prevails on the island of St. Vincent. The barometer is disturbed.

THREE KILLED, SIX INJURED.

FURTHER DETAILS OF NEW YORK AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT.

Machine Went Over Embankment Just in Time to be Struck by Passenger Train, Which Killed Three of Those Already Injured—Names of Nine Victims.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Driven at the rate of twenty-five miles an hour, a three-seated touring car, containing four men and five women, dashed over an embankment at the southern end of Jerome avenue early today, landing on a south-bound track of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad. Just at that moment a south-bound local train, running fast to make up time, rounded a curve and struck the automobile. Three persons were killed, two instantly, two were seriously injured, and the other four, although badly bruised and shaken, were able to go home. The dead are:

ALLEN NOYES, chauffeur of the automobile, killed instantly.

MADGE CORCORAN, 30, killed instantly.

BELLA PEREZ, died in hospital.

The injured are:

MRS. KITTY WADSWORTH, 35, fractured skull, will die.

MOSES SPIESS, fracture of the jaw, general contusions.

JEANNETTE DAVIS, shock and light contusions.

CHARLES DORAN, 23, shock and slight contusions; went home.

EMMA PEREZ, sister of Bella Perez, shocked and hysteria.

THOMAS MURPHY, not badly hurt.

The party were returning to the Riverside Casino from a trip to Mount Vernon.

With no apparent slackening of speed the big car crashed through the fence, cleared a dirt embankment, extending about five feet above the stone retaining wall, and then, clearing the wall, made a sheer drop of twenty-five feet to the railroad track. In its descent the car half turned and several of its occupants were spilled out. When it struck the tracks Noyes, Bella Perez and Madge Corcoran were thrown to the track, the others falling to the side of the rails. The occupants of the car were stunned and bleeding and trying to recover themselves when they heard the roar of the train—and then a frightful crash.

Noyes was caught in the wreckage of the car and tossed up with it onto the pilot of the engine. His body was still there when the train was brought to a stop. Madge Corcoran was dragged by her long automobile coat, which caught on the smashed car, for a distance of 200 feet, and when the cloth gave way she fell to the track only to be cut in two at the waist by the wheels of the engine. The whole train passed over her body. Bella Perez was dragged about fifty feet and then tossed to one side.

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—President Harper has been notified by the Committee of Awards of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition that the University of Chicago has been awarded four grand prizes for its exhibits. No other educational institution won more than two.

The prizes are for the work of the university press, the Yerkes Observatory display, for Prof. Michaelson's exhibit of instruments for research work in physics and for general excellence in the exhibit as a whole.

For the grand prize for general excellence and completeness Chicago was given the preference over Yale, Harvard, Columbia, the University of Michigan, University of Wisconsin and University of Washington.

Angell entered Yale, and was graduated with the class of '47. He subsequently was connected with several publications. In company with Mark Hopkins, Dr. Stillman, J. PRINCE HENRY GOING TO MOVE.

BERLIN, Oct. 7.—Prince Henry of Prussia intends to give up his residence at the old castle at Kiel for his new chateau at Hemmelmark, an estate a few miles from Kiel. The historic castle at Kiel is filled with souvenirs of the Prince's American and Chinese travels and wonderful antique furniture. It will be used only during the June regattas and other occasional festivities. The castle stands on grounds overlooking the hotel and business portion of the town, and is lacking in the privacy in which the Prince and Princess desire to live and rear their children.

SLIPPED INTO VLADIVOSTOK.

German Steamer With Cargo Eludes Japs.

British Blockade Runner Seized Off Newchwang.

Another Date for Sailing of Baltic Fleet Set.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

TSIN TAU, Oct. 7, Noon.—[By Asiatic Cable.] The German steamer Progress, chartered by a local German and which left here twenty-six days ago with a general cargo consigned to Vladivostok, returned from that port today and reported that she found it easy to elude the Japanese ships in that vicinity. She reported that a number of large ships have been there recently with stores of coal and ammunition. The city of Vladivostok is quiet and the Russians seem depressed over their land and sea reverses.

Vladivostok is being heavily fortified, the harbor is being mined and repairing of the damaged ships is going on. It is believed that it will be impossible to put the armored cruiser Rossia in a seaworthy condition.

It is stated in Vladivostok that Gen. Kouropatkin has been very ill and unable to personally command his army since the battle of Liao Yang.

Russian officers at Taing Tau are responsible for the statement that ammunition and guns from the protected cruiser Diana have reached Port Arthur from Saigon. The Germans here do not believe this.

The Russians are in constant communication with Port Arthur, it is believed by wireless messages sent to Chefoo, though it is claimed that junks carry the messages. It is claimed that the expected dash of the Port Arthur fleet has been frustrated by the terrific storms which have prevailed this week.

The British collier Howick Hall is here discharging a cargo of coal to the German ship Emma. The latter is expected to make an attempt to reach Port Arthur within a few days.

BLOCKADE RUNNER SEIZED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SHANGHAI, Oct. 7, Evening.—The British steamer Sishan, from Hongkong, has been seized by the Japanese off Newchwang. The Sishan carried a cargo of cattle and flour, intended for Port Arthur.

The Sishan is a steel screw steamer of 1351 tons and is owned by Thomas W. Richardson of London.

BLOCKADE NOT EFFECTIVE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 7.—A Chefoo dispatch states that, in spite of the tightening of the Japanese blockade, junks are still arriving from the fortress, bringing refugees, who say that all the attacks of the Japanese have been repulsed and that it will be necessary to institute a long siege and a complete blockade in order to reduce the fortress.

The blockade, according to the refugees, is not completely effective, junks continually arriving with food supplies and munitions for the garrison. The Japanese have instituted a close patrol over the entire Yellow Sea, stopping every vessel sighted.

The captain of the British steamer Chenan, which was stopped by a Japanese cruiser while on her way to Chefoo from Taku, but was allowed to proceed after her cargo had been examined, has made protest against the way he was boarded and searched on the high seas.

THE BALTIC FLEET.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 7.—The Admiralty officially announces that the Baltic fleet will be ready to sail as soon as the battleship Orel and the cruisers Oleg, Zemtchug and Izumrud, which sailed from Cronstadt today, arrive at Reval. The ice-breaker Ermak will accompany the fleet.

The Associated Press learns from an admiral occupying a high position that the proposition to send the fleet to the Far East by way of Cape Horn has been decided negatively.

The Admiralty is unable to furnish information concerning the two Russian ships reported to be cruising in Torres Strait, South Pacific Ocean, between New Guiana and Australia. If any Russian ships have been sighted in Torres Straits or if any Russian ships are now there they must have been sent out from Vladivostok by Vice-Admiral Skrydloff, it is claimed.

The question of sending the Baltic fleet to the Far East by way of Cape Horn is advocated by a strong party at the Admiralty on the ground that after passing the Strait of Magellan its progress could not be dogged and reported by cable. The colliers could rendezvous in the South Sea.

The main risk would be that in the vast stretch the vessels might be beaten off their track and the danger of a serious breakdown of some of the ships, although the transport Kamchatka is equipped with appliances for making extraordinary repairs. The selection of this route would be tantamount to a decision not to reach Vladivostok until spring, a long voyage, requiring economical speed for at least four months.

DISCUSS MISSIONS.

Report at Episcopal General Convention Shows Many Dioceses Failures at Finance.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—The triennial Episcopal General Convention today met with the Board of Missions, the House of Bishops and the House of Deputies sitting together. There was much interest in the session because of widespread criticism of the apportionment plans for the settlement of dioceses and in support of the general mission fund. The report of the secretary showed that many dioceses had failed to raise their share of the apportionment.

The total missionary receipts during the year from all sources save legacies were $657,000, an increase over the preceding year of $19,000. The apportionment for last year was $630,000, and the receipts to apply upon it were $413,000, or a shortage on expectations of $217,000. The board, however, is not that sum in debt, but merely fell short that amount in its requests of the church.

NEW DIOCESES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—At a short session of the House of Deputies, the Committee on the Admission of the New Dioceses recommended that the missionary district of Montana be admitted into union with the general convention as a full-fledged diocese. The recommendation was referred to the House of Bishops.

The conference sent greetings and assurances of profound sympathy to the International Peace Congress.

The Archbishop of Canterbury and several American bishops addressed a meeting of students held under the auspices of St. Paul's Society of Harvard in Cambridge tonight.

ENORMOUS RESERVOIR.

New York Needs More Water and to Get It Farms and Homesteads May Have to go.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Preliminary surveys by engineers in the employ of the city are being made and reports have been submitted to the Aqueduct Commissioners to increase the yield of the Croton watershed by building therein another enormous reservoir nearly seven miles long, and which, it is estimated, will store more than 10,000,000,000 gallons of water for use in Manhattan. It is estimated that, should the plans be approved and developed, with a smaller supplementary reservoir at Cross River, they would furnish an addition of 50,000,000 gallons daily to the present supply of Croton water.

Twenty-five feet would be the greatest depth of water stored in the reservoir. At Pauling, the water would be from 10 to 15 feet deep, and over the present site of the thrifty little town of Patterson, which nestles in a hollow, with 1000 inhabitants, three hotels, churches and a cigar factory, the Croton water would pile up to a depth of from 17 to 20 feet.

The operation would flood 4000 acres, or six and a quarter square miles, about one-third of which, roughly speaking, is improved property. Everything in the town of Patterson would have to be taken by condemnation proceedings, with farm lands and many fine old homesteads to the south of Patterson, not a few of which date back a century and a quarter.

LADY CURZON WORSE.

Condition of Patient at Walmer Castle Causes Renewed Anxiety. Doctors Summoned.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WALMER CASTLE (Kent, Eng.) Oct. 7, 6:25 p.m.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The following bulletin has just been issued: "Lady Curzon is not so well. Her condition causes serious anxiety."

A bulletin issued at 10:26 o'clock this morning says: "Lady Curzon's condition during the past week has been one to cause renewed anxiety, and the London doctors have remained in attendance. Her Ladyship is not yet out of danger, but slow progress is being made; and, if no further complications ensue, there is good hope of her ultimate recovery. She passed a quiet night and her general condition remains about the same."

DOCTORS HURRY FROM LONDON.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LONDON, Oct. 7.—This morning's bulletin in referring to the condition of Lady Curzon is not regarded as being so favorable. Dr. Champney has again been summoned to Walmer Castle, and left London this afternoon on a special train. Dr. Cheyne also returned to Walmer Castle this afternoon, a second special train taking him from London.

A CRISIS PORTENDED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WALMER CASTLE (Kent) Oct. 8.—Lady Curzon was yesterday seized with chilliness and rigors, portending a crisis. It appears there was some secretion that had possibly been overlooked in the first operation or that formed subsequently, which led to apprehension that a second operation for peritonitis might be necessary, and hence the hurried summoning of the specialists from London. Early this morning it is said the condition of Lady Curzon continues grave.

HINGES ON ARGUMENT.

Extensive Wilder and Appelby Charities Object of Litigation by California Nephews and Nieces.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PAUL (Minn.) Oct. 7.—The fate of the Wilder and Appelby charities hinges on an argument made in Supreme Court today by W. D. Treadwell of San Francisco, representing the nephews and nieces of Mrs. Amherst H. Wilder, founder of the charities.

The appellants dissented from the opinion of Judge Bunn, who held that a bequest to the worthy poor of St. Paul was definite and constituted a valid executory devise of property, that the nephews and nieces had no right to intervene in the suit brought to construe the terms of the charity bequest, and that the corporation formed to administer the charity was valid.

The value of the charity is approximately $300,000.

WOMEN STORM SCHOOL.

Several Hundred Italian Mothers of New York Endeavor to "Rescue" Their Offspring.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Rumors that a plot was on foot to destroy a public school in the upper East Side today caused a riot of several hundred Italian mothers of the pupils, requiring a force of police reserves to quell the disturbance. The women, who feared that their offspring were to be destroyed, stormed the school entrance, and had not a policeman and the janitor slamed and locked the heavy doors in their faces the mob would have stormed the building. A dozen did get inside and excited the pupils with shrill cries.

Those on the outside joined in the uproar, and the situation was rapidly becoming serious, when a patrol wagon loaded with reserves reached the scene. Finally the women were driven away, and after the 1900 children in the school had been quieted they were sent home.

MODESTO'S TROLLEY LINE.

MODESTO, Oct. 7.—Capital has been subscribed and a route surveyed along county road for a new electric trolley line from Modesto to McHenry's packing-house, six miles distant from Modesto, thence on three miles to Riverbank, a station on the Santa Fé road, to connect at Riverbank with the new Santa Fé branch line now building to Oakdale. The Santa Fé's branch from Riverbank will connect at Oakdale with the Sierra Railroad.

The electric line will furnish a direct route from Modesto, the county seat, to the eastern section of the county. The best dairy farms in the county are along the line. The new electric line will give the Santa Fé Company an entrance into Modesto. The electric-line tracks are standard gauge, interchangeable for steam cars.

It will have electric motors to haul a steam line of freight cars, the same as eastern trolley lines. It will act as a belt line for the Southern Pacific Company and Santa Fé, giving both entrance to the new packing-house. The power will come from Knights Ferry. Modesto will donate terminal grounds. A franchise will be asked for at the next meeting of the Supervisors.

DUNRAVEN'S CONTENTION.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Lord Dunraven, in a detailed reply to criticisms by Mr. Wyndham, Chief Secretary for Ireland, and others, on the Irish Reform Association's proposals for the creation of an Irish Financial Council, points out that the proposals are condemned by both the Nationalists and the Conservatives, whose criticisms are, therefore, destructive. Lord Dunraven contends that the programme outlined appeals not to the extremists, but to moderates, and is not affected by the government's determination to have nothing to do with the multiplication of legislatures, for such a body as the Irish Reform Association proposed could not be called a legislature. Parliamentary union and the supremacy of Parliament are conditions precedent to every suggestion the association has made.

BIG TOURING CAR WRECKED.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—A big touring car carrying two women and two men ran away today down one of the mountains of the Ramapo Range in Orange county and none of the occupants escaped uninjured. The driver lost control of the car more than half a mile from the base of the mountain and it dashed down the steep grade at a frightful speed. Fifty yards from the base it hit the wall at the side of the road and turned over.

ANARCHY IN MOROCCO.

Tribes Refrain from Open Rebellion Only Because There is no One to Rebel Against.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, Oct. 8.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Times' Tangier correspondent, in a dispatch published today, describes the growth of anarchism throughout Morocco. The tribes, the correspondent says, only refrain from open rebellion because there is nobody against whom to rebel, as the Sultan's authority is non-existent except inside the towns. All attempts to collect tribal levies and to secure recruits have failed. The Sultan remains at Fes with only a few hundred ill-paid, lawless soldiers.

Moorish officers everywhere, the dispatch adds, are taking advantage of the situation to amass money while the sun shines, and the Governor of Tangier is already seriously compromised in affairs with several of the legations.

The receipts during the year were $448,027, and the cash balance at its close was $29,430.

AR BULLETINS FROM MANY POINTS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

N FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.—The Pacific Mail Company's steamer Siberia sailed today for the Orient, with a small passenger list, but a cargo of nearly 9000 tons for Japanese and Chinese ports. The principal items of freight include 500 tons of mixed goods for Shanghai, 200 tons of lead and a lot of machinery for Shanghai.

JAPANESE AS BARBERS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LADIVOSTOK, Oct. 7.—Russians who have just returned here from Corea say the Koreans, especially in the northern provinces, are greatly incensed at the high-handed actions of the Japanese, who seize the young men by their hair, place them in Japanese uniforms and compel them to march in the ranks. The population, it is said, is now favorable to the Russians. The harvest in Northern Korea has been exceptionally good.

"YELLOW PERIL."

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—"There is no danger in the 'yellow peril' of which we have heard so much," said George B. Smythe, secretary of the Anglo-Indian Missionary Association, in session of the Rock Conference, in the Evanston Congregational church. He continued:

"The war between Japan and Russia is not a religious war. Japan is a Christian nation, and I would rather trust myself in Japan than Russia's so-called Christians."

Mr. Smythe, who has spent a score of years in China and the Orient as a missionary, told of atrocities on the part of foreign nations, particularly the Germans and the French.

PEACE SOCIETIES ACTIVE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 7, Evening.—Numerous reports received from the inauguration of the activity of secret societies at points widely apart have caused serious uneasiness. It is said that the officials everywhere are showing anxiety and are providing themselves with the most modern arms and ammunition. In the catacombs of the city, the purpose of equipping the soldiery. There is no certainty as to whether the activity of the societies is directed against anticipated risings or whether it is a precautionary movement in view of possible danger from a successful Japan.

DOESN'T CARE FOR PEACE TALK.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 7.—While not withholding praise for the American spirit of desiring to do things, the Bourse Gazette today expresses gratification that "President Roosevelt's idea of calling a peace conference to an accompaniment of thunder of cannon has apparently been shipwrecked.

"We hope," the Gazette says, "that this will induce the American journals to give up the discussion of unsolicited intervention in the Russo-Japanese War, in any shape or form. It is a mistake to suppose that we are longer in the same position as in 1877, when we had the open enmity of Austria and could not rely upon the friendship of Germany. The attitude of Austria, Germany, France and Italy is no longer cause for anxiety. No one knows when the war will end. There will come a time when Japan will be confronted with the might of the whole Russian nation; then she will meet the fate of Genghis Kahn."

DETAILS FROM LIAO YANG.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 7.—Mail letters describing incidents at the battle of Liao Yang are beginning to reach the newspapers here. An eyewitness who was present in the town during the fearful bombardments of August 30 and August 31 compares the scene to a seething caldron, veterans of the Turkish War declaring that nothing approaching the intensity of the shell fire had been experienced at Plevna. The hollow in which Liao Yang is situated is described as being an awful mass of death and destruction.

Some of the Japanese guns posted in the Chinese corn paid particular attention to a Russian captive balloon, firing shrapnel in the hope of puncturing it. The soldiers attached to the rope of the balloon were compelled several times to hurriedly drag it away but the balloon was never touched. Maj.-Gen. Kashtalinsky, who was on a hill near Sytchun, told a correspondent that the Japanese gunners tried vainly for a whole day to locate a Russian battery posted in the corn near the hill.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?
A great deal if "Goodrich" is on your Auto mobile Tire.
GOODRICH RUBBER CO., 1822 Main

"EQUAL" NOW, "WOMAN" GONE.

Suffragists Change Name of Association.

Bright Women Set a Trap to Catch Men.

Berkeley Member's Stunning Money Speech.

The word "woman" has been wiped from the title of the association of women who are striving for the ballot in California. The old title was buried with the adjournment of the State convention last night.

After brief discussion yesterday an amendment to the constitution was adopted changing the name to "California Equal Suffrage Association," instead of Woman Suffrage Association, and henceforth all the clubs and other departments of the work will eschew the word "woman," in describing what they want to accomplish by an amendment to the Constitution of the State giving them equal rights with men.

The argument is made that it will be much easier to induce men to join the association than when they had to become members of a woman's club in order to actively ally themselves with the work.

The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Mary Simpson Sperry of San Francisco; vice-presidents, Mrs. Mabel V. Osborne of Los Angeles, Mrs. Anna K. Bidwell of Chico, Dr. Charlotte Baker of San Diego; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Chapman of Alameda; recording secretary, Miss Belle Angier of San Diego; treasurer, Miss Clara D. Schlingheyde of San Francisco; auditors, Miss Josephine Cole of San José and Mrs. Corbett of Palo Alto.

The list would not be complete without adding also the new president of the Los Angeles county association—Mrs. Bertha Hirsch Baruch.

In nominating Mrs. Sperry for president, Mrs. L. P. Little of this city, said: "I think we should have for president a woman who is essentially a womanly woman and one who is sufficiently diplomatic to harmonize every element. As good cooks are also essential in winning the good will of men, I therefore take pleasure in nominating the best doughnut maker in the United States, Mrs. Mary Simpson Sperry."

Mrs. Sperry is the widow of the famous flour maker of that name, who has made her home in San Francisco since the death of her husband some years ago. It has been her custom to entertain the association whenever it met at San Francisco and a part of the menu has invariably been doughnuts, for which Mrs. Sperry is as famous as her husband was for his flour.

Motherly Mrs. Sperry is not a parliamentarian, so when the elections approached she placed in the chair National Organizer Miss Gail Laughlin. Miss Laughlin is a New York lawyer and several other things, and she is a happy handler of a bunch of women in a convention. She talks like a phonograph, dresses as near like a man as she can without appearing "mannish," and she is quick and decisive in action.

Mrs. Mabel Osborne is a hard worker and a good organizer, and in her position as president of the Los Angeles city association she brought herself into notice by the manner in which she managed the city delegation of twenty, in which her tact and geniality are winning qualities.

Mrs. Chapman of Alameda, the new corresponding secretary, is a woman of today, who believes in home and mother and all the other things that attract instead of repel men. She is a most charming personality.

Miss Belle Angier of The Times "House Beautiful" department, needs no further introduction as the new State secretary.

Mrs. Bertha Hirsch Baruch, president of the Los Angeles county association, is also a newspaper woman and is an eloquent talker.

QUAKER HUMORIST.

Miss Amanda Way, a tall, aged Quakeress from Whittier, was the humorist of the body. The first words she uttered when she arose to contribute a reminiscence, were these:

"I'm not so lonesome as I used to be," and she had to stop to give the audience time to laugh. Continuing she said:

"We used to spend our time largely in trying to convince the men that women have brains enough and sense enough to get an education."

Several of the scolding type of women had taken time to abuse the newspapers, but good old Quakeress Way had more sense. She said:

"Of course some of us are big, gawking things; but how glad I am that God has been leading the forces and men are beginning to see the light. Step up to the edge of the light, ladies, and it will shine brighter before you. Look at the newspapers. If they don't say things just as we would, they mean well, just the same. If I'd been born a man I'd have been a newspaper man.

"I know I'm talking too long, but that's the trouble with us women, and when I get talking temperance or woman suffrage I never know when to stop."

Among others to make speeches was Mrs. Rebecca Spring, 94 years of age, and well known to people of this city. She said in her argument for suffrage for women:

"We claim it as a right; we demand it as a duty and we deserve it."

She quoted from memory several stanzas from James Russell Lowell, beginning: "When a deed is done for freedom," and won great applause, and was compelled to bow her thanks.

LOOSING THE STRINGS.

Short speeches are usually best, and one made by Mrs. William Keith of Berkeley at the clubhouse yesterday was no exception. It was as follows:

"I'll give $500."

The State treasurer, Miss Clara M. Schlingheyde, a talented and tactful young woman, was just starting in on what looked like a herculean task for a small gathering of women. She was short $300 necessary to pay bills due, and she put up a strong argument for funds to carry on the campaign for the submission of a suffrage amendment.

"The only thing that will ever win suffrage," she said, "is organization, and that takes money. It is necessary get the lay of the land and know where we are at; we must have money to run the campaign or else we might just as well go 'way back and sit down.'"

She said a lot of good things in the course of her speech, and when a delegate asked: "How much do you want?" she replied:

"If you want an answer, I'll say we want every cent we can get," and the reply brought down the house.

Miss Schlingheyde proved herself a money-getter, and like the falling of the leaves the cash dropped in. When she called for the first subscription, Mrs. Keith rose in her place in the middle of the hall and quietly said: "I'll give $500."

Things broke loose immediately. The applause was long and loud, and there was a craning of necks to see the woman who had such a purse. Mrs. Keith is the wife of a well-known artist at Berkeley, and has been prominent in suffrage circles.

Some other good subscriptions followed. Santa Clara county giving $100, Mrs. Sperry $100, Mrs. Mary H. Johnson $100 and other smaller amounts, until the grand total reached more than $1100.

Miss Amanda Way was seen delving in her purse, as she sat on the platform, and then she arose and said: "I have nobody to depend on and nothing to live on only what Uncle Sam gives me for helping to take care of the soldiers during the war—$12.50 a month. I will give this." She stepped forward and laid a $10 gold piece on the table, and her example was followed by a shower of gold.

Mrs. Boller read a story entitled: "How the Franchise Ruined a Home." It was designed to present in a strong light the benefits that came to a home through the mother's interest in affairs, by forcing conviction upon the father that it was a good investment to rear thrifty children as well as thrifty colts and calves.

Two numbers sung by a quartette of young men from the University of Southern California gave great delight to the audience. The young men have no superiors among local singers.

"EVENING SESSION.

It takes a woman to change her mind. The delegates at the closing session of the convention last night flopped and in so doing proved themselves keen politicians. They need votes.

A resolution against prize fighting was presented by Howard Flory, a delegate from and president of the Sixth Ward Club. It was seconded and passed by an overwhelming majority, the rising vote of those opposed showing but four timid voters against the main body of the house. Five minutes later a motion was made to reconsider the resolution, when Flory, seeing that the tide of woman's mind had turned against him, arose and with flushed face offered to withdraw his resolution. There was not a dissenting vote against its withdrawal.

The programme of the evening included some of the most forceful addresses which have been called forth by the convention. Josephine R. Cole of San José spoke on "What Is the Relation Between Woman's Economic Condition and the Power of the Ballot?" She endeavored to show that woman would be benefited by the power of the ballot.

"The Progress of Woman's Legal Status" was discussed by Judge Waldo M. York. He dwelt on the legal status of woman from the time that the Lord commanded Eve to be ruled by Adam, through the barbaric and semi-barbaric races to the improved condition of woman's legal status today, "which," he said, "is better in the State of California than any other State in the Union."

Mrs. Bertha Hirsch Baruch's discourse on "Why It Is Desirable for Women to Be in Politics," was without a peer. She pointed out in strong terms that the common conception of the meaning of politics today is wrong; that according to its root meaning and original idea, politics means administration for the best public good; that the chief excuse offered by those opposed to woman suffrage—that politics would degrade woman—does not hold; that woman is encouraged and applauded for her entrance upon the field of battle to aid the wounded amid danger, for her courage in going as a missionary to foreign lands fraught with danger, and for her heroism in entering the slums to disseminate good among vice and corruption; that if she has done all these things, it is for her to spread the same influence for good in politics.

SAN DIEGO.

SOME MEXICAN "JUSTICE."

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 7.—After being in the jail at Ensenada nearly a month Capt. Frank Manha of the schooner May has been released on a cash bail of $1000. Manha was arrested on board his vessel on the charge of taking twenty tons of guano from one of the islands off the coast of Lower California. He claims that his arrest was upon information furnished the Mexican officials by George Beermaker, who claims to have a concession from the Mexican government to take guano from Mexican lands, in whose employ Masha and his vessel were, the consideration being $10 per day.

Manha says that he was unable either to get a trial or to secure his release on bail and that E. E. Bailey, the American Consul at Ensenada, refused to help him out of his troubles. Although Ensenada real estate valued at $10,000 was offered as security for bail to the Mexican officials declined to consider it and it was only after four days of negotiations that the cash bail arrangement was made.

Manha's attorney states that there are prisoners in the Ensenada Jail who have been there for years, but who have never had a trial or been sentenced.

When about to leave the jail some of the officers demanded that Manha pay them for services rendered. After Manha was safely on board the British steamer St. Denis, bound for San Diego, his attorney locked him in a state-room, nailing the American flag over the door. After that there was no trouble. The attorney states that it will not be necessary for Manha to return to Ensenada, the laws of the country making it possible for them to try and sentence him and take an appeal without his presence. The case is pending in the Mexican Federal courts.

WILL GET THE CUP.

A date has been set for the delivery of the Lipton cup to the San Diego Yacht Club, the trophy now being in possession of the Corinthian Club. The only condition of the transfer will be that no inscription be placed upon the cup pending the receipt of a letter from Lipton explaining his intention as to certain features of the deed of gift. Members of all the yacht and rowing clubs in town have been invited to be present at the taking over.

SWINDLED BY BUYER.

The lemon growers complain that some of the commission houses of Seattle and Portland make false statements, as to the sales of lemons from this section of the State. They have the papers to show that some of the firms report that they are unable to get satisfactory prices for San Diego raised fruit, while other concerns to whom the same quality of fruit was shipped, at the same time, report sales at fancy figures. The lemon growers contend that they must look to the East and not to the North for the marketing of their fruit.

SAN DIEGO BREVITIES.

Local option will be voted upon in all precincts outside incorporated cities in the November election. In the election two years ago local option carried in many of the country precincts.

Twenty-five Chinamen in charge of Deputy United States Marshal Place and other deputies, went north this morning, the prisoners being under sentence of deportation.

J. W. Roberts, a pioneer of Alpine, died suddenly of paralysis yesterday. He was a veteran of the Civil War.

LOCAL POLITICS.

BUTLER WILL BE CANDIDATE.

RECEIVES FORMAL NOTIFICATION AND SIGNIFIES CONSENT.

Mayoralty Committee Will Meet Republican Citizens Monday Afternoon, When Recommendation Will be Ratified—Sixth Ward Republicans Organize Club.

The committee of ten Republicans—Dr. Walter Lindley, W. D. Stephens, Niles Pease, A. B. Cass, L. C. Gates, Frank J. Thomas, John G. Mott, Willis Booth, Kaspare Cohn, W. L. Valentine and George H. Stewart, the latter ex-officio chairman—appointed to notify Samuel A. Butler of his selection by more than 100 representative citizens as the best man to be recommended to the coming city convention for nomination for Mayor, met yesterday afternoon at Republican League headquarters, and after a private conference performed that duty.

Mr. Butler, in reply, formally accepted the honor and agreed to the placing of his name before the convention for consideration.

On Monday afternoon at 4 o'colck, at the call of Chairman Stewart, the adjourned citizens' meeting will reassemble at Republican League headquarters, and at that time and place the committee will report Mr. Butler's acceptance. It is expected the meeting then will formally ratify the choice.

REPUBLICANS ORGANIZE.

The Sixth Ward Republican Club was organized last night in Dalton's Hall, corner of Washington street and Central avenue, the following officers being elected: President, E. E. Selph; vice-president, J. C. Lewis; secretary, A. J. Wheeler; treasurer, Henry Sherer.

The following Executive Committee was appointed, one from each precinct: T. J. Waters, precinct 71; F. L. Spaulding, 73; P. Reed, 76; R. G. Robertson, 77; A. L. Sawyer, 78; A. P. Johnson, 69; P. D. Spears, 75; L. C. Judkins, 73; A. P. Cross, 65; H. D. Terrill 67; S. J. Broderick, 74; B. W. Sykes, 66.

J. A. Allen and W. J. School, candidates for Councilman from the Sixth Ward, and Harry Lelande, candidate for City Clerk, addressed the meeting. The attendance was large and the gathering enthusiastic. The following resolution was adopted:

"The Sixth Ward Republican Club heartily approves the wise, fearless and intensely American administration of our beloved President, Theodore Roosevelt. As loyal Republicans and earnest, liberty-loving citizens, we can conscientiously commend not only the candidacy of Theodore Roosevelt for President and Charles Fairbanks for Vice-President, but the entire Republican ticket nominated at the last Republican County Convention. We call on all Republicans, and all others who approve the honest and economical administration of the candidates on the Republican ticket, and those who stand for a continuation of that policy, to join us in rolling up a majority for the tickes in November, that shall be an unqualified endorsement of these candidates."

HOWTON'S EXPENSES.

COST OF HIS ELECTION.

Arthur Howton, the recall Councilman from the Sixth Ward, is likely to be hoist out of office on his own petard. When it was discovered last Monday that he had failed to file a statement of his election expenses within fifteen days of his election, as required by the purity election law, he made the defense that he had filed no statement because he had expended no money, either directly or indirectly.

The integrity of this assertion received a body blow yesterday afternoon from the hands of the committee which placed Howton in nomination, and handled the funds during his campaign. The committee yesterday afternoon filed with the City Clerk a sworn statement that it expended $43.50, directly to secure the election of "Arthur D. Houghton" and that $3 of that money was contributed in cash by Houghton himself.

The State election law penalizes the failure on the part of a candidate to file a statements of his expenses within fifteen days after election with forfeiture of the office, to which he has been pronounced valid by the Supreme Court of the State.

The section of the State election law governing the filing of a statement of expense is as follows:

"Any candidate who is voted for at a public election within the State shall, within fifteen days after the holding of such election, file, as herein provided, an itemized statement showing in detail all moneys paid, loaned, contributed or otherwise furnished him for use, either directly or indirectly by himself or through any other person, in aid of his election. Such statement shall contain the names of the persons, who paid, leased, contributed or otherwise furnished such moneys in aid of his election and the names of the various persons to whom such moneys were paid, contributed or loaned, the specific nature of each item and the service performed and by whom performed, and the purpose for which the money was expended, contributed or loaned.

"Any candidate who shall refuse or neglect to file such statement or who shall make a false statement of moneys received or expended shall forfeit any office to which he shall have been elected at the election with reference to which the statement is required to be made."

The State election law also provides that the Auditing Committee of the party which places a candidate in nomination shall within twenty-one days after an election file with the County Clerk a statement of moneys received and expended in the interests of the candidate of the party they represent. Failure to do so is made a penal offense.

Complying with this provision of the election laws the Auditing Committee of the party that nominated Howton yesterday afternoon filed with the City Clerk the following sworn statement:

"We, the undersigned, constituting the Auditing Committee of the electors who nominated Arthur D. Houghton a candidate for the office of Councilman for the Sixth Ward of the city of Los Angeles, State of California, at the special election held in the Sixth Ward of said city on September 16, 1904, hereby present the following itemized statement, showing in detail all the moneys contibuted, donated, subscribed or in any wise furnished or received to the use of said Arthur D. Houghton, as such candidate coming under the control of the committee or in the custody, directly or indirectly, together with the names of each contributor, donor, subscriber or source from which such moneys were derived, and an itemized statement of all moneys expended, to wit:

The statement was in the form of an affidavit sworn to before A. J. McClory, notary public.

Unless these men have all perjured themselves, this affidavit disposes effectively of the statement made by Howton that he neither received nor expended any money, either directly nor indirectly, during the campaign.

In the case of W. H. Bradley, appellant, vs. George H. Clark, respondent, reported in page 196 of the California reports, the Supreme Court of the State ruled that: "The Legislature has the power to require an elected officer to make the statement required therein and to provide that for a failure to do so he should forfeit his office or his right to office."

While the statement filed yesterday by Howton's Auditing Committee was made with the evident intent to protect the members of the committee from prosecution for violation of the State election laws, it affords them poor protection for the reason that the committee failed to comply with one very important provision: The State law requires that vouchers must be filed for all accounts involving the expenditure of more than $5. Two of the items include an expenditure of a larger sum than that, but no vouchers were filed with the statement at the City Clerk's office.

The City Attorney is quoted in an evening paper as rendering an opinion that "any effort to oust Howton by the Council itself would be clearly illegal." As a matter of fact, City Attorney Mathews has rendered no opinion in the matter. He is now in Washington, D. C., and is not likely to give an opinion until he returns here. The State election laws make provision that any elector in the district wherein the election is held can bring suit to oust a candidate who has forfeited his office through failing to file a post election statement.

HARPER'S DAUGHTER MARRIED.

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—Miss Helen Davida Harper, daughter of President William R. Harper of the University of Chicago, was last night married to Charles S. Eaton at Mandel Hall, on the university campus. The ceremony was read by the Rev. C. R. Henderson, chaplain of the university. Miss Harper and Eaton were students together in the university, graduating in the class of 1900, after which Eaton took the law course at Harvard and is now practicing in Chicago.

THE CONTEST OF 1904.

ROOSEVELT'S LEAD INCREASING DAILY.

The Common Law Controversy. American Labor—A Sentimental Choice—No Backwoods for Them. Classifying Democrats.

[COMPILED, ARRANGED AND EDITORIALLY PRESENTED BY THE TIMES.]

Roosevelt's Lead.

The announcement that the Roosevelt button is selling in five times the quantities of the Parker button is significant, but it will not surprise anybody. It is what was popularly expected, just as are the advances in the odds on Roosevelt in the betting. The manufacturers figure that Roosevelt is far ahead in the button selling, and they have no politics in their business. In the South Parker leads Roosevelt on this test, but in all the rest of the country Roosevelt is ahead, and in the country at large he is far in the lead. West Virginia is one of the States that some of the Democratic leaders say they expected to carry, but in West Virginia Roosevelt is three times as popular as favorite son Davis and six times as strong as Parker on the button appraisement. Indiana, Tom Taggart's State, gives a long lead to the Republican over the Democratic candidate on the sale of these little campaign emblems.

All of this is just what the general public had a right to look for, and what it did look for. The Republican candidate is immeasurably more popular throughout the country than his Democratic antagonist.

No surprise will be expressed by any intelligent Democrat when the news of Roosevelt's victory is flashed over the country on the night of November 8. It is just what every Parkerite of any sense looks for. There was a week or two immediately after the St. Louis convention when Parker stock was high in the Eastern and Middle Western States. His gold telegram, tricky and dishonest as it was seen to be, gave new hope to the Eastern Democrats that their candidate would be able to arouse the enthusiasm of his party, and to make an active canvass against Roosevelt. This feeling evaporated quickly. The speech of acceptance that most of what little enthusiasm created at that time, and the remnant of it was finished by the acceptance letter. A few of the New York Democratic papers pretended to feel encouraged by the letter, but their expressions of confidence had a hollow sound. Since Mr. Parker has been drafted into the service as an adviser of the National Committee. It is even hinted that he will take the stump some time in October. This shows the desperation of the Belmont and Taggart committees, for no combine ought to know by this time that Parker is a failure as a talker and a writer. His speeches, if he makes any, will give a good deal more triumph to the Republicans than to the Democrats, the prediction often made by the Democrat that Parker will be the most beaten Presidential candidate the Democracy will be indorsed by many of the papers before election day.—[St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The Common Law Controversy.

Judge Parker said in his speech of acceptance that "the decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States, the Circuit Court of Appeals of this State, and the decisions of last resort in many other States warrant the assertion that the common law, as developed, affords a adequate legal remedy against monopolies, etc."

President Roosevelt in his letter of acceptance boldly took issue with the judge. He said "there is no common law of the United States. Its rules can be enforced only by the State courts and officers. No Federal court or officer could take any action under them."

Judge Parker could not let the matter drop, and in his letter of acceptance he cited a Supreme Court decision which, he says, "decided that common law principles could be applied by United States courts in cases involving interstate commerce in the absence of United States statutes specifically covering the case."

Any one reading this, were inclined to believe that the judge had the President on the hip as regards this particular point, though they could not see where the point cut much of a figure. The judge has the last word so far as he and the President are concerned, but the learned Massachusetts lawyer who came forward in defense of the position of the latter. The lawyer says the judge probably was misled by the loose statement made by Judge Harlan, the decision referred to being a body of the common law of the United States." The court only held that the Western Union Telegraph Company, being a foreign corporation, was amenable to the common law of Nebraska as declared by its Supreme Court. The lawyer says the lawyer, does not refer to courts, and enunciates no new law, and the Attorney-General of the United States is unable to begin or maintain any suit against any combination or any individual in order to protect any rights arising under the common law.

Any lawyer may take up the cudgels for the judge, but thus far the weight of the controversy has been on the side of the President. It would be amusing if it were to turn out that the judge had made various statements about the common law, and the President, who is not a lawyer, had properly corrected him.—[Chicago Tribune.

American Labor.

A good deal has been written and said about the superior advantages which American labor holds over the labor of other countries. In August, 1902, a wealthy Scotch manufacturing firm sent a delegation of workmen to the United States to investigate practices and conditions and compare them with the conditions of labor and wages. There were twelve men in the party, selected by popular vote from among their fellow-workmen in the shops, and they represented the following trades: Bricklaying, painting, decorating, upholstering, woodwork, engineering, shipbuilding, mining, textile manufacturing, metallurgy, coach building and electricity.

The delegation visited Pittsburgh, Chicago, Buffalo, New York, Paterson, Fall River, Trenton, Philadelphia, Niagara Falls, Liverpool, Ohio and Niagara, and then went into Canada.

The report made when they returned after a thorough investigation of the practical features of the American mechanic and artisan, was very complimentary to the latter. The lawyer says that under the beneficent policies which now prevail in this country the American workingman enjoys many advantages over those across the water.

It appeared that the ordinary workman received more cash in return for his labor in the United States, and that this could command many and greater luxuries than his British brother at the same time, he has to pay more for these luxuries than he would on the other side of the Atlantic. A frugal American artisan, however, has it within his power to save money, which is denied his British rival. The very fact that the American receives more money in hand at the week's end gives him this opportunity to save, because the British workman seldom receives the same amount, and therefore is denied any opportunity of hoarding the needful for a rainy day.

The delegation reported that the United States will not only provide for its own wants in the near future, but will be, in addition, able to supply a great portion of the wants of the civilized world.

The delegation reported that not in a single instance did they find the American workman paid lower wages than the British workman.

The delegation reported that the climatic conditions of America to a certain extent favor the workingman and the workingman's wife.

A Sentimental Choice.

As citizens and Irish-Americans, we are all interested in the election of a President of the United States. Some people think that Irish-Americans take more than their average share of interest in it, but it is because we are enthusiastic in any undertaking in which we are interested, that so much of the credit or otherwise falls to our lot. There is only a sentimental choice between candidates this year, for notwithstanding platforms, etc., the administration of one candidate will not differ materially from the other, whoever is elected. Irish sentiment will naturally preponderate in favor of Theodore Roosevelt, whose personality and most marked traits are strikingly akin to what we most glory in the Irish character. He has personal independence, pluck, impulsiveness, athletic ability and physical courage. Mr. Roosevelt has a strong current of Irish blood in his veins and it bubbles over sometimes, very strongly resembling a real Irishman. Nor has he forgotten what he owes to the Irish traits in him; he is a member of the Irish Historical Society and takes a pride in many other things with an Irish side to them; he was instrumental in getting a reprieve of the sentence on Col. Lynch, of the Irish-Boer brigade, and he has always extended the courtesies of his great office to the representatives of our race who have visited this country from time to time. No man can point a finger of suspicion at the monesty of his official career. Judge Parker may be a very nice man, but what has he ever done to appeal to us as Theodore Roosevelt does.—[Irish-American Advocate.

No Backwoods for Them.

Since Senator Gorman has taken charge of the management of the Parker campaign a strong effort has been made to scold to the rear Chairman Taggart, William R. Hearst, William Jennings Bryan and others who are not counted true disciples of the modern Democracy. Taggart has been, to all intents and purposes, shelved and has been invited to go West and stay there. He insists that he was chosen chairman and proposes to be chairman; but those who have supplanted him laugh at his claims, and even Judge Parker is credited with telling the smiling Tom that he can do much better work in Indiana than in New York. Taggart naturally feels sore and keeps on demanding his rights, but the men who have supplanted him are stronger than he.

Bryan and Hearst are fighting mad at the scheme to send them to the rear. Bryan still claims that he and his followers are the only true representatives of Democracy, and they have no intention of surrending to, or even taking orders from, Senator Gorman or anybody else. Bryan does not mean to miss the opportunity to make speeches in the campaign, but he proposes to talk when he pleases and to say what he pleases. He will wear no man's muzzle and no man's shackles. The same is true of Mr. Hearst. His support of Judge Parker in his newspapers is of the most perfunctory order, and he keeps on paying many compliments to Tom Watson, the Populist candidate. The attempt to keep ex-Senator Hill out of sight is also a complete failure.

None of these men has the slightest intention of taking to the woods. They mean to get the front of the stage if they can and to stay there till the curtain is rung down. They claim that they have long been true Democrats and have as large a following in the party as Judge Parker or anyone else.—[Baltimore American.

Classifying Democrats.

Senator Foraker, in his Chicago speech, classified the Democratic voters into three kinds—those who believe in free silver and therefore voted for Bryan; those who believe in honest money, and voted for McKinley or Palmer; and those who believe in honest money, but who voted for Bryan and consequently for free silver.

The Senator very properly characterized those voters of the first two classes as men of honest convictions who voted as they believed; and those of the third class as men who had not the courage to express their belief, but sacrificed principle to partisanship. Judge Parker belongs to the third class. The sound-money men are appealed to for support on the ground that he is a believer in the gold standard; the free-silver men are asked to vote for him because he twice supported Bryan.

The American people are fond of a man who stands sturdily by what he believes to be right, without regard for consequences. They may not agree with him, but he has their respect. The reverse of this proposition is equally true. They have no use for a man who has not the courage of his convictions. They hold in contempt a trimmer and time-server—the man who demands support because, knowing what was right, he supported the wrong.—[Toledo Blade.

Friend of Irrigation.

President Roosevelt from the very beginning of the agitation for irrigation and preservation of the forests has been the unyielding and the persistent friend of both measures—the importance of which cannot be stated in space less than a volume, and, certainly, cannot be overestimated. In his address before the Society of American Foresters, delivered March 24, 1903, President Roosevelt said:

"The relation between the forests and the whole mineral industry is extremely intimate. Every man who has had experience with the West knows that mines cannot be developed without timber—usually not without timber close at hand. In many regions throughout the arid country ore is more abundant than wood, and this means that if the ore is of low grade, the transportation of timber from any distance being out of the question, the use of the mine is limited by the amount of timber available. . . . The forest problem is, in many ways, the most vital internal problem in the United States. In the arid regions of the West agriculture depends, first of all, on the water supply available. In such a region forest protection can alone maintain the stream flow necessary for irrigation and prevent the great and destructive floods so ruinous to communities further down the streams that head in the arid region."—[Cincinnati Commercial-Tribune.

For a Peace Congress.

As peace congresses are fashionable these days, it might be feasible to start one going in the Hoffman House, New York, where the job of untangling the "reorganizers" and the Bryanites will otherwise have to be undertaken by the police pretty soon. — [Chicago Chronicle.

Situation in Ohio.

The deadest spot in American politics this year appears to be Ohio. McLean is editing, Johnson is mayoring and nothing is doing. The Republican plurality at the present moment is probably 100,000.—[Springfield Republican.

That Wilson Bill.

The Democratic candidate for President is trying to convince manufacturers that they can do more profitable business under a tariff levied according to Democratic ideas. But the manufacturers remember the Wilson Bill and the panic that followed in its wake and continue to favor a protective tariff.—[Omaha Bee.

Bailey's Blunder.

Senator Bailey of Texas has decidedly overreached himself in his speech wherein he puts forward President Roosevelt as an advocate of lynch law. It is rather late in the day for Senator Bailey to criticise the President as an advocate of lynch law. Truth will stand against any attempt to so distort it, but against such distortion of it the blood of the victims of Waco and Texarkana should cry out against the then silent Senator Bailey. —[Boston Transcript.

LOCAL RAILROAD RECORD.

SCALPERS ARE SCALPED.

INJUNCTIONS PREVENT ILLEGAL TICKET SALES.

Traveling Passenger Agent Appointed for the Local District of the Southern Pacific—New Officer Arrives in Los Angeles for the Salt Lake Road.

"The injunctions which have been placed upon about a dozen ticket scalpers in this city appear to be preventing the illegal sale of tickets," said District Passenger Agent N. R. Martin of the Southern Pacific yesterday. "It begins to look as if the scalping business is getting under the control of the law all over the United States and that it will be crushed out. The one thing which is needed to make a success of the movement is the cooperation of the public. Anyone going into the matter may clearly see that in aiding the scalpers the public is simply standing in its own light and handicapping itself.

"An example may be found in the favorable rates and arrangements made by the railroads for the St. Louis Fair. Never before was a fair given the boost from railroads that have been given the present World's Fair, but the only way the low rates could be made possible by the railroad companies was by the coöperation of the merchants and citizens of St. Louis. When the fair was proving a losing proposition, the managers came to the railroads and said: 'Give us better rates, give us rates that will force the people in here.' The railroads said: 'We will give you those rates if you will give us injunctions against all ticket scalpers to protect us.' The injunctions were given, the low rates were made, the compact proved successful and the fair ceased to be a losing proposition.

ESPEE PROMOTIONS.

A new position has been created in the local district of the Southern Pacific, that of traveling passenger agent, and F. C. Lathrop has been appointed to fill it. Lathrop was formerly with the Wilmington Transportation Company and has been with the Southern Pacific three years. The promotion will enlarge his duties in obtaining passenger business and the appointment is a popular one. The position of passenger agent, which he vacates, will be filled by L. L. Gibson, who has for two years been ticket clerk in the Pullman office of the company.

H. T. Green arrived here yesterday from Chicago to take up duties with the Salt Lake road as chief clerk of this division. He has been a rate clerk in Chicago for several years.

Jaw W. Adams, Pacific Coast passenger agent of the Nickle Plate Railroad, came down from San Francisco yesterday to attend the wedding of his daughter, which is to take place in this city October 12.

T. K. Statler, general agent of the Northern Pacific, with offices in San Francisco, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday on business.

IMPROVEMENTS. The widening of Los Angeles street, from Boyd to Fourth, begins to assume some reality. The old German rookeries along the west side, which have been so long used as chicken and fish houses, are being torn down to make room for a modern store building having a front- age of 88 feet on Fourth street by 133 feet on Los Angeles street, which will be three stories in height. The new building is to be built on the new line of the street, and will mark the be- ginning of the work of widening the "mart of commerce," which was badly needed.

CELERY OUTLOOK. A large grower of celery in the peatlands dis- trict is authority for the statement that this year's celery crop will be shorter than last year. He gives it as his opinion that the acreage will be less than 2500 acres, and he claims some of the farmers in his vicinity have plowed up their celery, which was damaged during the dry weather by alkali in the soil. This is claimed to be more noticeable during dry weather. Celery is not building up very materially, although the rain falling at present may bring it out in better shape. A short crop of celery would bring better prices and be more easily marketed.

Cauliflower is heading out nicely, and promises a big crop.

CRANBERRY OUTLOOK. Accord- ing to the Chicago Packer, the cran- berry situation may be sized up as short, the following dispatch from Wareham, Mass., being authority:

"The cold weather of last week, com- ing at a time when cranberry harvest- ing was at its zenith, caught the grow- ers on the hip, so to speak, and all the preventives within their power could not save the heavy losses to their bogs. The crop in most places of the Cape Cod district, according to the opinions of many authorities, has been cut down from 25 to 50 per cent. Many of the growers were situated in such a way as to be able to flow their bogs so as to withstand the frosty weather, but those who were not thus situated suffered heavily.

THE MARKET FOR TEAS. Condi- tions, since our last writing, show considerable signs of improvement. Buyers in town are quietly looking around, filling in with odd lots here and there, and the inquiry from out of town indicates that stocks outside of city are getting reduced in distributors' hands.

Advices from primary market are somewhat varied. Formosas are fairly steady, from mail advices; any de- cline being in common teas, while from "good to superior," and up, are firm. Since that, cables point ot a harden- ing in prices, more especially for finer tea. Second summer crops shows much on a par with last year. The general quality of new teas, taken all through, is not any better than last year, and in some invoices fails to show as good character. This may be an exception; at the same time, there is nothing in new Formosa fine teas to worry holders of a few good grade old ones.

Foochows are selling freely, in good leafy spot teas, around 10 cents, and some speculation is reported for blocks in a large way. It is more than likely that those grades will soon show an advance.

Congous are in better demand, and very little offering first hands under 10½ cents for full quantities. New teas show good liquor but very poor leaf.

Japans are doing better, the choice grade fetching higher prices, with no very heavy stocks. Thirty-two to 33 cents has readily been paid, during last week. Mediums are steady, while lowest grades are firmer, owing to a cessation in the plucking of the com- mon leaf.

China Greens.—Ping Sueys appear to be selling at lower rates. Moyunes re- ceive attention and are steady in prices. Some new samples are offer- ing, with very good liquor to unusually rough leaf.

Indias and Ceylons.—These have been receiving more call. Prices are not any lower here, while London cables advise an advance of easily 1s 2d per pound on finer teas. Greens are in better demand and prices firm.—[A. R. Robertson, in Spice Mill.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Ranch eggs are still reported as scarce and the tone of the market tends higher all the while. The arrivals of fresh eastern has a tendency to keep the ranch down to a normal basis. Eastern egg markets are reported weaker in Chicago and Kansas City.

Ducks are reported plentiful, and hens are in bountiful supply. Young stock is in demand and scarce.

Potatoes are inclined to be a shade weaker, owing to a slow movement out. Receipts are still good. Salinas fancy, are not in heavy supply, although other varieties are held well.

There is no perceptible change in the market for onions, all varieties in good supply with a fairly good outward movement.

Bananas move along in the same old way at 4@4½c per pound. Stock is in good shape.

Fancy lemons, packed, bring about 2.00@2.25 per box, basis 360s.

New Brazil nuts and filberts are ar- riving in the market and look good. No walnuts arriving as yet, but deliveries promised for the end of the week, unless rain prevents.

There was quite enough of fish to go around yesterday, consisting of a good supply of smelt from Redondo and San Diego. Lobsters were very freely of- fered yesterday.

The first wild geese of the season came in yesterday, and were plump. These sold out readily. Rabbits are scarce.

Bury pears, of the hardy type, are seen in moderate supply and sell easily at $1.50 per box. They keep splendidly. Bartletts are still coming from cold storage, but are poor quality.

Cabbage being more freely offered, and brings $1.40 per sack of about 100 pounds. The grade has improved.

STATE OF TRADE.

DUN'S WEEKLY REVIEW

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P. M.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—R. G. Dun's weekly review of trade will say tomorrow that with the element of speculative danger, prices of se- curities at the highest point since May, 1902, and idle machinery resuming in factories and mills that have been closed for months, the business outlook grows steadily brighter. By far the best feature of the situation is the confidence manifested by many and the in- creased disposition to provide for future re- quirements. Dispatches from the leading cities are almost unanimous in telling of improved conditions. Failures in the United States are 212, against 232 last week.

Bradstreet's Review.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Bradstreet's to-mor- row will say that popular estimates of leading crop yields continue to enlarge. Additional favorable features are the continuance of the good tone in pig iron, fewer buying by rail- ways of material and rolling stock, and heavy general crop movements, helping col- lections in the South. While the pur- ing of dry goods, hardware, groceries, shoes and clothing continues of good volume, par- ticularly in the West, conservative influences find reflection in fewer and smaller orders, calculated to meet necessities. The transporta- tion movement is heavy, and railway earn- ings show an expanding tendency, the gain for September promising to be 6 per cent. over 1903. There are some flaws in the situa- tion which stamp this as an off year, when compared with previous years of phenomenal prosperity. Business failures in the United States for the week ending October 6, num- ber 195, against 170 last week. Wheat ship- ments, including flour exports, for the week ending October 6, aggregate 1,091,952, against 1,888,198 last week.

Bank Clearings.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The following table, compiled by Bradstreet, shows the bank clear- ings at the principal cities for the week ended October 6, with the percentage of increase and decrease, as compared with the corresponding week last year:

NEW YORK MARKETS.

SHARES AND MONEY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P. M.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The salient fact in today's stock market was that prices did not go down, as many persons were led to expect by the action of the late market yes- terday. There was a momentary irregularity early today, but nothing like the break that the bears had pictured to themselves as a result of the decisive downward turn with its uncertainties of stop-loss orders and rush to make profits. The bear element had come to regard the market as topheavy and ready to crumble away when the strong impetus of the upward movement was lost. They be- came suspicious this morning that the friends of higher prices had encouraged the short selling yesterday on account of the support which would be assured to the market when the shorts were covered. The positive pres- sure on the market proved insignificant, and the bears retreated and covered their shorts. A fairly comprehensive advance in prices followed. In the list of strong stocks were found representatives of about all the prin- cipal groups of stocks. The average gain was moderate, and the volume of transactions fell considerably below those of yesterday. The strength in Amalgamated Copper was due directly attributable to the active demand for copper, both here and in Europe. The buy- ing of stock was on a large scale, and its rise was of some sympathetic effect on the steel stocks, owing to the sympathetic bond between the two markets for the products. The advance in some of the other industrials seemed to be due directly to sympathy with the movement in Amalgamated Copper, and especially that in Sugar. But final recovered sharply from yesterday's break without favor- able rumors regarding a Northern Securities settlement. Revised estimates in favor of the larger grain yields were prevalent, and helped the market. The currency movement up to Thursday evening, as reported during the day, showed a smaller withdrawal by the subtreasury than last week, but the ship- ments on balance by express brought the probable cash loss to over $7,000,000. The sup- position that there has been large speculative liquidation in the stock market points to a contraction in loans. The money market to- day was little affected beyond a rise above 7 per cent. in the money rate. This increased a growing disposition to take profits, and prices slipped off in the final hour, with nothing left of the day's gains at the close. Bonds were steady. Total sales, par value, $2,315,000. United States bonds were un- changed on call.

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Local Colony Contributes.

The local Italian colony has contributed $52 to be sent to St. Louis to aid the celebration of "Italian Day," October 12, at the fair. Editor Abrote of La Colonia Italiana was instrumental in interesting the Italians here in the coming celebration.

In Mercantile Place.

The Curtis-Newhall Company, newspaper and magazine advertising agents, have leased 3500 feet of floor space in Mercantile Place and will move on or about October 15 from their present location in the old Hellman building, No. 223 West Second street.

Philippine Veterans.

The regular monthly meeting of the California Society of the Army of the Philippines was held last night in the Grant building. Col. W. J. Fife presided, and subjects of interest were discussed. There was a good attendance.

New Commissioner.

C. B. Anderson was yesterday appointed by Judge Wellborn in the United States District Court United States Commissioner at Bakersfield, to succeed A. C. Maude, deceased. The new commissioner is a brother of the local attorneys comprising the law firm of Anderson & Anderson.

Japanese Newspaper.

Tetsu Oyama, the Japanese interpreter, has commenced the publication of a Japanese weekly newspaper in Los Angeles, the title of which in Japanese is "Dai Tetsu Shimbun." This is the third Japanese journal in this city, there being a daily and another weekly published here.

He is Seven.

The police have been advised that Robert Ellis, a 7-year-old pickaninny who says he walked all the way from Los Angeles to San Bernardino, is held in the latter city awaiting a claimant. Footsore and weary the boy was picked up in San Berdoo yesterday. He says he lived in Los Angeles with his grandmother at No. 915 Chaves street.

Stranger's Friend.

"The Stranger's Friend Society" incorporated last night at Temple Baptist Church, and hope that by this means they will be enabled to carry on their good work to much better advantage. The incorporators are Rev. Albert A. Kidder, C. R. Harris, Z. C. Angevine, Dr. William Beebe and Dr. William S. Philp.

Electric Blaze.

A short circuit of the electric transformer under the sidewalk of Mallen, Bluett & Co.'s store at 7:15 o'clock last night caused an incipient blaze in the basement, which for a few minutes threatened a serious fire. The blaze itself did little damage, but the heavy smoke injured a large assortment of stored goods. Rain caused the short circuit.

Distinguished Italian.

Prof. Brunialti, a member of the Italian Parliament and president of the famous Touring Club of Italy, is expected in Los Angeles soon from the north. The distinguished Italian is touring this country lecturing on the attractions of Italy from a tourist standpoint, in the interest of the club, an organization which has 35,000 members, with a branch in San Francisco. Prof. Brunialti recently lectured at Berkeley and Stanford.

Rescue Mission.

Tom O'Kelley, a converted railroad brakeman, will tell of his wonderful experience at the Union Rescue Mission, No. 145 North Main street, on Sunday evening. He is now connected with the Conservative Life Insurance Company of this city. Sam Todd, the new assistant superintendent of the mission, will sing a solo and the Lowe Quartette will render several numbers. Superintendent Trotter says that a phenomenal revival has been in progress at the mission.

For Pure Food.

The Los Angeles County Medical Association considered food and its adulteration last evening, at the regular meeting held in the rooms of the Ruskin Art Club. Laird J. Stabler, chemist, read an exhaustive paper, covering the use of coloring matter in fruits, jellies and other similar foodstuffs; the admixture of dangerous preservatives with perishable substances, and some of the evils of oleomargarine. Stabler's essay was followed by lengthy discussion on the part of the doctors, participated in chiefly by Drs. Koebig, Day and Martindale.

Forty Chinese Prisoners.

The largest single batch of Chinese ever deported from this region will be taken to San Francisco Monday in charge of United States Marshal Osborne. There are forty of these return tourists languishing in the County Jail awaiting the trip. Twenty-six prisoners under order of deportation were brought up from San Diego yesterday by Deputy Place, forming the majority of the band. The vicinity of San Diego has been invaded of late by Chinese smuggled across from Lower California, and the government officers have had one of the liveliest times in the history of the immigration service trying to stem the tide of certificateless Celestial visitors.

Emperor's Birthday.

The Japanese of Los Angeles and vicinity are making preparations for observing the fifty-seventh anniversary of the birth of the Emperor of Japan. This will occur November 3, and a celebration will be held at Simpson Auditorium. Many committees have been appointed, and the one on arrangement and programme is composed of the newspaper men of this city, G. Yuasa, S. Saigusa, Tetsu Oyama, H. Miyamura and S. Shibuya. The programme will be divided into two sections. The first will be composed of patriotic addresses, and the latter part will consist of Japanese dances, exhibitions of the art of Jiu-Jitsu sword dances and seven living pictures, representing various phases in the history of Japan, the characters being costumed in exact representations of the original costumes. It is expected fully 1200 Japanese will participate. Mayor Snyder will be asked to speak.

ROUNDING UP VAGS.

Police Have Busy Night With Suspicious Characters that Have Floated Into Town.

With the rain came the "vags."

Not since last winter was there so much activity in the police line on East First street as last night. Up to midnight eighteen vags and suspicious characters had been picked up, and during the early morning hours many more were booked.

The hobos swarmed into the city after the rain and East First street was transformed into a veritable roost for denizens of the underworld. Patrolman Walsh broke all recent records by making an even dozen arrests. He was the busiest policeman in town.

At the Police Station many of those caught in the drag-net were booked on suspicion. The tenderloin districts furnished several of this class, but the supply was not appreciably diminished.

The police have been advised that many hobos are headed toward Los Angeles and it certainly seemed last night that the advance guard had arrived.

Go for it! It's human nature to try to save the pocketbook. Money talks, wherever you go, and the dollar has its value. What men want, is to get its whole value every time a dollar is spent. It is a well known fact that there is better value in the Brauer-Krohn suits and overcoats than in any others. That's why we make so many of them. And it must be paying us to put all this unusual value into them, or we would stop doing it. Don't hesitate on our account, but come right in and get your share of the good things going. Town Startled by Series of Boisterous Jags.

"Barkeeper Joe" Convicted in Absurd Hearing.

Last Throes of Blind Pig Most Exciting.

A farewell series of jags is horrifying the temperance town, Compton.

It was reported to the Los Angeles authorities that "Joe's turn," which came Thursday, was celebrated by a whoop-up of the "goats" so glorious that some of Joe's friends started in to shoot up the town.

Barkeeper Goodrow on the Whoop-up.

Shots were heard barking in the night from the direction of the blind pig alleged to be owned by John Greis, a former officeholder under Gov. Gage. Joe Goodrow, the barkeeper at this place, had an absurd hearing before Justice Young in this city and was convicted.

A party of the "blind-piggers," coming from Pasadena, where Greis's own trial is in progress, got off the Compton car, prepared to extend sweet sympathy to Joe.

One or two of them were prominent citizens of Compton. The whole party had a wonderful jag. They were happy on both sides of the street the whole length of the town.

Soon the Compton people were startled to hear shots in the night. Shot followed shot. There was a rainstorm of them.

Last night, after Joe's trial, another party came rolling down the main street of Compton deliriously joyful.

Joe came later. Joe was not happy. Joe was sobes and sad. Joe had been convicted.

The adage is that "They who live by the sword shall die by the sword."

Joe got his finish by a corkscrew.

He testified in his own behalf yesterday in Justice Young's court after the detectives, who drank at the blind pig, disguised as surveyors, had told their story.

John Greis also testified. He declared it wasn't a blind pig. He said he had eleven bottles of beer in the refrigerator of his friend Joe's place, and he just gave it as a present to the "surveyors."

It seems that those eleven beer bottles were like unto the Scriptural loaves and the fishes which fed a multitude.

"Didn't those bottles last you pretty long?" asked the District Attorney, coldly.

"It depended," shot back old John sarcastically, "upon how many surveyors they were in the neighborhood; they are the thirstiest lot of fellers I ever saw."

Joe took the stand piously. He said that it was indeed true that John Greis just had the bottler there for accommodation and not for sale. He just treated his friends. Joe said that in his place the demon rum was never sold.

"Did you take any pay from Greis for keeping his beer in your refrigerator?"

"Oh, no," said Joe meekly.

"Why did you keep it, then?"

"Why, you see, Mr. Greis is one of my best customers——"

Joe stopped and looked at the District Attorney, aghast at what he, himself, had said. "I mean," he finished lamely, "that he used to come up and buy cigars and—and things."

"Why did you have that corkscrew screwed onto your refrigerator?" asked the District Attorney suddenly.

"Why," stammered Joe, "to open bottles."

"Soda water bottles?" asked the District Attorney, grinning.

"No, sir," said Joe, feeling not at all happy.

"Did you have any bottles there except these bottles of your friend, John Greis?"

"N—No, sir."

"Then what was that corkscrew for?"

"It—it wasn't on the refrigerator all the time—sometimes it was lying on the shelf," suggested Joe desperately.

The District Attorney asked him a point-blank question about the coming of beer in coal oil boxes, as is the custom. Joe's lawyer jumped up and instructed him not to answer any question that would incriminate himself. Joe remained silent.

This warning was repeatedly shot at Joe after this. His lawyer every minute and a half hopped up and warned Joe not to answer.

The jury convicted Joe in short order.

John Greis's trial will be resumed in

DIES BY GAS.

Edmund Deming, Aged Pioneer and Ex-Millman, Asphyxiated in San Francisco.

Word was received here last night of the accidental death of Edmund O. Deming, a pioneer mill-owner, in his home at No. 748 Ellis street, San Francisco. Mr. Deming was well known to many of the older residents of Los Angeles. He came to California in 1854, and became, with his brother, a large owner in the Capitol Milling Company, which operated flouring mills in several Coast cities, from Seattle to Los Angeles.

Barkeeper Goodrow in Court.

The San Francisco dispatch states that Mr. Deming was found dead in his bed yesterday morning. Investigation showed that a tube connected with a gas-heater that had been left burning had become partly detatched, allowing the gas to freely escape and asphyxiating Mr. Deming as he slept.

Mr. Deming was 73 years old. He and his brother disposed of their milling interests some time ago, but retained large real estate holdings.

DAVE HARUM TRICK ALLEGED.

DOCTOR SAYS THEY CHEATED HIM ON HORSE TRADE.

Avers that He Swapped Good Animal and Ten Dollars for Rack-of-bones Object Propped on Four Spindle Shanks and Hardly Worth Carting to the Bone Yard.

W. S. McFarland and L. M. Hartman, two Santa Ana liverymen, who recently branched out with a place in Los Angeles at No. 816 Temple street, are locked in the City Jail on a charge of obtaining goods by false pretenses.

The "goods" in this case is a horse, and alleged sharp trading on the part of the liverymen is the cause of their troubles.

Dr. J. B. Bolton insists that he was victimized to the extent of a good horse and $10, in a deal whereby he received in exchange a diseased animal, good only for the bone yard.

What the doctor doesn't know about horse trading would fill volumes, according to his own statements.

Yesterday Bolton visited the stable of McFarland & Hartman and said he wanted to purchase a new horse. He was shown one in a stall and when a proposition was made to swap the animal for the doctor's own quadruped plus $10, the medical man quickly acquiesced.

After he had taken the new horse Bolton says he soon saw it was absolutely worthless, and he demanded a return of his money and the other animal, but was only laughed at.

Then the doctor got angry and swore out a warrant for the arrest of the two men. Hartman made a break for liberty while being taken to the Police Station, but he was easily recaptured. The case will be heard in Police Court today.

CLEARING STEEL WAY.

One train arrived on the Santa Fé yesterday from Albuquerque. It was made up there and carried no belated westbound passengers.

Fifty bags of papers comprised the only mail received from the Santa Fé yesterday and the average delivery of this class of mail alone is 300 sacks a day. At midnight last night advices from the dispatcher's office stated that no overland trains had yet left Albuquerque, and, as the run to Los Angeles is about thirty-six hours, none are to be expected before Sunday.

Eight or ten trains will be turned over to the western division at about the same time, and they will arrive in Los Angeles within a few minutes of one another. Until they are turned over, the local office has no way of giving an accurate statement as to when they may be expected at La Grande station.

Hard on the Music.

Francis Wilson, the comedian, was in New York, rehearsing a musical piece one hot day this summer. Everyone in the company was tired from their work and the heat, and things were not running smoothly.

As is generally known, Mr. Wilson's voice compels him to almost speak his songs. The chief musical number of the piece had been sung four times, when the musical director, who was leading, called for a repetition.

The company started it again, and had sung only a bar or two when the director stopped them, and tapping his baton angrily on the footlight guard, said: "Come, come, Mr. Wilson. You are just murdering the time."

"Well," replied the actor, "it's better to murder it at once than to be continually beating it as you do."

Everybody had a laugh, and then the song was rendered again, this time without any comment from the or-

BUDDHISTS TO BUILD TEMPLE.

Novel House of Worship to Grace Los Angeles.

Missionary from Japan at Head of Movement.

Winning Proselytes from the Local Churches.

Only two days ago The Times announced to the world that the largest band of Christian missionaries ever sent out from the Pacific Coast would leave Los Angeles this week for China. Today comes an announcement of missionary work on entirely different lines—one that will cause the Christians who are attempting to evangelize pagan countries to sit up with a start, and wonder if such things can really be in California and in Los Angeles.

A temple for the worshipers of Buddhism is soon to be erected on one of the fashionable streets of Los Angeles.

Yesterday afternoon a committee of Buddhists inspected various sites, and they have practically decided on a tract with a frontage on Figueroa street. It is their intention to build a Buddhistic temple that will be gorgeous in its design and striking in its furnishings.

J. Izumida, a Buddhist priest, has come directly from Japan to take charge of a missionary work in Los Angeles, and he finds ready to receive him a constituency which is able and ready to at once establish a temple. Most of the Japanese of Los Angeles and vicinity are said to cling to the Buddhistic religion, and the priest has rallied many of these around him, and has organized a Japanese society ofr spreading broadcast this propaganda.

It is true that considerable numbers of the Japanese in this city have embraced Christianity; but their early life was under the influence of the teachings of Buddha, and the priest is zealous in his work among these converts, so that his influence has already been felt in the several Christian mission schools sustained in this city for the Japanese; and among those who have drifted away from the mission schools the Buddhist priest has won many proselytes back to the old faith.

At present Izumida's headquarters are at No. 346 Winston street. Here he has gathered about him a company of 25 devotees, and as soon as arrangements can be made for a suitable room, a temporary temple will be set up and public services will be held daily, with sermons or addresses every Sunday.

The Buddhist missionary is not confining his attention entirely to Los Angeles, but has made visits to Glendale, Tropico and Moneta, where there are colonies of Japanese, and has worked them up to a fervor for their native faith. All these colonies will contribute most liberally toward the erection of the gorgeous temple that is to grace Figueroa street with its oriental architecture.

While the beginning is on a modest scale, it is no measure for the ambition which swells in the breasts of the followers of Buddhistic philosophy. They hope to see a spread of their faith until ere long a temple will be required for the American worshipers at the shrine of Nirvana. It is even hinted by the leaders of this movement that Los Angeles already has some people high in the seats of social activity and professional life who give allegiance to the idea of final absorption in the great Buddha, and it is expected that they will also help in the new enterprise of temple building, and in the campaign for the pagan propaganda in this city.

In connection with the movement in this city, it is said that an effort is below made on systematic basis for establishing Buddhistic temples in several of the larger cities of the United States, and that this is really an outcome of the Japanese idea—expanding with mushroom growth—that the little brown men are members of the nation of destiny, and are to step forth eventually and conquer the world.

Buddhism's three great distinguishing characteristics are atheism, metempsychosis and absence of caste. It teaches that the soul of all men have lived in a previous state of existence, and that all sorrows of life are punishments for sins committed in a previous state. After death the soul must migrate through inferior and superior stages until it finally arrives in Nirvana or absorption in Buddha. The true estate of the human soul, according to the Buddhistic philosophy, is blissful annihilation.

Buddhism teaches that existence itself is an evil springing from the double root of ignorance and the passions. It ignores the existence of a supreme God and creators of world, and gives the highest places in its system of theology to the Hotoke or Buddhas who have toiled upward through successive stages of existence to the calm or perfect holiness.

No matter how one may view the desirability of the new missionary movement, there can be no doubt that the Buddhistic temple will become a point of attractiveness to visitors in Los Angeles. Its promoters say that it will combine the peculiar gracefulness of the pagoda-roofed temples so plentiful in the land of the cherry blossom; and the bamboo lattice will enclose the picturesque tower in the court for the bronze bells; while the curiously carved woods will adorn the miniature rest houses within the enclosure, and the interior of the temple itself will be a source of wonder to Americans.

ONE FOURTH OF BEAN CROP GONE.

RAIN YESTERDAY SERIOUS TO VENTURA RANCHERS.

Thrashers Had Not Nearly Completed Their Work and in Places Whole Fields of Beans Will be Spoiled—Others Must be Sorted by Hand at Great Expense.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

VENTURA, Oct. 7.—Another drenching rain visited this section this morning and with probably fatal effect to part of the Lima bean crop, as nearly one-fourth of the crop is lying out and unthrashed. It was expected that the season's yield would reach close to 200,000 sacks. The loss may reach 50,000 sacks after the beans are handpicked and the spotted beans thrown out. It is estimated that in the neighborhood of Montalvo alone 10,000 sacks are still out, while there are many big fields about Saticoy and on the road to Santa Paula which will be lost to the growers.

The loss is accounted for by the present rain following so closely upon the big rain of a week ago. The beans had about recovered from the first wetting, but could not withstand the second. The first softened the hulls, but this last soaked through the softened and weakened hulls and penetrated to the bean itself.

Ever since the last rain all the thrashers in the county have been busy night and day, using every available moment in the work of getting the beans out, but it was too great a task in the limited time had, and to many the season's work will go for naught. Report comes from the Carpinteria country that the greater portion of the crop is still out there, and unthrashed and the loss will be heavy. After the weather clears thrashing may be resumed, but the beans will then have to be hand picked and many may be saved, but the expense is considerable.

Bean prices are on the jump today. Offers were made of $3.75 per hundred yesterday. Today growers will not listen to anything less than 4 cents, and many of them are talking of 5 cents per pound and even higher.

But what is gall to bean men is meat to the stockmen. The latter are in high feather over the rain, as the grand on the ranges, which was booming, and in many places several inches high, will receive such an impetus as it has not had in many years. Men with stock talk of the best season this year the country has ever seen.

FATHER OF REPUBLICANS.

A. D. Seward, known also as "Father" Seward, was out at the Smith Republican rally a few night ago. Father Seward is over 90, but hale and hearty. He is a Republican of Republicans, for he claims to have voted for a Republican for President fourteen years before the party was organized, when he cast his vote for James G. Birney, candidate of the Liberty party. When he has cast his vote for Roosevelt, Father Seward will have voted for eighteen Presidential candidates. His first vote was cast for William Henry Harrison in Indiana in 1838. He would have voted for Fremont, but at the time of that election he was living in Minnesota, then a Territory, and had no vote.

ENGINEERS' CONGRESS OVER.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 7.—The programme of sectional meetings of the International Engineering Congress at the World's Fair was yesterday completed. Sir William White, president of the British Institute of Civil Engineering, said today that the success of the congress, in the point of attendance, scope and character of the work, and practical results accomplished in the various sections, has been remarkable.

YIDDISH ROW OVER LICENSE.

Why Must Politsky Pay if Margolis Mustn't?

"It Iss Polideegs" Declare Second-hand Men.

The Mayor Said to be Taking Part in Game.

Down in the Yiddish quarter on East First street, where the odds and ends of the world are heaped up for sale like dingy offerings on dreary altars of disuse, strange faces are peering through the narrow doorways and grime-coated windows of second-hand shops for the dreaded vision of the License Collector, whose monthly appearance is at hand.

Here in the city's least valuable and most nondescript market place, where the stores are mere stalls, where the junk king rules his empire of poverty, and squalor is twin heir with want, dejection reigns.

For there, a step across the street, is the shop of Joseph Margolis, and of Fannie, his wife. They pay the license not, but comes the red-faced man in the swift buggy and demands that his neighbors "produce."

"Why iss it? Yeh! We, what sell so leedle, we, so poor, so poor—why iss it we shall pay de man in de bug-gee, for heem to taig away wid heem our munnee for de piece paper he gif us? Yeh! Us, we pay de lisense—once $5 month, mebbe now $3 mondth—$6 all ad once for t'ree month. Yacob Politsky, he musd pay; Ivan Ogorovitch, he musd pay; other ones all musd pay. But Joseph Margolis pay nod. Why nod? Yeh!"

In April of 1903, the merchants' license ordinance went into effect. Among the victims of this tax legislation were the second-hand dealers, of whom there are numerous hives. The scale called upon them to hand over to the municipality every month the sum of $5 for the privilege of doing business inside the city limits.

J. W. Sears, commonly called an American, but referred to in the East First-street Yiddish quarter as a Gentile, was selected as the particular exponent of second-handism, who should "buck" the law, a determined fight having been decided upon by his co-dealers. Sears according to programme refused to pay his $5, and was arrested and haled into court.

At this critical juncture the celebrated Braun test case was decided in favor of the city by the Supreme Court of the State, and Sears was left without a leg to stand on. His only course was to knuckle under. This he did, Judge Austin imposing a fine of $10, which was paid.

Pending the outcome of the Sears case some of the second-hand dealers—among them Russian Jews, Poles, Austrians, Japs, negroes and individuals of nativity too composite to be classified—had paid their monthly tax, others had partially paid, some had not paid at all. The city set about the hard task of collecting delinquent taxes and enforcing current payments, and met with varied success. Recently the ordinance was amended to make the second-hand dealers liable for $2 a month, payable quarterly in advance, instead of $5 a month. A considerable number of them are still badly in arrears, though some have been turning over $5 or $10 a month to get square.

The $6 for the last quarter of the present year is now past due, and being gathered in as fast as the collectors can make the rounds. The East First street contingent has not yet been hit, but is expecting a visit from the bogey man any day.

The particular cause of grief—and in the eyes of the Quarter there was general cause enough without it—is Margolis. His neighborg believe he has made a special arrangement with the pink-whiskered czar of City Hall that relieves Mrs. Margolis—who runs the business—of paying any license at all, and this is the thorn in their flesh.

They are, except in the privacy of their own class, an uncommunicative, suspicious lot, little given to telling strangers their woes. But enough of the present difficulty has transpired to reveal the dissatisfaction that exists.

One bearded, shaggy-browed son of barter paused long enough in his sorting of rusted riff-raff to mumble, with frequent shakings of a bony forefinger and bowings of his tumbled-down form:

"Id iss politics! Ha! Campaign soon! Vodes! Margolis helb feez up Independend Po-leedigal Club! Very busy! Sixty Jews belong! Ha! Margolis say all vode for Snyder! Yah! Snyder tell Lisense man 'I gif you piece paper—go! After thad you not make Margolis' wive pay lisense.' Ha! Snyder fool! Margolis nod make one vode for Snyder—Margolis nod pay addendion by Yiddish! Just nudings, thad Margolis! Yah!" With an all-expressive, earth-embracing gesture of shrugged shoulders and out-turned palms, the old Jew went back to his rubbish.

The license books at the City Hall show that out of a total of $30 assessed against the Margolis shop since the license law went into effect, only $20 has been paid. The last payment, one of $5, was made by Margolis last June, and applied on arrearages of the year previous.

At Margolis's shop it was admitted that "Mayor give order to Lisense man med collekt lisense any more this place."

Councilman Skilling recently was apprised, by a deputy in the Tax and License Department, that the Mayor had issued an order freeing Margolis from the odious tax.

Evidently it "iss gread thing be chanber member Independend Po-leedigal Club, try vodes for Snyder." And, also evidently, it doesn't matter in the least that one Stutz, Yiddish president of the club, had not been a resident of the city thirty days when requisitioned to that high office by Margolis.

Meantime, bitter is the wrath that slumbers in the heart of the second-hand colony, where the wife of Margolis, the Jew, keeps shop.

CARS COLLIDE.

A city-bound Boyle Heights car of the Interurban Company collided with a Los Angeles Railway Company car at Fourth and Euclid streets about 9 o'clock last night, smashing the windows of both cars. Only a few passengers were on the cars, and all escaped serious injury though several GAVE TO HIS RIVAL HIS WIFE AND FARM.

CHARLES DALER has been enjoying himself at other people's expense, but time was called on him last night, when he was placed under arrest by Deputy Constable Adams for making a savage assault upon an old man named R. Dunning. Behind the assault lies the story of Daler's nerve, which carried him a long way, and might still have maintained him in comfort had he kept his hands quiet.

When Daler arrived in the city some months ago he got work with John Amend, who runs a hog ranch at Magnolia street and Vernon avenue—the district known as Fruitland. He proved to be a handy man and was especially valuable to Mrs. Amend. He wiped the dishes for her, cut the wood and brought the water, and in a hundred different ways danced attendance upon her. She was loud in his praise and thought Daler was about the finest specimen of a laborer they had ever had about the place.

Amend didn't say much, but did a good deal of thinking.

Matters went on thus for awhile longer and then Amend called a halt. He knew how things had been going, and realized that his hired man had ousted him from the affections of his wife. He told them both that he was going away and wouldn't return so long as his wife was content to have Daler remain. She was not only willing, but was insistent that he should remain, and so Amend turned his back upon his own home and left his rival in possession of his wife and his ranch. To still further illustrate the generosity of $500 with his wife, when he bled himself away.

Within a week or two, and just as Daler and Mrs. Amend were getting accustomed to the new conditions, the house burned down over their heads. There was a hue and cry that the fire was of incendiary origin, but that died away and one of the children was credited with having been the author of the blaze through his fondness for matches. Mrs. Amend and Daler began housekeeping in a tent, and a few days ago Amend sent Dunning around to the ranch to take out some hedging that he wished removed, for he still kept tab on how things were going.

Dunning is the stepfather of Mrs. Amend and he presumed himself a welcome visitor at the ranch just the same as of old. But his stepdaughter run him off the place and treated him to a good rating. Last Friday night, it is alleged, Dunning drove over again, and when close to the ranch met Daler and Mrs. Amend driving down the road. With them was a rough-looking man who had been working for them. As soon as Daler saw Dunning he stopped his horse, jumped to the ground and attempted to climb into Dunning's buggy while making a rabid attack upon the old man with a piece of rubber hose loaded with a stout sapling. Dunning was so badly beaten that he has been confined to his bed ever since, and his wife yesterday swore to a complaint against Daler, charging him with assault with a deadly weapon.

When arrested last evening Daler denied all the charges in the complaint and declared that he did not lay eyes on Dunning on the night the assault is alleged to have occurred. He was released on bail. Mrs. Amend going on

THE PUBLIC SERVICE—OFFICIAL DOINGS.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

City Chemist Day yesterday submitted for the approval of the Board of Health the draft of a new pure-food ordinance.

Municipal organizations requested by Street Superintendent Werdin to take part in an investigation of the books of his department are not inclined to interfere in what they regard as a scrap between Werdin and the Municipal League.

The Civil Service Commission will this morning try an employé of the street department for alleged "pernicious activity" in a recent election.

The alleged nuncupative will of D. G. Gregg was refused probate by Judge Wilbur yesterday.

A junk dealer was arraigned yesterday for having threatened to kill an officer.

Harry Lennon was arrested for blacking newsboys' faces.

AT THE CITY HALL.

NEW PURE FOOD ORDINANCE.

PRESERVALINE AND SACCHARINE TO BE TABOOED.

Health Commission Shies at Draft of Ordinance Affecting Meat, Milk, Baking Powder and, Possibly, Beer. Campaign Against Adulterants Begun.

City Chemist Day yesterday dropped a suspicious looking package on the committee table during a meeting of the Board of Health. It proved to be a high explosive, the chief ingredient of which was the draft of a new pure-food ordinance.

Any legislation affecting foodstuffs and drinks is viewed in the light of a live wire, especially about election time. It is a political axiom that reference to alum in baking powder or saccharine in beer is good for a fat campaign contribution.

Here are two seemingly innocent clauses in the proposed ordinance that may or may not have influenced the health commissioners to decline to pass upon it until they had given it a careful examination:

"Baking power, sold, offered for sale, etc., must bear the commercial English name of the acid salt used in its manufacture."

"Every person who keeps or offers for sale any article of food or drink for man labeled or branded so as to deceive or mislead, or tend to deceive or mislead the purchaser, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor."

Aluminum phosphate is the acid salt used in the manufacture of all alum baking powders; its commercial English name is alum.

The State law forbids the sale of adulterated foods without placing on each package the name of the adulterant used. Within the last two months a bottle of beer from each of the local breweries has been sent to a Chicago chemist to be tested for the presence of saccharine. It has been a common report about the City Hall that this was done to confirm the result of a test made by City Chemist Day.

Other provisions in the proposed ordinance relate chiefly to the use of preservaline in bulk and meat, and to the sale of adulterated articles of food as pure foodstuffs. It provides that "no vinegar shall be sold as apple cider vinegar that is not a legitimate product of pure apple juice.

"Extract of lemon shall contain 5 per cent of the oil of lemon.

"The addition of any coloring matter whatsoever to vinegar is prohibited.

"Any person who keeps or offers for sale any kind of meat or fish to which any kind of chemical or preservative has been added to preserve the same to be eaten is guilty of a misdemeanor; provided that nothing in this shall be construed to prevent the use of such so-called household preservatives as salt, vinegar, smoke, etc."

The commissioners approached the proposed ordinance gingerly; they thought that it should be given a careful consideration; some parts might be construed to mean things that were not intended. Finally the clerk of the commission was instructed to furnish a copy of the proposed ordinance to each member of the board. They could take these copies and study them at their leisure, then at a future meeting they could compare notes. They could embody these suggestions in an ordinance which, when approved by the City Attorney as to form, might be recommended to the Council for adoption. But most of all there must be deliberation.

After the meeting a commissioner admitted that the leading provision of the proposed ordinance had not been presented at the open board meeting. "The City Chemist has special instructions to make tests of the wines, beers and other liquors offered here for sale," he said. "His report will be taken as the basis for an ordinance affecting them."

A year ago the Health Officer attempted to convict a local grocer of violation of the State pure food law. His alleged offense consisted in offering for sale baking powder containing alum. The baking powder company won the case by showing that baking powder is not a food. The intent of the City Chemist's proposed ordinance is to compel alum companies to stipulate in the label on their powders, "This baking powder contains alum."

BACTERIOLOGIST.

The board devoted considerable discussion to a demand from the City Bacteriologist for $240 for overtime in her department. Commissioner Johnson objected to passing the demand, for the reason that it did not itemize the dates when the work was performed and the occasions that necessitated work being done outside of regular hours.

Health Officer Powers said that Dr. Leonard had worked outside of the hours for which she was regularly paid, at his direction, and that the money was due. The board finally instructed him to present the demand at the next meeting, together with an itemized statement of dates and hours. Dr. Leonard's contract with the city calls for but four hours' work daily. The Council has made repeated attempts to secure her for longer hours at an increase in pay, but the Health Board will not stand for that unless a corresponding increase is allowed to other members of the health department.

School Nurse Miss Ella Thornton presented a report of the work done during the first three weeks that she has been in the employ of the city. During that time she has treated 106 children in the schools, and has visited a number of pupils at their homes.

WANTS FAIR PLAY.

COMMITTEE MISCELLANY.

C. F. Stamps yesterday afternoon told the Board of Public Works that the city took a mean advantage of him when it built the Third-street tunnel. He said that it was for the Council to help right the wrong.

"I own a corner lot right at the northwest entrance to the Third-street tunnel," said Mr. Stamps. "I paid the city $716 when Third street was improved, and the city reciprocated by building a wall thirty-five feet high between my property and the street. Now I ask only that the Council grant me permission to cut a hole through the wall to gain an entrance to my property. To do that would be only fair play."

Chairman Nofziger, who, in the absence of the other two members, constituted the whole Board of Public Works, said that the damage inflicted by the big wall was probably adjusted when the tunnel was built. He said that the people living in the vicinity of the tunnel objected to having the walls pierced. "If I were to be forced to act now," said Nofziger, "I should send your petition to the Council without recommendation." Mr. Stamps then asked that action be deferred until McAleer returns from the East, and to this Nofziger readily consented.

Granting a petition from property owners living on Hope street south of Thirty-eighth street, Nofziger instructed the City Engineer to draw up an assessment district for the opening of Hope street across the Southern Pacific Railway tracks, between Thirty-sixth and Thirty-eighth streets.

Recommendation was made to the Council that a petition asking that Figueroa street be opened and improved from Fortieth street to the southern city limits be granted.

Petitions from property owners on Figueroa and Adams streets, asking that Figueroa street from Adams to Jefferson and Adams from Main to Hoover be included in the new conduit district, were referred back to the Council with favorable recommendation.

REFORESTATION.

PLANS FOR GRIFFITH PARK.

Deputy G. B. Lull of the United States Bureau of Forestry has completed his investigations in Griffith Park and will this morning leave for Washington, D. C., to submit his report to the Forestry Department.

Mr. Lull yesterday afternoon said that he had completed the classification of Griffith Park, dividing the surface into seven types. "I have carefully examined the soil and climatic conditions of each of those types," said Mr. Lull, "and I have selected seven kinds of trees which should flourish well there, one for each type. The trees which my report recommend are green ash, incense cedar, live oak, Coulter pine, Knod cone pine, maritime pine and sequoia.

"It will take at least 1,000,000 trees to plant the park. The government will probably aid in the work. In order to care for the plants before they are hardy enough to be placed on the mountain slopes it will be necessary to establish large nurseries. The seedlings should be a year and a half old before they are planted in the open. Then if they are planted during the rainy season they should thrive with but little care."

CIVIL SERVICE.

Witnesses furnished by the Municipal League will this morning tell at a special meeting of the Civil Service Commission what they know about the "pernicious activity" displayed by certain city employés in the special election recently held in the Sixth Ward. This will be the first case of the kind to be tried before the Civil Service Commission. The City Attorney's office will conduct the case.

Will Not Interfere.

The municipal organizations which Street Superintendent Werdin has asked to take a part in an investigation of the books of his office, to either prove or disprove the charges of "extravagance" and "mismanagement" preferred by the Municipal League, do not take kindly to the suggestion.

Acting Secretary Gurley of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon said:

"As far as the Chamber of Commerce is concerned. I am sure that if the matter were brought officially before the board of directors, the board would refer the matter to the Municipal League, as that is the proper organization to look into such affairs. It does not come within the province of the chamber to take part in such investigations."

Gregory Perkins, secretary of the Board of Trade, expressed the opinion that the Municipal League should take up Werdin's suggestion and make a thorough examination of the accounts of the Street Superintendent's office. He said that such an investigation did not come within the province of the Board of Trade.

F. J. Zeehandelaar, secretary of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, was inclined to view Werdin's request in the light of a political bluff. He thought that Werdin should have made his request months ago, instead of waiting until two weeks before election.

C. D. Willard, secretary of the Municipal League, sought to be facetious. He regarded Werdin's act in the nature of deathbed repentance. He said that Werdin, labored under a misapprehension that the Municipal League had not accused him of dishonesty, and that the league would not permit its charges to be disproved by a showing that the department's book-keeping had been accurate.

Werdin's friends last night expressed gratification at the outcome of the Street Superintendent's challenge. They said that it had forced the secretary of the Municipal League to admit that the league could not show that Werdin had been dishonest in the conduct of the affairs of the department. They thought that the confession wrested from the league's secretary that he knew of no irregularities in the conduct of the office, and that the league would not abide by the result of an investigation of the books, was a vindication of the Street Superintendent.

WEEPING WIFE GETS DECREE.

SAYS AFTER THE BABY DIED HUSBAND DESERTED.

According to Her Account He Insisted Against Her Protest on a Trip Through the Hills With the Little One, Which Grew Ill and Died on the Journey.

In pitiful accents Mrs. E. M. Jenkins yesterday told the story of the wreck of her home by the desertion of her husband, Richard L. Jenkins, who occupied the position of shipping clerk with a large mercantile house in this city.

"No, no," said this young wife in answer to an inquiry of Judge Allen, "I was never jealous of him and I don't think that he was ever jealous of me; he just got tired of men, that all."

That was all.

And after hearing the detailed story of her wrong the court was nonplused.

"I can't understand it," said the judge. "No jealousies, no recriminations, a peaceful home, and a man just getting tired of his wife!"

Mrs. Jenkins was married in 1901 and in August, 1902, was deserted under most curious circumstances. In the summer of that year her husband planned a camping trip and at the last minute wanted his wife to go along. But she feared for her baby and did not think that the discomforts of such journeying would be good for the little one. The husband was insistent and she went. The first day out they camped just over the range at Newhall.

Next morning the child appeared to be suffering from fever and father and mother took it to the only medical man at Newhall. He prescribed and said that there was nothing seriously the matter, but nevertheless after half a day's travel the father consented to return to Los Angeles.

On the way back to the city Jenkins met a chum, also a shipping clerk, who was going into the hills for his holiday, and it was urged that Jenkins should go along. And he did so, and made his wife go also, carrying their ailing child. The little one had not brightened after the first attack, and, in a miserable shanty up in the hills, it died.

Upon returning to the city Jenkins acted strangely. His wife thought that he was overcome by the loss of their baby, and said nothing. A day or two later he opened his heart to her. Calling her into the front room of their home he shut the windows and door, as if he desired the utmost privacy, and then began.

"I've got an agreement to make with you," he said.

The wife was all interested attention.

"I'm going to quit this position," he said.

The wife thought he referred to his position in a business house, and inquired the reason for his sudden determination.

"No, I don't mean that," he said. "I mean that I'm going to leave you. I'm tired of it, and I'm going to clear out."

Then the wife pleaded with her husband and wanted to know the cause of her offending. She was merely told that he was tired of her and wasn't going to stand the monotony of the responsibility any longer. As for her she could get some kind of work to do to maintain herself.

Then, having given his ultimatum, Jenkins set about packing his trunk, intending to depart that same night. His wife appealed to him if he had any heart or the slightest sympathy for her to wait a little and not overwhelm her all at once in that way. The husband deigned to comply so far as to postpone his departure until the next day. And then he left.

"About a year after we were first married," said Mrs. Jenkins, "my husband took me to a little roughly-built shack away out on Bonnie Brae street. It was very high up and he had built it roughly, so that when it rained the rain came in at several places. My baby was born eleven months after our marriage and was small and tiny then. When it rained I had to wrap it up and hold it in my arms as I tried in turn to find a dry spot where I could shelter it."

These statements were corroborated by witnesses until Judge Allen exclaimed: "Yes, yes, take your decree; he is entitled to no consideration whatever if this story is true, and I believe that it is."

And Mrs. Jenkins passed out of court with moistened eyes to begin life all over again.

NUNCUPATIVE WILL KNOCKED.

GREGG'S ESTATE OPEN.

Another twist was given yesterday to the romantic history of the life—and death—of D. G. Gregg, who died some time ago at the Emergency Hospital from the effects of an accident while working at a factory in the city. The elevator descended and crushed him so severely that scarcely a bone was left whole in his body.

Just before he died Gregg sent for C. B. Williams, who runs a collecting agency and whom he had known, as through him he had taken out a policy of insurance, and asked him to see that he was buried properly and look after his business affairs. Williams followed the instructions of Gregg according to his own idea of the fitness of things, and went into the Probate Court, asking probate on a nuncupative will, alleged to have been made by Gregg when near death. As a matter of fact, the estate consists almost entirely of the amount of the insurance.

The claim of Williams was combatted in court, and the evidence of the physicians in attendance at the Emergency Hospital, and also that of the nurse, was to the effect that Gregg had never mentioned the word "will" at all, and had merely asked Williams to look after his business affairs.

Judge Wilbur took the matter under consideration and yesterday probate was denied to this alleged "spoken" will. The estate will now be administered upon in the ordinary way.

Gregg was a young fellow from Virginia, who volunteered in the Spanish War and later went to the Philippines with his regiment. He was discharged at San Francisco with a good record, and came to Los Angeles to live. He embarked in the dairy business with the small amount of money he had, and in time fell in love with a girl who lived with her parents not far from the shore end of the Port Los Angeles wharf.

On the night of August 1 of last year he started to walk from Santa Monica to the wharf, and that night his visit to his fiancé was of special importance. He was taking to her his accumulated savings to keep for him, for with this nest egg they were soon to be married. The girl had for a time demurred to keeping so much money for him, and several letters had been exchanged upon the subject, and the matter had been discussed when they met. But finally the girl consented, and Gregg was taking $704.50 to her. Shortly before this he had hurt one arm and he carried it in a sling.

Suddenly from behind a clump of trees three men sprang upon him. He hadn't the ghost of a show even if he had not a crippled arm. The robbers got all his savings, and it appeared as if they must have had some knowledge of his errand for them to have timed their attack. Investigation later showed this to have been probably the case, for several letters to his fiancé had miscarried and were supposed to have fallen into the hands of some of the tough characters in the cañon.

That robbery broke Gregg up in business and he had to go to work for daily wages. Then followed the accident with the elevator, and the Virginia young man whose record was clean right through was laid away, and even the insurance on his life was made cause for contention.

PUPILS INCREASING.

PRESSURE IN COUNTY SCHOOLS.

County Superintendent of Schools Keppel has been much worried by complaints from trustees of county schools that the accommodations are quite inadequate for the new scholars seeking admission. The cry is general, but two specific cases were noted within the last day or two that show conclusively how rapidly population is increasing.

Mr. Keppel was invited to confer with the trustees of the Florence district. He found that the enrollment in this two-room school was sixty-eight in the primary room, divided into four grades. This teacher was so handicapped that it was impossible to obtain the best results. The other teacher had four grades, with thirty-seven children, while about thirty children were clamoring for admission and had to be refused.

The County Superintendent commiserated with the trustees and advised that the best thing to do would be to obtain another teacher. A roughly-built room is being added to the school and a new teacher has been engaged.

But at the adjacent school district, known as Tajauta, Mr. Keppel found seventy-three children in the primary room, there being four grades, and only one teacher. That was a much worse state of things than at Florence. In the grammar room there were thirty-seven pupils, in charge of one teacher. Here also it was found that between thirty and forty children are awaiting the chance to be admitted to the school. The trustees are unable to build an addition or even rent an additional room, and have done the best they could by having morning and afternoon sessions of school.

ENID'S CHOICE CONFIRMED.

P. E. LACEY HER GUARDIAN.

Sixteen-year-old Enid Gault is to have her way and she is absolved from alliance to her mother by the court. Judge Wilbur yesterday granted her petition that Friend B. Lacey be appointed as her guardian.

But the court in saying that the charge of cruel treatment had not been made out, and that the mother had provided generously for her daughter, holds that the charge against Mrs. Gault of having stolen the broken watch and several small articles was sustained.

Enid Gault and her sweetheart, Walter S. Bowers, have won their fight against Mrs. Hattie P. Gault, and just how far apart the new guardian may deem it proper to keep them can only be surmised.

DOWNEY SCHOOL BONDS.

NEW RIVER PEOPLE'S RELEASE.

Since the second election for Union High School bonds failed the Downey people have experienced a change of heart. A new plan to carry the High School scheme is proposed, and will without doubt be successful. It would have carried before, and much time and money would have been saved, but it means the downfall of the ambitious plans first projected.

Of the five school districts in the High School district the little New River contingent are masters of the situation. The latter have contended from the first that they are nearer to Norwalk than they are to Downey; that the roads to Norwalk are good, while the roads to Downey are bad; that the business interests of the community generally are with Norwalk and not with Downey, and for all these and other reasons the New River people have sat up nights keeping their hammers busy, so that they could effectively knock the $30,000 bond issue for the Union High School for which they would be taxed, but which, they maintained, would be of little benefit to them.

At the recent election the bonds were defeated by only 5 votes. In the first election the Downey faction was shy 7 votes.

The Downey and other districts concerned have come to the conclusion that it will be well to let the discontented district get out and go over to the opposition—the Norwalk or Excelsior Union High School district. But this will mean a reduction in the amount of bonds to be issued in proportion to the assessed vaulation of the New River district, and that is where the shoe pinches. The plan for a fine, big High School at Downey will have to be modified.

BRIEF WEDDED HAPPINESS.

WIFE SAYS SHE'S DESERTED.

Mrs. Elizabeth Conley is suing her husband for support. He married her in Pasadena last January and on the first of September left her. The wife states as a matter of additional grievance that her husband promised when he married her that he would take her two children by a previous marriage into the family and treat them as his own. These children are a boy and girl, aged 16 and 13, respectively, and during the brief period during which Conley stayed with his wife the latter avers that her children also were members of the household.

Now she asks the court to order her husband to pay her $50 a month as permanent alimony, and a sufficient amount to prosecute the case in court.

Mrs. Conley says that her husband is a painter and makes good wages, and furthermore has a $2000 interest in some Los Angeles property.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

THE CITY WINS. G. W. Jones, lessee under the Angel's Flight Incline Railway, has failed to restrain the city from removing the buildings which he erected and dubbed the "Angel's Rest." In bringing suit he sought to enjoin the city from taking action, but Judge York yesterday refused to grant the injunction.

TOOK HIS CHOICE. John D. German forsook his wife and home because his wife got tired of his drinking habits. She told Judge York yesterday that she told him that he could make his choice between liquor and his family. Instanter German said he'd take the liquor for his, and he at once quit the city and has lived at Capistrano since. He is a blacksmith by trade and a good one, but a devotee to the whisky bottle, according to the testimony offered. In applying for divorce, however, the evidence was not wholly conclusive and the court took the matter under advisement.

LUMBER COMPANY. The Pomona Lumber Company has incorporated with a capital stock of $25,000, fully subscribed. The directors are: A. B. and N. J. Snow of Pomona, G. Hanna, F. B. Crosier and F. I. Morgan of Los Angeles.

NEW SAVINGS BANK. The Mercantile Trust and Saving Bank has incorporated with a capital stock of $300,000, fully subscribed. The directors are: F. M. Douglass, Hollywood; I. B. Newton, W. Jarvis Barlow, E. Strasburg and J. H. Shankland of Los Angeles.

BOLDEN ACQUITTED. Robert Bolden was brought to trial yesterday before Judge Smith on the charge of having been concerned with J. B. Duncan in "rolling" a drunken man named William T. Jackson, and taken from him $6.70. Jackson disappeared shortly after the robbery, and the jury yesterday acquitted Bolden.

FELLOWS DIVORCE. Mrs. Marion H. Fellows was yesterday granted a decree by Judge Allen divorcing her from Harry E. Fellows, on the ground of habitual intemperance. The parties were married in March, 1901, the wife not then knowing that her husband had already taken a liquor cure. Shortly after the marriage he relapsed and degenerated into a common drunkard, and the wife returned to her family in this city.

THE INFERIOR COURTS.

"I'LL RIP YOU WIDE OPEN."

GENIAL JUNK DEALER MADE THE THREAT.

Arraigned Yesterday for Direful and Savage Remarks to Deputy Constable Cohn Who Wanted to Investigate His License — Other Police Court Items.

"If you pinch me, I'll rip you wide open with this knife," was the genial remark made by John A. Jenkins, a junk dealer, to Deputy Constable Cohn.

Whereupon Mr. Jenkins is answering to Justice Austin for the crime of assault.

Jenkins was stopped on the street by the constable, who demanded to see his license.

Jenkins pulled out a knife, and made this treat. The junk man was arraigned yesterday, and will be tried today.

Harry Lennon, who finds an eccentric joy in putting lamp black on the faces of newsboys, was arraigned before Justice Austin yesterday for battery.

Lennon runs a tobacco shop on First street. In the presence of numbers of people passing, Lennon suddenly rushed into the street, grabbed a newsboy and disappeared, holding his hand over the boy's mouth to smother his yells. Presently, the boy came running out as black as a negro. When a bystander made some comment, Harry Lennon swore at the crowd.

SMALL TROUBLES.

E. H. Crowley, who hit a man whom he took to be a walking delegate, was let off with a fine of $5.

Norman Kribbs and William Zeltler, the sewing machine agents who stormed the house of Mrs. Barbara Miller to recover a machine, were fined $25 and $30, respectively, by Justice Austin.

Lillie Avis, who in her cups abused her neighbor, was fined $5 in Justice Austin's court yesterday.

Vincente Salcido, an old Mexican over 80 years, was examined yesterday on a charge of criminal assault upon his young granddaughter. He was discharged after Justice Chambers heard the testimony. It is claimed to have been a conspiracy against the old man.

Herford Accepts Britt's Terms in Gans's Behalf.

Matter Will Probably Reach a Conclusion Today.

Attack on Automobile Races. Los Angeles Loses.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] All that remains to clinch a match between Gans and Britt is for the two fighters, or their managers, to affix their signatures to the articles.

"The terms proposed by Britt are acceptable," said Herford tonight. "I am ready to sign the articles."

When it is considered that Britt asked 75 per cent, if he won and 50 per cent, if he lost, it will be seen that Herford, who is always a calculating matchmaker, is very desirous that the fight take place. So, instead of the matter being "up to" Herford, it is now "up to" Britt and his manager, and they are in a position where they must act.

Willie Britt was sick last night, and could not keep his agreement to meet Herford, but sent word that he would be there to clinch matters Saturday.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 7.—"Philadelphia Jack" O'Brien was awarded the decision over Tommy Burns (Brusso) of New York in a six-round bout tonight. The fighting was somewhat tame, O'Brien having the better of his man in every round, with the exception of the fourth, in which honors were about even. There were no knockdowns.

JACK WILLIAMS BEATS CARTER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NO BOXING IN CHICAGO.

MAYOR'S FOOT IS DOWN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Boxers and promoters of boxing shows were thrown into a state of panic today by the announcement from the City Hall that Mayor Harrison would refuse to issue any boxing permits this winter, other than to the Chicago Athletic Association. The announcement was said to come directly from the Mayor, who was reported to be thoroughly set in his own mind that the most earnest protests of boxing promoters, who had gone to great expense to prepare for the opening of the game this winter, had failed to move him.

"There will be no boxing in Chicago this winter," the Mayor declared. "That is final. I have made up my mind, and I will not change it. I don't care who comes to me for a permit; none will be issued."

VANDERBILT'S AUTO RACE.

COURT MAY ISSUE INJUNCTION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Judge Wilmot Smith of the Supreme Court, sitting in Nassau, has granted an order to show cause why an injunction should not be issued against the Automobile Association of America, and the Board of Supervisors of Nassau county, assisted by W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., from granting the order was announced. It is expected to the race promoters. It is believed that after the hearing before the Nassau County Courthouse at Mineola last Tuesday, they had effected a disposal of all opposition. The petition for the order was presented by Attorney Secretary Bennett of the Long Island Protective Association of Nassau county.

Judge Smith said he had granted the order and made it returnable today, so that both sides might be argued and the matter settled previous to the time set for holding the contest. He said that so far as the Board of Supervisors was concerned, in giving the privileges of the race, they had legally acted upon the law enacted last year for the novation of allowing cycle races upon the highways. The constitutionality of this act was affirmed by Secretary Bennett.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Judge Wilmot Smith of the Supreme Court, sitting in Mineola, has granted an order to show cause why an injunction should not be issued against the Automobile Club of America and the Board of Governors of Nassau county, annulling the privilege to hold motor-car races on the roads of Nassau county. The order was served on President Herbert L. Satterlee of the association, commanding him to appear. Should an injunction be issued, it will interfere with the 300-mile race tomorrow for the cup offered by W. K. MONTE CARLO.

CANFIELD'S NEW "HELL."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW ORLEANS (La.) Oct. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] News was brought to this city by steamer Excelsior from Nassau that Richard Canfield had perfected his plans for a gambling hell at Monte Carlo at one of the fashionable resort towns near that city. The Bahaman government has practically granted him of its consent to the venture.

The magnificent modern hotel, embodying the very latest ideas in construction, is to be built and operated in connection with the proposed gambling hell. The hotel will be used as a blind, as Canfield intends to offer such inducements for Americans to spend the winter months in Cuba. It will be conducted on the same basis as the Monte Carlo houses are run, and persons looking for a big game will have all they want in the Cuban establishment.

CHICK WRIGHT COMING.

Chick Wright, the well-known billiardist of San Francisco, will come here the latter part of this month to play a number of exhibition games of three cushions and balk line at Morley's room on South Main street. Wright is one of the best class A players in the United States, and a number of sports in this city who say they know, declare that he can doubtless defeat the big majority of players in the East at balk line.

Arthur Seymour, who electrified local billiardists with a run of forty in forty innings at three cushions some months ago, has accepted a position in Morley's room on Main street. For many months he has been connected with Henry Berry's Hoffman rooms on South Spring street. He is one of the best billiard and pool players in this city.

Ascot Jump Courses.

In answer to an inquiry it is stated that the full steeplechase course to be built at Ascot Park for the winter's racing will be about two and one-half miles in length. It will begin behind the judges' stand and extend north towards the water tank. At the fence it will turn to the left and after circling around the inner field, the steeplechasers will come out on the main track near the five-furlong pole and will finish through the stretch of the main track. There will be about fifteen jumps, five feet high and two feet across the top.

The "short course" will be a mile and three-quarters long, principally through the inner field, with the last five-eighths on the main track. There will be about nine jumps.

SHOOTERS TO GET BUSY NOW.

BLUEROCK TOURNAMENT OPENS TODAY AT GROUNDS.

San Diego Trigger Knights Are First to Put in Their Appearance. Ecker Brings His Pipe and it Draws Well—The Day's Programme—High Average.

Trap shooters, like ducks, "came in on the rain" yesterday and a gathering of the clans took place in the afternoon at the various gun stores and sporting centers. Quite a number dropped in on night trains and several are to materialize by morning conveyances.

Frank S. Ecker, Charlie Julian and J. M. Kolb the first two of San Diego, the last of Oceanside, were among the first to appear. Ecker brought his pipe with him as usual and it drew freely all day. On an evening train, Ed Fano put in an appearance. Fano and Julian are accompanied by their wives who enjoy the trip quite as much as their gun-cracked husbands. The first thing Kolb did after shaking the train dust off his feet was to beat Joe Singer in a gun trade.

Shooting begins at 9 o'clock this morning and the grounds will be in grand shape, thanks to the dust-laying rain of yesterday. About 150 birds are programmed today and the same are to be shot off tomorrow. As the shoot is a handicap affair, the committee did not see fit to hang up any average prize, though this seems a rather unusual departure from the custom. High average is generally what shooters are most anxious to win in a tournament.

E. E. Drake of San Francisco with a pocket full of U.M.C. ammunition blew in jauntily yesterday morning and will be a contestant throughout the tournament. Little Willie Seaver may put in an appearance this morning from the benighted burg up coast, plus the usual pumpgun.

Guy Loveiace and Ed Vaughen took a flying trip to the grounds yesterday to try traps and apply finishing touches. Practically all the old guard will toe the mark this morning—Van Valkenburg, Bruner, Maifield, Terry Mayo, and even—can it be possible?—Jim Menasco. The local gunners have promised to turn out for a change and a good shoot is generally expected.

Those who go, need only take their guns. Shells, refreshments and other conveniences or necessities can be had on the grounds in great plenty. Shooters handicapped on past performances, distances ranging back from fourteen to twenty yards; money out; Chick system, three divisions, are the conditions. There is added money in every event.

CENTURY CLUB NOT DEAD YET.

BOXING PROMOTERS TO BUILD OUTSIDE THE CITY.

Will Erect Spacious and Solid Amphitheater Across the Limits and Continue Pulling Off Semi-monthly Shows—Location Picked. Money to be Spent Freely.

A fine new boxing pavilion to cost with its grounds in the neighborhood of $10,000 will be erected by the Century Athletic Club just outside the city limits upon property which the directors and Manager McCarey have had in mind for nearly a year—in fact ever since boxing was closed by the butting-in of the Coliseum people west of the tunnel. The location is reached by one of the Huntington broad gauge electric lines, can be touched by railroad train and is accessible by the street cars, the means of communication being almost as ample as those which connect Ascot Park with the city. The site is in another section than the new race track, however.

The leasing of Hazard's Pavilion for church purposes will not affect the coming contest between Johnson and Martin which is set for October 18. The pavilion has been engaged already for this date, but the big colored heavies will probably be the last pair of boxers who fill the old hall of pleasant memories. Future shows will be held in the new pavilion which is to be rushed through to completion as rapidly as possible.

A large enclosed structure covering four ordinarily sized city lots is contemplated. It will be roofed over and bleacher seats erected inside sloping back from the ring. All possible arrangements for comfort and safety will be studied out in the plans, and it is thought the house will cost in the neighborhood of $7000. It is to be large enough to hold any crowd that is likely to see a fight in this city. A lot will be bought on each side of it to afford plenty of elbow room.

Tom McCarey, manager of the Century Athletic Club said last night:

"I think the action of the church people in securing Hazard's Pavilion will be of mutual advantage. I suppose the Century Club would never have moved until forced to, though its business has long since outgrown the pavilion. This was shown in the last fight, and I am firmly convinced it will be the best for us to go outside. We have a location already picked out and there will be no trouble about the money necessary to build on it. There will be no cessation in our boxing bouts as I expect to have the new auditorium ready for business in six weeks. Two fights a month will be pulled off, and the game will be run in the future on the same lines as in the past."

McCarey yesterday arranged two preliminaries for the Johnson-Martin fight, both of ten rounds. The first will be between Frank Fields and Andy Connolly of Philadelphia, a boy who is well spoken of by those who have seen him go. Kid Chambers of Philadelphia and either Kid Solomon or Johnny Murray will make the other bout.

TODAY'S FOOTBALL.

GAMES SCHEDULED.

Three big games are scheduled for the three local football fields today. At Fiesta Park, this afternoon, Los Angeles High and Occidental play. At Prager Park, St. Vincent's hooks up with the Orange Athletic Club. At U.S.C. field, U.S.C. and Whittier College fight it out.

There are numerous smaller games as well.

STEWART, CAPTAIN.

S.V.C. TEAM IS FIT.

Emory Stewart, right guard of the Orangemen, was elected captain of the St. Vincent's College team yesterday afternoon. Coach Haggerty had his men out for hard practice, and all seem to be in good shape. The Orange Athletic Club is reputed to have a heavy team this season, and a good game is expected by the S.V.C. supporters.

STANFORD AND INDIANS.

FORMER'S TEAM IS STRONG.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Tomorrow afternoon, the varsity team will meet the Sherman Indians, who, a week ago, played the University of California eleven, and were defeated by the score of 6 to 0. The Stanford's line-up will not include all of the best men, because many of them are temporarily out of the game, as the result of sprains and other injuries, but the team will be strong enough to handle the men from the South.

Stott will handle the varsity team, Bansbach, the regular quarter, having a bad ankle. At center, the work of Shields will be watched with great interest. Shields has been shifted to that position from tackle, to take the place of Hyde, and he promises to develop into a first-class man. The full line-up of the varsity team will be as follows:

The training table for the varsity will start Monday with eighteen men.

TOM WILLIAM'S THEORY.

WILL TEST IT BY RACE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—To support his theory that it would be better for the thoroughbred racehorse if he were not trained or raced until at least 4 years old, Thomas H. Williams, president of the New California Jockey Club, has matched his 4-year old, H. F. Perley, against Sidney Paget's 2-year-old, Ralbert. Paget believes that thoroughbreds are not harmed by moderate early training.

A side bet of $2000 and ultimate ownership of both race horses, depend upon the 3-furlong spin, which will be run tomorrow morning at Morris Park. Williams and Paget will ride their own horses.

THE TWO HORSEMEN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Two horsemen will emerge from Morris Park paddock at noon tomorrow for a match race. The distance is to be three furlongs, for $2000 a side.

One is Thomas H. Williams, president and principal owner of the San Francisco race track, and the other is Sidney Paget, manager and part proprietor of the immense Haggin racing string. Williams, with riding equipment, tips the scales at 181 pounds, and his mount is the maiden four-year-old Frank L. Perley.

Paget will be unable to ride under 160 pounds, and his two-year-old Ralbert, which he has selected as his conveyance, without a doubt will know that he has been to the races by the time he is through. A vast amount of betting has been indulged in by the friends of each horseman, and fortunes hinge on the result.

PAN-AMERICAN RAILWAY.

Present Condition of the Line Planned to Extend from New York to Buenos Ayres.

[New York Sun:] There was printed in this place not long ago a statement of the conditoin of the projected railway from Cairo to Cape Town. The Sun has been asked to present a similar statement about the projected Pan-American line by which travelers may go from places in the United States to the southernmost points of South America.

The distance to be covered by the Pan-American is nearly twice that of the proposed Cape to Cairo line, and nearly twice that from St. Petersburg to Vladivostok by the Trans-Siberian. Here is a table of approximate distances.

	Miles.
New York to Buenos Ayres	10,470
Cape Town to Cairo	5,575
St. Petersburg to Vladivostok	5,552
Paris to Vladivostok	7,044

A traveler may now go by rail from New York to Mexico City, a distance of about 3750 miles, or more than one-third of the way to Buenos Ayres. From Mexico City a line is, or soon will be, open to Tonala, near the Guatemalan frontier, by which the traveler will be taken about 550 miles further southward. Here a break occurs of 172 miles to Ayutla, on the border, and thirty miles more to railhead in Guatemala. That State, with Salvador, Nicaragua and Costa Rica, would help the wanderer on his way with a total of some 250 miles of unconnected line, with an excellent opportunity for mule transit between railheads.

In fact, so little of the line is built from Tonala, in Mexico, to Jujuy, in Argentina, a distance of nearly 5000 miles, that the occasional stretches may almost be left out of consideration. The Central American States along the projected route, with the exception of Panama, contribute their little quota. Colombia has nothing along the way. Ecuador has about twenty-five miles, from the vicinity of Alausi and Guamote. Peru has the recently-built line of the American owned Cerro de Pasco Mining Company, from Cerro de Pasco to Oroya, eighty miles, and about 150 miles between Sicuani and Puno, where a steamer may be taken for the trip across and Lake Titicaca and connection made with a sixty-mile line to La Paz, in Bolivia. There the line breaks again to Oquru, where a narrow-gauge line can be taken to Uyuni, 195 miles.

The next break traversed, the traveler would reach Jujuy, where through connection can be made for Buenos Ayres, 1000 miles away. It is probable that in time a line will branch from Uyuni, or in that neighborhood, and follow down the west coast of Santiago, Chile, 1000 miles or so, and as far beyond that as traffic may make it desirable. About 2000 miles from Uyuni would take the line to Punta Arenas, on the Straits of Magellan. Those who wish to speculate on remoter possibilities may dream of the day when their descendants can take an all-rail journey from Cape Barrow, in 72 deg. N. lat. to Punta Arenas, in 53 deg. S. lat., or from Hudson Bay to within a few miles of Cape Horn.

Assuming the completion of the Pan-American Railway and the existence of a passenger with a mania for railway travel, he could go from New York to Buenos Ayres in about three weeks, barring accidents and detentions along the way. A twenty-knot steamer would take him there far more comfortably, and for about one-third the cost, in twelve days.

RAILROAD LUXURY.

More People Than Ever Enjoyed the Conveniences of Travel. Marvels of Comfort.

[New York Sun:] "I observed," said an infrequent traveler, "that more people than ever before, many more, now travel in parlor cars. There are plenty of people who ten or twenty years ago would never have thought of riding in any but a sit-up car, who now take, on a day journey, seats in a parlor car, and this not for its exclusiveness, but for its greater comfort.

"It is by no means the person of wealth alone who now travels in parlor cars. The man of moderate means, and, in fact, the man of very moderate means as well, lives now at home in greater comfort than ever before, and when he goes abroad he likes to travel in like or better manner. And if he is going on a journey of any distance by day he takes a seat in a parlor car and he takes to it very kindly and naturally and unostentatiously.

"And still the modern train of luxury is a wonder, and familiar as it may be we must admire it all the same, and most of all must we admire the train that combines within itself all the many modern features of luxury in travel; the train which, drawn by a tremendous engine that could, it would seem, haul a range of mountains if it could be placed on wheels, has ponderous sleeping cars, in which one may go to bed in comfort in one State to wake up hundreds of miles away in another; parlor cars from which one may look through broad-framed windows, as though a great picture frame, upon a great gallery of marvelous pictures constantly changing; a dining car in which one may dine as luxuriously as he would, while the train flies at fifty miles an hour past towns and villages and over streams and across the open country, and an observation car, whence one may see the earth itself shoot out behind him.

"Truly one of the wonders of the day is this train, a train that trackmen on the road still stop to gaze at, with pride and admiration, as it thunders by; a train that one may enjoy though his purse be not so very fat, but one whose luxuries could not have been commanded at any price a scant fifty years ago, when such trains were quite unknown, when everybody rode in sit-ups."

BUSINESS.

The belief existing in the Chicago wheat-pit yesterday that the present liberal rate of deliveries in the Northwest was likely to be for a month or more brought on a condition of weakness. December closed at 108 1-4@108 5-8 and May at 109@109 1-8. While the New York stock market was irregular, the expected break did not occur. The close, however, was weaker. Money rose above 2 per cent.

INVITING INSURRECTION.

The announcement is made that on tomorrow a mass meeting of Filipinos is to be held at the National Theater in Manila. As stated in the call for the meeting, its purpose is "to take definite action upon the popular desire, to-wit: the giving of our sincere support and sympathy to the American committee on Philippine independence in its efforts to attain the end we desire. It would be inexplicable, and even improper," the call continues, "for Filipinos to fold their arms and remain passive at a time when the very best elements of American society (sic) are working ardently in order that our native land may attain its ambition."

Several fiery orators are expected to address the meeting. One of these is Sandico, who was formerly a member of Aguinaldo's insurrectionary cabinet. In this capacity, in February, 1899, just at the outbreak of the insurrection, Sandico signed an order for the massacre of all Americans and other foreigners in Manila. This bloody scheme might have been carried out if it had not been discovered in time to frustrate it. The discovery was made in the very nick of time, and Maj.-Gen. E. S. Otis, then the American commander and Governor in the Philippines, immediately transmitted the necessary warning to his division and brigade commanders in the field, with the result that the bloody plot came to naught.

It is proper to say, here and now, that if another insurrection should be raised in the Philippines, it will be suppressed promptly and with a strong hand. There is practically no doubt that the Republican national ticket will be elected, and that the Republican administration will have the support of a Congress Republican in both branches. Thus, there will be no material change in the Philippine policy of our government. Filipinos who delude themselves with the idea that such a change is likely to take place, are making as great a mistake as are the supporters of Judge Parker in believing that their candidate will be elected.

"The very best elements of American society" are working ardently for the good of the Filipinos—but they do not believe that independence is the best thing for the Filipinos at the present time. They believe, on the other hand—and there are the strongest possible reasons for this belief—that no greater injury could be done to the Filipinos at this time than to withdraw American support from the islands and leave the inhabitants thereof to their own devices. Subject, as they have been for four centuries, to the wrongs of Spanish absolutism, they have only a vague conception of the meaning of self-government. To them government means the exercise of arbitrary power, not by the people, not by some person or persons representing the people, but by an irresponsible autocrat. It is the purpose of the Republican policy to educate the people of the islands to a knowledge of the blessings and benefits of self-government. This work must of necessity be gradual. The ignorance and oppression of four centuries of misrule cannot be righted nor nullified in a few short years.

The meeting to be held in Manila on Sunday evening is confessedly an outcome of the misrepresentations, the falsehoods and the appeals to passion, which the Democratic campaign managers are putting forth in the United States. They are not putting forth these pleas because they believe in their hearts that the Filipinos have been or are being treated unjustly. They are prompted solely by the selfish hope that thereby they may gain some votes for their cause—a hope which is sure to bring bitter disappointment to them in the end, because the great majority of the American people believe in the justice, right, and expediency of the policy which our government has thus far pursued toward the inhabitants of the Philippines.

In a few weeks the people will have an opportunity to express their opinion on the subject through the ballot box. It will then be made manifest beyond all doubt what "the very best elements of American society" think about the Democratic proposition.

The number of American Sandicos in the United States ought to be very small.

AN ELECTION IN GEORGIA.

In the State of Georgia, on October 5, an election for State and county officers, members of the Legislature, judges and solicitors, was held in every county in the State. The mere fact that an election was held in Georgia on the date mentioned contains nothing very startling nor very novel. But there was one feature of novelty in the Georgia election, nevertheless. This feature, as it must appear to the friends of and believers in popular government, is not merely novel but it is fraught with menace to the principle of "government of the people, by the people, and for the people."

The peculiarity of the Georgia election lies in the fact that it was virtually a one-party election. There was no opposition, worth mentioning, to the Democratic candidates. For most of the offices to be filled, according to a dispatch from Atlanta, the Republicans—of whom there must be a few, at least, in Georgia—made no nominations, knowing the futility of opposing the solid Democratic vote. In some of the other States of the South similar conditions prevail. The elections held are in no sense popular elections, but one-party elections, in which there is no real contest, the voters being all of one party, and the voting merely perfunctory.

This sort of thing is not a condition contemplated by the founders of our republic. It is not compatible with a republican form of government. It is undemocratic, undesirable, and it tends toward the destruction of free popular government.

Individual freedom of opinion and of action cannot well exist in a State or in a community where free discussion is not tolerated and encouraged. Free discussion is sure to bring out radical differences of opinion, and upon such differences party organizations are founded. Opposing parties are or benefit, because they tend to hold one another in check.

From a politico-strategic point of view, the solid South is a mistake on the part of those who make it a continued reality by their support. So long as there is a solid South, so long will there be a comparatively solid North—a North solid enough, at least, to make Republican supremacy almost an assurance. If our southern friends would relax their partisan zeal enough, at least, to permit fair and rational discussion of important issues, outside of the so-called race question, their party would have a better prospect of making headway in some of the Northern States which they cannot hope to carry so long as they are ready to pledge their electoral votes in advance even to a saffron canine if he be nominated on the Democratic national ticket.

The more practical politicians and citizens of the South ought to be able to perceive these palpable truths without the aid of magnifying glasses. They could probably do so if their eyes were not obscured by a question which they unwisely exalt into an overshadowing issue.

A WATSONIAN CRY.

Some of the friends of Thomas E. Watson, nominee of the People's party for President of the United States, gave a "dollar dinner" to Mr. Watson in New York on Wednesday. More than 500 members of the People's party were present at the feed. The opening part of Mr. Watson's speech is reported as follows by the Associated Press:

"Oh, if that pretense up at Esopus would only get out of my way; oh, if Judge Parker would only get out of my way, and give me the Democratic papers and give me the Jeffersonian speakers and give me the noble army that followed Bryan in '96; if he would give me all these, I would show the Republican party and Theodore Roosevelt the great militant Democratic party from sea to sea.

"I would dare to accept his challenge. I might not whip him, but he would know he had a fight. I am a fighter. July 4 was not worth even a newspaper item, but now they are fighting me with newspaper cartoons and editorials. I long for and love the thunder of the guns, and if only Judge Parker would get out of the way and let me command the army that he commands I would give Theodore Roosevelt a battle royal."

It seems almost superfluous to point out the palpable fact that a man who could give utterance to such sickly and egotistic twaddle is not fit for the exalted position of President of the United States, even if he could secure it—which of course he could not.

It is hardly to be supposed that Judge Parker, taking all the circumstances into consideration, will decide to get out of Watson's way, and give him the Democratic papers, and the Jeffersonian speakers, and the noble army that followed Bryan (to defeat) in '96. It might be, if Judge Parker should send in his withdrawal from the contest, that Mr. Watson could "show the Republican party and Theodore Roosevelt the great militant Democratic party from sea to sea." But the mere showing of this more or less interesting spectacle would not avail to help the cause of Watson in any appreciable degree; for he would not receive more than one-half of the votes of the "great militant Democratic party," and it is doubtful of he would receive even one-third.

However ardently Mr. Watson may "love the thunder of the guns," he is not likely to hear it excepting from afar. The only thunder that will rage around the devoted head of Tommy Watson will be that which emanates from the little pop-guns used by his supporters of the Populistic face. This will hurt nobody, and nobody will mind it in the least.

S. A. Butler was formally notified, last evening, that at a conference of representative Republican citizens held Wednesday afternoon he was selected by that body to be recommended to the Republican City Convention as a proper and suitable candidate for the Republican nomination for Mayor. Mr. Butler has accepted the honor and will permit his name to go before the convention; but he declines to make any formal public statement until the convention shall have been held. Mr. Butler is acting entirely within his right in declining to make any statement at this time, other than to say that he will, if the city convention nominates him, accept the nomination. There will be ample time for him to make a formal public declaration after he shall have been nominated, if the convention deems it best to accept the recommendation of the conference of citizens. Mr. Butler will go before the convention with strong support. His indorsement by so representative a body of citizens as those who comprised Wednesday's conference is in itself a distinct honor and a high tribute to his personal character, his standing, his integrity and his ability. It may fairly be assumed, from the composition and manifest earnestness and patriotism of the citizens' conference, that that body would have adjourned without making any recommendation rather than put forward a person unfitted in any way for the office of Mayor. Therefore the city convention will do well to give earnest consideration to the suggestion of the conference. The action of that body cannot be ignored, disregarded or lightly set aside.

Count Okuma's address to the members of the Tokio clearinghouse is Japan's first squeal. At first, the Japs announced that they would thrash Russia in one summer; now Okuma says the war will last two years and cost a billion dollars. He calls Russia a big bully, and her soldiers drunkards, and makes a swipe at Emperor William of Prussia. He pictures hardship and ruin as being in store for his country. All in all, it looks bad for the brash little brown people.

If Mr. Butler had lived in three different cities under three different names; if he had never shown sufficient ability to enable him to secure and hold a responsible position with a corporation; if he had a long record as a fake medium and hypnotist, and if Mayor Snyder and the "bargain" were out of the way, it is entirely probable that the Evening Express would break its neck rushing to his support.

Whoever is of the opinion that women should not be given the right of suffrage, would do well to wake up and get busy, if he cares to have that opinion follow the Constitution and the statutes. The women of the nation—Los Angeles included—show a growing desire to lay soft hands on the ballot of politics, and it's hard to stop them when they get going real hard.

There's a bad Indian down in the Muskogee country whom divers and sundry Sheriff's posses are endeavoring to make over into a good Indian on Gen. Sheridan's well-known recipe. He is called Billy Fixcat, and it is claimed that even his name fails to properly describe his devilish characteristics.

In the meantime, while the Laird of Skibo is entreating the nations to disarm, why in blazes doesn't he shut down his old armor-plate works at Pittsburgh? That would be a "fell swoop" worth talking about.

The Episcopal convention at Boston desired to pass a resolution of censure on Bishop Potter and his Subway Tavern action, but the rules precluded it. There was a bar against it, so to speak.

Now that the Republican clubs of the National League have come together and agreed upon a leader, we may expect to see a little Moore ginger injected into the campaign.

The report reading "Port Arthur ships put out," does not necessarily mean that they were put out by Togo, but rather that they took French leave.

We note that a receiver has been appointed for the Consolidated Liquid Air Company. The job is liable to give him dyspepsia of the flatulent order.

The war news says "there is a great deal of bustle at Mukden." So it seems that the women have not been removed from the fighting zone, after all.

If invading fleets like Japan's, or half like them, were to attack this coast at the present moment, the task would be pie for them.

The indications seem to be that Kouropatkin will tie up his lure at Tie Pass and pass it back to the Japs in the shape of a slam.

The Baroness Von Suttern calls King Edward "the peacemaker!" His esteemed royal majesty was ever a favorite of the ladies.

Andrew Carnegie says that by uniting in the effort, Great Britain, France, Germany and America could banish war "in one fell swoop." That would not be a "fell" swoop, Andy, dear. It would be a glad swoop, a swoop of joy and hilarious glee. But, anyhow, bring on the swoop. It's the thing we have been waiting for.

Peace is the thing, but it makes it all the more sure to throw up a few breastworks and such like along the helpless coast lines.

There's a lot of barbed-wire fences stretched between Seattle and San Diego, but that wouldn't even stop the horse marines.

Old Pelée is erupting and spitting fire balls again like a southern Democratic orator delivering an address on the negro question.

The most assuring dispatch concerning Port Arthur was printed yesterday. "The band still plays twice a week," it said.

Possibly the band at Port Arthur, among other old favorites, sometimes plays "We don't care if you never come back."

There never was so much peace talk going on in the world as there is just now. Heaven grant it shall not end in talk.

Rain is said to be good for the complexion, but, unfortunately, some complexions are not so arranged.

Let the rain fall on the just and the unjust alike, if it wants to, only so it rains.

The Fresno rains seem to have been raisin' the deuce with the raisins.

The rain, like the beloved guest, is always welcome.

It was a short rain but a merry one.

Also it was a wet rain.

THE PLAYHOUSES.

Stellar Venture.

Harry Mestayer, the young actor who has scored high success in juvenile and character roles at the Burbank Theater during the past summer, is to be starred by Oliver Morosco.

The vehicle for Mestayer's talents will be Ibsen's weird "Ghosts," in which he made a signal triumph at the Burbank presentation not many weeks ago. The actor played in it all last winter, being leading man for the distinguished Mary Shaw.

"Ghosts" will be inaugurated at the Mason Operahouse, in this city, during Christmas week. After the play leaves Los Angeles it will be seen throughout Southern California, will then be taken to San Francisco, and will be played after that engagement through all the cities of the Northwest. The company will then go to Salt Lake, Denver and other towns along the eastern route, and will at last play in Chicago.

Grace Reals, leading woman at the Majestic Theater of San Francisco, will be leading actress with Mestayer, playing Mrs. Alving. Miss Reals gave an excellent account of herself here not many weeks since, playing Dolores, in "In the Palace of the King." The three other persons needed to complete the cast will be brought from New York's Rialto, as the resident manager can spare no more from his domestic array.

Mestayer's conception of Oswald Alving is full of fine points of appreciation, is restrained in an artistic sense, and is thoroughly worthy the stage of any theater in the country.

Carillo's Barbecue.

Leo Carillo, the local boy who is appearing at the Orpheum this week, gave a banquet and barbecue yesterday to the Orpheum people at Santa Monica Cañon, assisted by his relatives. A great outdoor dinner was served up in true Spanish style, savoring of the days of mantillas, guitars and romance.

WET CLASS RUSH.

Six Hundred Students of University of Wisconsin Ducked in Lake, but None Drowned.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—A dispatch to the Chronicle from Madison, Wis., says:

"Six hundred students of the University of Wisconsin have been ducked in the waters of Lake Mendota in the annual university freshman-sophomore rush. No one was drowned and the most serious injuries were numerous wrenched joints and a four-inch gash in the head of a freshman, received from a boat hook in the hands of a sophomore, while defending the second-year class flag raft, 400 feet out in the lake.

"For three hours and a half the battle raged, and ended with the sophomores dividing among themselves the shreds of their great red flag, which had been the subject of the most strenuous class fight ever held here.

"The authorities regret the dangerous feature of the raft and the fighting in deep water, and this, perhaps, will not be allowed to occur as a part of a subsequent annual rush."

THE OLD WAY OF DOING THINGS.

Let's get together and prevent this next time.

IN THE EARTH.

RARE MINERALS, MINES AND METALLURGY.

POPULAR QUERIES AND EXPERT ANSWERS.

[SPECIALLY CONTRIBUTED TO THE TIMES.]

[Answers to legitimate questions in mineralogy, metallurgy, chemistry or mining will be given here, but only when of interest to the mining or commercial world. Personal questions, from curio dealers and mineral collectors, on ores, minerals, gems or metals of non-commercial value, and assays for metal, will not be answered, but should be referred direct to analysts and assayers. Address The Times.]

Scheelite and Manganite.

RANDSBURG (Cal.) Oct. 4, 1904.—[To the Editor of The Times.] Enclosed please find three samples of ore: No. 1 sample, is a sample of "Scheelite," and I send it as I thought it might be related, in some way, to No. 2 and 3, as they are all of about the same weight, and I think there is enough to pay to work of No. 2 and 3. Will you please name No. 2 and 3 and oblige J. P. H.

ANSWER. No. 1 has a resinous lustre, yellowish brown in color. Hardness, 4.5. Habit, cruticular, structure, massive. Perfect in cleavage and fracture. Density, 5.9. Fuses to a glass. Decomposed, (partly) by hydrochloric acid from which a yellow powder separates and which yellow powder is soluble in ammonia. The sample is a low grade Scheelite, (calcium tungstate.)

No. 2 is iron black, in color. Streak, light-brown black. Hardness, over 4. Brittle. Massive structure. With hydrochloric acid chlorine is given off, recognized at once by the smell. The sample is a dioxide of manganese with iron and probably carries copper values. No. 3 should be referred to an assayer.

Radium.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 23, 1904.—[To the Editor of The Times.] Will you kindly describe "Radium," its substance and appearance. While prospecting for gold in Colorado, in the Cripple Creek district, I came upon a blow-out, a sample of which I had assayed for gold and silver but got no returns. I am confident that radium is on the prospected property. The ore I found was black like coal and not as hard as granite or trachyte. Is Radium found alone or with other ores? Yours truly A PROSPECTOR.

ANSWER. No one can describe "Radium, its substance and appearance," for the reason, that it has not, as yet, been reduced to metal. Its salts are radioactive and there is no telling what will happen, if the time ever comes, when a human being attempts to make an examination of the so-called "element." Your find "was black like coal." It is reported that some little pitchblende has been found near Battle Mountain, in district above named, and further verification of the discovery is awaited with interest. The finest uraninite (pitchblende) in the known world, carrying 83.71 p. c. uranium oxides, with a density of 9.37 is mined from the Wood mine, and the Kirk mine, Gilpin county, Colo. The highest p. c. of the oxides described from Joachimsthal, in the Bohemian division of the mountain chain of Saxony, is but 76 per cent. The yellow canary-colored ore, or Carnolite, is the most important one, especially, when carrying high p. c. of the oxide. Torbernite, (a copper phosphate with uranium oxides,) often, resembles copper ore, i. e., varieties of Azurite and Malachite. All ores of uranium especially when concentrated are "heavy." The above described ores, are the principal ones from which the salts of Radium have been obtained. The ore you speak of, "black like coal" and from locality named is simply a variety of obsidian, of low specific gravity, cuts glass, and has no commercial value. Prospectors are referred to Times, Tuesday, August 2, 1904. Subject, "Radium." For their benefit a description of pitchblende, with test for same, follows: In lustre, somewhat metallic or resinous, with black shiny, specks scattered through the ore, resembling some varieties of chromite. Color and streak, from black to gray or brown-black (the plain black being the richer ores.) In hardness it is 5.5. Brittle. Crystals rare, and isometric. Of octahedral habit. Structure is massive, at times interspersed, or kidney shaped. Fracture is either conchoidal, (quarts-like) or compact. Density from 6 to 8.25. Almost infusible, alone. B. B. "uranous salts are powerful reducing agents. They are green, or greenish white and yield green aqueous solutions." Such become oxidized to uranic salts when exposed to the air, or when oxidized by nitric acid. "Uranic salts are yellow, mostly soluble in water and are reduced to uranous salts by hydrogen sulphide, alcohol, ether and sunlight." Prospectors are advised to seek for pitchblende or carnolite.

Tellurium.

PALM SPRINGS (Cal.) Oct. 1, 1904.—[To the Editor of The Times.] It is said that tellurides have been found near here. Please reply to questions following: (1.) Describe tellurium and give test? (2.) What is its value commercially? Yours truly W. Y.

ANSWER. Metallic tellurium, is of a white-tin color. It is found native. Streak, grayish-white. In hardness, about 2:25. Brittle. Hexagonal crystallization. Habit, "radial, short acicular." Massive and interspersed structure. Granular structure. Density, over 6. Melts in candle or alcohol flame. B. B. gives off fumes, volatilises, and leaves white coating on charcoal. Colors flame green. Associated with calaverite, petzite, hessite, sylvanite and other gold, and gold silver bearing tellurides. Nagyagite, is a black or lead gray telluride carrying gold, lead, antimony, sulphur and tellurium, with a density of 6.9. Before the blowpipe, when on charcoal, two coats are formed. One furthest from flamed specimen is white and volatile, the coating near the specimen being yellow. Quantitive test: Dissolve 100 grains of telluride ore in hydrochloric acid. When in solution, filter. Partly evaporate by heating, add to the hot solution a solution of alkaline sodium sulphite. Metallic tellurium precipitates. Collect the tellurium on a filter, wash well, dry with a low heat and weigh. If the weight be ten grains the ore will, approximately, carry ten per cent tellurium.

Thirty p. c. tellurium is worth at wholesale, about $20. Sixty p.c. $30. Eighty p.c. $40. Ninety-five per cent. (fused) is worth about $80 per kilogram, respectively.

Organic and Inorganic Acids.

FRESNO, Oct. 3, 1904.—[To the Editor of The Times.] Give test for proving organic and inorganic acids. Yours respectfully, D. B. S.

ANSWER. "All vegetable acids consist of carbon, hydrogen and oxygen, and are charred and consumed on being heated." All organic acids, when diluted with water, in time, decompose. If a crystal of tartaric acid be placed on a piece of platinum foil, and heat applied thereunder, it melts, becomes brown and finally black, emitting at same time an empyreumatic odor. While charring, hold a tumbler, (glass,) over the acid, globules of water will form on inside of glass, (oxygen and hydrogen.) The black residue is a coal (carbon.) Inorganic acids, "consist of but two elements, and are neither charred nor consumed in the fire."

A WORD TO PROSPECTORS.

Prospectors are advised to mail letters relating to commercial ores forwarded. Written requests, wrapped around samples, often become illegible in transit.

BARTHOLDI'S FUNERAL.

PARIS, Oct. 7.—The funeral of Bartholdi took place today, and was a most imposing ceremony. It was attended by hundreds of mourners, including many officials, students and members of the American embassy was represented. The hearse was covered with crowns and flowers. Ambassador Porter's offering was a large wreath. Conspicuous in the throngs were numerous delegations of working people. A company of soldiers was drawn up at the Bartholdi residence, and the body was received with military honors at Montparnasse Cemetery.

affair, as many friends greeted one another after the separation of the vacation season.

Mrs. Roy Jones, who is beginning her second year as president of the club, gave her annual address in a particularly happy manner, touching upon the many subjects of interest for the coming year. She prefaced her remarks with a general summing up of the benefits that clubs confer upon women, and the necessity of cooperating among club members. "An apathy," said Mrs. Jones, "seems to have settled upon club members and there seems to be a disposition to leave all of the active work of the club to the officers, whereas the success of a club is dependent upon the efforts of every single member."

Mrs. Jones also spoke of the custom of employing professional speakers to appear before the club. A certain proportion of such on the programmes she regards as necessary, but many of them are becoming prohibitory in price.

The change in the officers of the club since the last election was mentioned and the new officers presented, with many complimentary remarks from the president as to the success of the new year with affairs in such capable hands. A new ruling was announced in regard to guest cards to be issued this year, only six out-of-town cards to be allowed each member and two resident cards for guests.

The luncheon was in the hands of the former chairman of the Hospitality Committee, Mrs. Randall Hutchinson, the new chairman being absent from the city.

New Plans for Badgers.

At the meeting on Thursday of the California Badger Club at the residence of the president, Mrs. Clarence C. P. Bartlett, plans for a new working girls' home to be located in a downtown district were shown and the decision was made to abandon the present building, which can accommodate only a few of the girls that the club seeks to benefit, and wait until larger quarters can be secured to carry on the work. From fifty to seventy-five girls can be accommodated if the present plan goes through, and the ladies are busy plying their needles to make money for the new building.

A concert is also being arranged by Mrs. Scholl for the same cause.

Undertaker Beats Doctor.

"I'm up against it, it seems, if Dr. Morrison is doing what they say he's doing," remarked Harry D. Tutewiler.

Tutewiler is an undertaker. Morrison is a physician. Both are candidates for the office of County Coroner.

"An old stand-by of mine in the last campaign told me yesterday that he couldn't vote for me. Not only that, but he said he would be compelled to work for Morrison. He said Morrison promised to 'doctor' him free of charge after he was elected."

"Up against it, were you not?"

"Rather. Guess I fixed it all right, though."

"How?"

"I told that 'hyper' that if Dr. Morrison would begin his treatment now instead of after the election, I'd promise to bury him free of charge—before the election."—[Indianapolis News.

New Leather Bags

If beauty be its own reason for being, then these leather bags and belts have a reason beyond their function. They are beautiful—VERY.

The new envelope bag, with strap handles, pleated club shape, automobile bags, the bill book bag and the new "grip" shape in all sizes.

Walrus, sea lion, real seal and monkey skin, some leather lined, some silk lined; some in colors, but black predominates; many of them fitted with coin purses, bill book, vinaigrettes, etc. $2.25 to $20 and all in-between prices. Extraordinary values—actually 15 to 20 per cent. under prices prevailing elsewhere.

New Belts

While the inexpensive sorts are here in broad variety, we'll confine today's news to the more elaborate ones of silk and kid, such as are usually sold in the best jewelry stores.

Many new shapes in white, black and colors—the burnt orange and onion shades included. Many of them trimmed in 14k gold, and beautifully jeweled.

One in particular: Belt of kid-skin, girdle shape, burnt orange shade, decorated with tiger eyes and gilt ornaments, $15. Same in white kid with Turquois trimmings, $15.

3-piece belt sets, 14k gold plated, studded with amythest, rhinestones and turquoises, $7.50 to $17.

50c Ties 25c

Several dozen hat-wing ties, in black and colors, at 25c each—not antiquated patterns, either.

Rain Coats For the man with a one-overcoat purse there's nothing like these cravenetted coats. Just like an ordinary overcoat in appearance, but they shed water like a duck's back. Ten to Twenty Dollars.

Underwear $2.50 and $3 a suit for men's underwear from the Luzerne Mills—very soft Australian wool garments in natural color and fancy stripes.

Lot of men's heavy ribbed shirts and drawers of combed Egyptian cotton, in ecru or in blue stripes—50c a garment.

Shirts New ones—decidedly attractive patterns and colorings in both stiff and soft-bosom styles. Cuffs attached or separate. Made of the best madras you ever saw in $1, $1.25 and $1.50 shirts.

Boys' colored shirts for school wear—50c, 75c, $1.

New Petticoats

Frequent additions, almost daily, have been made to this assortment during the past few weeks. There's variety wide enough to please the most fastidious woman. Exquisitely beautiful creations in plain and fancy silks at $5, $20 and all the in-between prices.

Two exceptional values:

At $6 New petticoats of excellent Taffeta silk, cut generously full and made with three ruffles and extra dust ruffle; colors—navy, brown, red, blue, green and champagne effects—white and black as well.

ORDINANCE NO. 9963.

[New Series.]

An Ordinance providing for the holding of a city primary election in the City of Los Angeles on the 25th day of October, 1904, dividing said city into election precincts and appointing polling places, inspectors, judges, ballot clerks and clerks of election.

The Mayor and Council of the City of Los Angeles do ordain as follows:

Section 1. That a city primary election shall be held in the City of Los Angeles on Tuesday, the 25th day of October, 1904, for the election of delegates to city conventions to be held in said city thereafter;

That the following political parties, to wit, the republican party, the democratic party and the socialist party are entitled to nominate candidates for the city offices hereinafter named by convention, and are entitled to participate in the said city primary election and to a place upon the official primary election ballots.

[NEWS REPORTS FROM TIMES CORRESPONDENTS.]

SEARCH MAY BE MADE FOR LANE.

WELL-KNOWN OFFICER MISSING SINCE LAST FRIDAY.

Left Needles in Pursuit of Two River Pirates Who Had Stolen a Boat—Fears Entertained that He May Have Come Upon the Thieves and Been Killed.

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 7.—Considerable apprehension is felt at Needles and among the members of the Sheriff's force here for the safety of Deputy Sheriff Lane, who left Needles last Friday in pursuit of two river pirates, who had stolen a boat and camping and mining outfit belonging to Henry L. Walker of Pasadena. Walker had been prospecting up the Colorado, and reaching Needles, tied his boat, containing his outfit and rifle, shotgun and ammunition, to a pier, while he went to the town for provisions, returning three hours later to find that the boat had disappeared.

Suspicion immediately fastened upon two individuals who had been seen loitering about the vicinity, and Deputy Sheriff Lane immediately took up the chase in a row boat, being accompanied by one rower. Since the passed Parker, the same day, not a word has been heard from him. Had he continued to Yuma he would have reached there several days ago.

The fear is expressed that he has met the outlaws in battle and has been foully dealt with, or that his boat has been swamped in a whirlpool. The only other hope now entertained is that he may have taken to shore after the thieves and is trailing them into the interior. The Sheriff is now in telegraphic communication with Needles and Yuma, and if no word comes from the missing officer before the Overland leaves tonight the Sheriff will probably go to Needles to lead a searching party down the river, while arrangements will be made for another party to leave from Yuma. Lane is one of the best-known officers on the desert. He has a long record as a fearless officer, having figured in numerous daring captures. He knows the desert and mountain regions between Needles and Yuma like a book, and it is this knowledge and bravery which the Sheriff hopes will take him safely through any critical emergencies that may have arisen.

MURDER TRIAL DELAYED.

The Ortes murder case has come to an abrupt stop on account of the sudden illness of Frederick Benningsdorf of Redlands, one of the jurymen, who is threatened with an attack of appendicitis. Judge Oster this morning continued the hearing until Monday, at which time the jury will be dismissed if Benningsdorf is not able to continue jury duty. The present jury has cost the county $1000, being selected from a venire of sixty men, summoned from all parts of the county.

SANTA ANA.

GIVEN A STIFF SENTENCE.

SANTA ANA, Oct. 7.—Gardner Howell, the dope fiend who has been posing here as Dr. Alston B. Neal of Millersburg, Ky., was before Justice Smithwick today as a vagrant and received a jail sentence of ninety days. While he is serving this term his family will be communicated with and if they wish his further incarceration in the hope of curing him of the morphine habit, it is probable he will be rearrested for obtaining money by false pretenses. Evidence to convict him on such a charge is now in the hands of local Masons to whom he represented himself as Neal, and will be prepared in the Tustin and McPherson districts the man further.

FIRST HEAVY SHOWER.

A brisk rain fell here today between 3 and 4 o'clock, the first heavy shower of the season. Clouds tonight threaten more rain before morning. Rain at this time will do damage to the peanut crop, which is being harvested now in the Tustin and McPherson districts.

ORANGE COUNTY BREVITIES.

The Jefferson Men's Debating Club of the High School has elected as officers for the coming year Ralph Clark, president; Louis Deandon, vice-president; Frank Nell, secretary; Leslie McBride, corresponding secretary; Harry Blee, treasurer; Lemuel Robinson, sergeant-at-arms.

Chester K. Hall was arrested at Compton by Officer Baker of this city yesterday for stealing a fox terrier belonging to Ross Waffle of the Richilieu stables. The dog was taken once before by the Halls and recovered from them near Long Beach. Hall was arraigned on a charge of petty larceny, pleaded not guilty and had his case continued a week when his father will be here to testify.

The High School football game with Azusa, scheduled for Saturday, has been canceled on account of sickness among the players on the Azusa team. The date has been taken by Whittier school which will meet Santa Ana at Whittier.

ORANGE.

RESULT OF THE ELECTION.

ORANGE, Oct. 7.—The result of the election of directors for the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation Company, held at the company's offices last Saturday, is announced by the canvassing committee as follows: For W. N. Gregg of McPherson, 14,335 votes; for M. Nisson of Santa Ana, 12,542; for S. Armor of Orange, 12,171; for George Dierker of Orange, 11,394; for A. E. Bennett of Tustin, 11,292; for E. T. Siegfried of Olive, 10,971. The five highest are the directors-elect, leaving E. T. Siegfried off the board. The directors are the same as for the past year, with the exception of Dierker, who takes Siegfried's place. The result of the Canvassing Committee's work will be ratified at the adjourned stockholders' meeting to be held Saturday morning.

DEMAND FOR A FIRE ENGINE.

RIVERSIDE BLAZE MAY RESULT IN PURCHASE OF ONE.

Second Serious Fire at Which Water Was Insufficient—Bones of Mastodon Found in Reservoir Site. Democrats Name Candidate for Supervisor—Musical Club.

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 7.—The fire in the packing-house district yesterday—the second one of the season—points to the urgent need for a fire engine in this city. With a canal running full of water less than fifty feet away, a stream could have been pumped by an engine yesterday which would have saved much property, while as it was, with the long line of hose laid, the pressure was not strong enough to throw a stream to the cross-arms of the telephone poles. Investigation discloses the fact that the telephone wires had no connection with the origin of the blaze, but Manager Huse of the Pachappa Packing Company is of the opinion that it originated in the electric wires which supplied the building with power. A recently-constructed Sunset Telephone cable, bearing 180 pairs of wires, was burned in two, cutting out between 200 and 300 'phones in the valley. Connections were reestablished today.

BONES OF MASTODON.

While removing gravel from the bed at the base of Rubidoux Mountain, workmen in the employ of G. T. McIntyre yesterday unearthed the thigh bone of a mastodon. It measures 18 inches in circumference in the largest place, tapering to 14 inches, and is 18 inches long. Mr. McIntyre believes he can get out some of the other bones, and is proceeding with the work with the greatest of care. Yesterday's find and other bones found will be presented to the Chamber of Commerce.

CANDIDATE FOUND AT LAST.

The Democrats have at last unearthed a candidate for the position of Supervisor of the Second district. C. C. Cole, one of the younger Democrats, has been chosen for the running, and the certificate of nomination filed.

MUSICAL CLUB ORGANIZED.

A meeting of enthusiastic local singers was held last evening at Odd Fellows' Hall, with the idea of organizing a musical club for the winter, and perhaps permanently. The immediate object of the organization will be the production of a number of light operas during the season. The idea sprang from members of the cast and chorus in the successfully produced opera, "Priscilla," put on the local stage last winter. P. S. Castleman was made temporary chairman last evening, and E. H. Markel, Charles E. Waite and Mrs. Harry Hammond were made a committee on permanent organization, to report at a meeting to be held in the near future.

CHICKENS CAUSE TROUBLE.

What promised at first to be an interesting case came up in Recorder Potter's court this afternoon. Dr. W. B. Sawyer's chickens had caused disturbance and destruction on the adjoining property of W. A. Hayt, and the latter gentleman procured legal talent and proposed to test the city ordinance which countenanced the keeping of chickens within the city limits. Attorney C. L. McFarland represented Mr. Hayt and Attorney L. Gill appeared for the doctor. The matter was finally compromised and the case dismissed.

MINOR MENTION.

Mail which has been tied up by the eastern floods is beginning to arrive. Yesterday thirty-three sacks were received, and today fourteen sacks more, containing over 2000 letters, were distributed.

The first meeting in a duplicate whist tournament between representatives of the Rubidoux and Manzanita clubs was held last night in the Rubidoux Club parlors. The Rubidoux Club teams won all but one contest, that being tied. S. D. Pelton and S. J. Castleman defeated Kraig and Raynor 112 to 110, Cercle and J. R. Cuttle defeated Eugene Johnson and Earl Barkelew 113 to 106, I. A. Witherspoon and A. A. Wood tied with Will Jones and Charles Jones, W. W. Phelps and M. M. Millee beat George Russell and Cecil Funk, 110 to 105; total, Rubidoux Club, 443; Manzanita Club, 424. A return match is planned at an early date.

Roger J. Sterrett, Burton Blackman, captain of the football team, and Charles Campbell, president of the Debating Society, will represent the Riverside High School at the meeting of delegates of the Interscholastic League at Colton next Saturday. The football schedule for the season's play will then be arranged. The local High School boys will play their first practice game Saturday at Chemawa Park against the Sherman Institute second team. Walker Mann has been elected president, Harry Angel vice-president, and Mary Noyes secretary-treasurer of the High School freshman class.

CONVICTED OF CATTLE THEFTS.

TWO KERN COUNTY RUSTLERS FOUND GUILTY.

Had Been Operating for Years and Gave Stockmen Much Trouble—Barkeeper Who Refused to be Intimidated by Strikers Acquitted by Jury—Fire in Oil Fields.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 7.—George Woodward, a resident of the Kernville country was today convicted of cattle stealing, the jury being out fifteen hours before rendering its verdict. His son Charles Woodward was convicted a few days ago of the same crime.

The case is the outcome of a highly sensational piece of detective work by deputy sheriffs in the employ of a number of cattlemen in the mountain section, who had suffered from losses for several years past. Deputies Johnson and Dunham spent two months camping in the mountain country, watching from hidden places behind bushes and rocks, and sometimes with field glasses every movement of the Woodwards, until evidence was secured to bring the crimes home to their doors. At one time the officers spent three days in the bush, concealing themselves and crawling for long distances after the two. The Woodwards were long suspected and another case is now pending in the Superior Court against them.

COULDN'T INTIMIDATE HIM.

Walter Beck, a member of the Bartenders' Union, who returned to work during the strike was tried and acquitted this afternoon of threateningly displaying a pistol on the street. A few days ago while Beck was coming from his work several of the striking bartenders shouted the term "scab" at him. He acknowledged having drawn a pistol and approached them, declaring with emphasis that if they repeated the offense he would shoot them. After hearing this statement and that of the complaining witnesses the jury in ten minutes returned a verdict of not guilty.

FIRE IN OIL FIELDS.

A fierce fire late last night at the Kern River old fields totally destroyed the boiler house, the pumping plant and one oil rig belonging to the Kern River Oil Company. There was a high wind blowing at the time, but luckily sumpholes nearby containing 12,000 barrels of oil did not ignite. Gas caused the fire. Loss $4000.

Launch Seminole, Capt. Hyder, from Santa Barbara Island.

SAILED.

PORT ITEMS.

ALONG THE WATER FRONT.

WEATHER: Clear at 5 p.m.; wind, southwest, velocity 11 miles.

The steamer Melville Dollar, Capt. Fosen finished discharging that portion of her cargo consigned to this port and cleared for Redondo, where she will discharge the remainder, consisting of 200,000 feet of lumber.

The schooner W. F. Wetzman finished loading at Aberdeen and sailed yesterday with a full cargo of lumber consigned to wholesalers at this port.

The schooner R. W. Bartlett sailed yesterday from Tacoma with a lumber cargo for dealers at Redondo.

The following changes of masters of Pacific Coast vessels are reported: H. C. Thomas has succeeded A. Nicholson as master of the steamer State of California; R. W. Nye has replaced M. Parson in command of the schooner Alice Kimball; E. M. Smith has been succeeded in command of the schooner Taurus, by Ernest Seel; J. Schmidt has been enrolled as master of the barkentine Irmgard. J. J. Lavin as master of the schooner Emily F. Richards and M. J. Madsen of the steamer Samoa.

The well known steamer Nome City, which has been plying between the Puget Sound and Alaskan ports is to be converted into a steam schooner. The Nome City, which is a steamer of nearly 1300 tons, has been doing a good business in the North as a passenger vessel, but her owners feel that she can do better as a lumber carrier, and have ordered that the necessary alterations be made at a shipyard on the Sound. When the Nome City is ready for business, she will have a lumber carrying capacity of 1,000,000 feet, which will make her one of the largest steam schooners on the Coast.

The steamer Samoa, Capt. Madsen, arrived today from Caspar, bringing 280,000 feet of lumber for the E. K. Wood Lumber Company.

The steamer James S. Higgins, Capt. Higgins, arrived from Eureka via Redondo, where she discharged a portion of her cargo.

The schooner Carrier Dove, Capt. Jensen, finished discharging her lumber cargo and sailed in ballast for Gray's Harbor to load a return cargo.

Armored Doors.

Armor-plated doors foiled Sheriff Word last evening. Accompanied by his deputies he descended into Chinatown, entered twenty deserted dens where he believed fan-tan had been running but a short time previously, and then encountered a barricade that no sledge could break down.

Apparently the raid had been tipped off to the Chinese gamblers, for all but one establishment was wide open, and no effort was made to keep out the officers. It was at a den on Second street, adjoining the Famous Clothing House that the surprise last evening was found. The door slammed when the posse appeared.

Demands for admittance met with no response. A sledge, wedge and crowbar is a part of the equipment of every raiding party. These were soon brought into action and the huskiest deputies wielded them with might and main. But not the slightest impression could be made upon the door.

"It was just like the armor of a battleship," said the Sheriff afterward.

Heavily-barricaded doors are being placed upon every fan-tan den on Second street. For months strong doors have kept out unwanted intruders, but now much heavier armor is being placed. One contractor has done almost all of this work, and has been busy for weeks. Several of these combined fan-tan and opium joints are now nothing more than fortresses, whose barricades are so heavy and ingeniously planned that dynamite alone would break them. In one place the doors sink into the floor, so that to open the door when once locked and barred it is necessary to tear up the floor.—[Portland Oregonian.

A Job's Comforter.

H. B. Duryea, who with Artful won the Futurity at Sheepshead Bay, was conversing after the race with a group of unfortunates.

One of these unfortunates made a remark of a feeble consolatory nature. Thereupon his friends turned on him and called him a "Job's comforter."

"You are a Job's comforter, indeed," Mr. Duryea said. "You are like an old coachman I used to know.

"This old fellow had worked a great many years for a rich broker. The broker, at the age of 70, was taken down with his last illness. He knew the end was coming; he made his will, and he bade good-by to his friends.

"Naturally, his faithful old coachman was not forgotten in these farewells. The coachman came and stood by his bedside, looking down at the weak old man.

"'Well, John,' the broker said in a feeble voice, 'good-by to you. I am going a longer journey than ever you drove me.' He wagged his head pathetically. 'A longer journey,' he repeated, 'than you ever drove me, John.'

"'Never you mind, sir,; it will be all down hill,' the coachman answered."—[New York Tribune.

SANTA MONICA.

YEAR OF LIBRARY WORK.

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 7.—The Board of Library Trustees has decided to call for bids for the addition of a steam heating plant for the new Carnegie building. Bids for cement walks, coping and driveways are also to be received. The annual report of the librarian shows a home circulation of 22,674 volumes during the year. There are, in round numbers, 6000 books in the library, which is an addition of 354 since the last report.

DEATH OF A VETERAN.

W. A. Manners, for three years a resident of Santa Monica, died at the Soldiers' Home today, after a brief illness. The family came here from Washington, Iowa. He served through the Civil War with Company C, Eleventh Iowa. The remains will be buried at the Soldiers' Home tomorrow afternoon. Mr. Manners was 59 years of age. His wife survives him here.

ROBBED WHILE CELEBRATING.

As a sequel to the recent meeting on the beach here a few days ago of John and Henry Bradley, brothers, who had not seen each other for forty years, John, who is tossing on a bed of pain in the hospital at the Soldiers' Home, asserts that while he and Henry were holding a family reunion on the beach he was robbed of $145 of his pension money, which he carried in his tobacco pouch.

REPUBLICAN MARCHING CLUB.

The young Republicans of the Santa Monica precincts have organized a marching club with the following officers: Earl Nittinger, president; E. L. Young, secretary; Leon Mooser, treasurer; Henry Lee, captain; Andrew Scholtz, first lieutenant; Joseph Feltwell, second lieutenant; W. E. Lewis, musical director. Uniforms, torches and caps are to be secured and their organization will be prepared to assist in all public demonstrations and Republican rallies. Drill meetings are to be held each Tuesday and Thursday evenings. At the first meeting next week refreshments will be served.

WENT TO JAIL.

Robert Wright, who disturbed the peace, was today sentenced by City Recorder Guidinger to pay a fine of $50 or spend a like number of days in the County Jail. For at least one very good reason Wright accepted the latter option.

OCEAN PARK.

MUSIC ALL THE YEAR.

OCEAN PARK, Oct. 7.—At the meeting of the Community League last night the Music Committee reported the signing of a contract with the Ocean Park Marine Band for daily concerts throughout the year at an expense of $250 per week.

East Ocean Park is the name given to the 135-acre tract near Rosebore that was purchased last week by a local syndicate. The average price paid was $350 per acre. The county road leading from the Palms to Santa Monica runs through the property. That road is to be called Washington street, and along it town lots will be laid out. Back of these will be small tracts.

L. D. Sale has a two-story residence, to cost $3500, under way on Westminster avenue. C. A. Covell is building a $1200 cottage in Park Place. Hewitt & Allen are erecting a $1000 bungalow on Coral Crest avenue. The contract price for the Grand View boulevard electric depot being built for J. A. Stanwood is $1465.

The Olinda baseball team from Fullerton will play the Santa Monica boys on the Rose-avenue diamond Sunday.

Rev. B. H. Kennedy is the new pastor of the Nazarene Church on South Second street.

Rev. J. P. Ralstin of the Christian Church spent the week at Orange.

Rev. E. W. Pasko, who has been assigned to the local M. E. Church, has arrived with his family and will occupy the pulpit for the first time Sunday.

SAN DIMAS.

GOVERNMENT'S HAND NEEDED.

SAN DIMAS, Oct. 7.—There is a very strong feeling in this community that the gigantic reservoir project of M. L. Wicks and others should be constructed by the national government, the cost of such work to be repaid to the government without interest by those ranchers benefited thereby.

The undertaking is of such colossal magnitude, and would be of such immense benefit to the people, that if carried out by private speculators the movement would probably meet with some opposition.

W. C. Campbell of Los Angeles, the representative of the National Irrigation Association, was in town today, and was interviewed by a number of the leading ranchers of this community, who take great interest in this important work.

SOCIALISTIC FROST.

The politically blind of this town assembled last night in Library Hall expecting to hear a lecture on Socialism by J. B. Osborne, a blind man. The meeting had been well advertised and as a result there was a larger attendance than at any previous Socialist meeting held here. With the assistance of a number of small boys, there was an audience of thirty-seven people. Osborne was unable to be present and sent as a substitute a Los Angeles wind-jammer named Wheat, who is said to wear the Typographical Trade Union collar, and as might be expected, turned out nothing but chaff from his windmill.

DIED BECAUSE OF HER BELIEF.

LONG BEACH WIFE SUCCUMBS TO "SCIENTIST" TREATMENT.

Those Who Attended Her Even Tried to Restore Life to Her Dead Body—Contractor Who Bid Too Low, Now in Trouble—National Guard Company.

LONG BEACH, Oct. 7.—In a pretty home on East Ocean avenue, just beyond the city limits, Mrs. J. W. Patterson lies cold in death, the victim of a belief in the doctrine of Christian Science. Yesterday afternoon J. W. Patterson, junior member of the Palmer-Patterson Realty Company, bade his wife good-by in the yard of their home, No. 1144 East Ocean avenue, and started on a business trip to Huntington Beach. When the husband returned late in the evening he was met by his sister-in-law, who hysterically sobbed out the heart-breaking news that his wife was dead.

The circumstances under which Mrs. Patterson died are out of the ordinary and necessitated a Coroner's inquest to determine the cause of death, as it occurred without medical attendance, as Mrs. Patterson was a Christian Scientist, and her mother and sisters were devout believers.

The deceased was ill a week ago, and was treated by Miss Green, a local Scientist "healer," and "influenced by suggestion," apparently recovered. After her husband left yesterday she suddenly became violently ill, and the ministrations of local Scientists proving of no benefit, a noted "healer" of Los Angeles was sent for, but was unable to come.

Finally, Dr. W. Harriman Jones, a friend of the family and former physician, was summoned, with the explanation that Mrs. Patterson was dying. He responded quickly, but on his arrival found her dead. There were several women in the room, including two local healers, who were praying. Dr. Jones gently closed the eyes of the dead woman, and was composing the rigid body when some of the women objected, as they had faith that she could be restored. Dr. Jones told them plainly that the woman was dead, and that the time for foolishness was at an end. Objection was also made to notifying the undertaker, but the doctor went ahead with his preparations and notified the Coroner, who, upon learning the circumstances, ordered an autopsy, which was made by Drs. Jones and Donnell. It was found that death resulted from a perforation of the duodenum, the upper part of the small intestine, and produced peritonitis, which caused death. The Coroner, upon this showing, returned a verdict accordingly.

Mrs. Patterson was 32 years of age, and was married to Mr. Patterson eight years ago at Whittier. She was a leading worker in Ebell, and a most estimable woman. Besides her husband and son, Harold, her mother, Mrs. Sallie Scott, two sisters and a brother survive. Funeral services will be held Saturday morning at 11 o'clock, at the family residence, Rev. Charles Pease of the Congregational Church officiating. Interment will be at Evergreen Cemetery, Los Angeles.

CONTRACTOR IN TROUBLE.

Contractor Van Houton, who is rebuilding the Daisy-street and High School buildings, has been handicapped from the start, and is now beyond the time limit, with much work unfinished. The school board has been lenient with him because of his low bid, but only a small force is at work. This morning the board served notice on the contractor and his bondsmen that work must be resumed in three days or they will take charge of the work and finish it themselves. This is merely a legal formality, as the contractor has virtually thrown up his contract. It is estimated that $4000 will be required to complete the work, but the board is amply protected by the 60 per cent. reserve of the contract price, a 50 per cent. bond to protect material and workmen and an additional 25 per cent. to indemnify the school district. The bond is issued by the Pacific Surety Company of Los Angeles. Contractor Van Houton has been conscientious in his work, but the general feeling is that he got beyond his depth when he attempted to rebuild two schoolhouses at the same time.

MISSION SOCIETY ELECTS.

The annual meeting of the Home Mission Society of the Methodist Church held yesterday elected the following officers: Mrs. B. P. Dayman, president; Mmes. W. K. Beans, S. E. Durham and Vance Hill, vice-presidents; Mrs. E. H. Miller, recording secretary; Mrs. R. M. Young, corresponding secretary; Mrs. F. R. Smith, treasurer; Mrs. E. A. Fisher, mite-box secretary; Mrs. C. F. Smith, president Queen Esther Circle; Mrs. E. W. Rasmussen, president Mothers' Juvenile.

"Mormonism" was the topic discussed, and strong papers were read by Mrs. Vance Hill, Miss Jennie Lincoln and Mrs. R. M. Young.

LONG BEACH IN BRIEF.

H. H. Hamilton has secured sixty names for the proposed company in the National Guard of California, and Dr. A. B. Austin yesterday took the list to Assistant Adjutant-General R. I. Palmer for consideration. There are two vacancies in the Seventh Regiment, and assurances have been made that Long Beach will get one of them.

Saturday afternoon the baseball team of the High School will play their first game at Eagle Park, their opponents being the team from the Southern California Business College of Los Angeles.

Articles of incorporation of the Signal Hill Improvement Company were forwarded tonight to the Secretary of State. The company will have a capitalization of $200,000.

AZUSA.

THOUSANDS VISITED MOUNTAINS

AZUSA, Oct. 7.—Forest Ranger R. H. Hiett, who is stationed in the San Gabriel Cañon, reports that he has inspected during the summer season over 3000 rifle permits. As probably less than one in three of the visitors to the cañon carry firearms, this would indicate that at least 10,000 people have visited the resorts and camping places in the San Gabriel during the last few months.

The Azusa Citrus Association shipped today the last two cars of Valencias, completing the shipment of the year's crop, and making a total of about three hundred and fifty carloads of fruit which have gone out from this packing-house since December. The contract has been let for the complete remodeling of the equipment of the house and the installation of the latest up-to-date machinery.

At the Azusa Gun Club's team shoot on Tuesday Capt. Frye's team won after an exciting contest, defeating Capt. Bridges' team by a score of 79 to 77.

Rev. J. F. Moody, Charles H. Lee, Alfred P. Griffith and Forrest Manning have been representing the local church at the Southern California Baptist Association, held at Compton this week.

City Clerk F. L. Wade has tendered his resignation, on account of ill health.

Dr. and Mrs. E. V. Rice entertained at dinner on Tuesday in honor of G. W. Gale and family, who are soon to leave for Oak Park, Ill., where they will reside. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Gale, Misses Julia Gale and Alice Crounse, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Daniels.

Leland and Joanna Poage have returned from their eastern trip and have enrolled for the fall term at Pomona College.

Charles Cohn returned on Thursday from a three months' visit at various eastern points.

POMONA.

CADETS ELECT OFFICERS.

POMONA, Oct. 7.—The Pomona High School cadets have elected officers for the ensuing year as follows: Anson Thomas, captain; Arthur Harris, first lieutenant; Hugh Ludden, second lieutenant; Ed Barber, M. Greenleaf, Ed Welch, sergeants; Charles Elder, color sergeant; Earl Lane, quartermaster. The competitive drill to choose corporals will be held soon. The cadets are planning a series of concerts to secure funds for the purchase of new uniforms.

Mrs. C. Millhon, a sister of J. O. Parris, has arrived here from Ohio, to make her home.

Charles M. Stone has purchased the house on Holt avenue formerly owned by Dr. M. R. Toland.

The Christadelphians began a series of tent meetings at the corner of Holt and Towne avenues last night.

The Women's Missionary Union of Pilgrim Congregational Church held the first meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. George T. Colson on North Garey avenue yesterday afternoon.

RIVERA.

HARVESTING THE WALNUTS.

RIVERA, Oct. 7.—The walnuts are not dropping fast as yet and pickers report discouraging results. The prevailing price to pickers is 35 cents per barley sack. Quite a number of walnut growers have employed Japanese to pick their crop, which will leave a good many cholos out of a job, but the Japs are the more satisfactory workers. The schools are closed for two weeks to enable the children to get their share of the picking.

William H. Davis has purchased the old Parsons homestead, recently the property of Arthur White.

S. M. Smith and wife of La Habra are visiting H. L. Montgomery.

The Rivera nine will play the Boyle Heights stars Sunday at Los Nietos.

FOOTHILL NOTES.

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 7.—A special meeting of the Hollywood school district was held at the office of Philo J. Beveridge this afternoon to authorize the trustees to purchase additional land for the Fremont school grounds and to open a street on the Grant school grounds. The authority was given by a unanimous vote. The attendance was not large.

The committee to whom was referred the selection of a site for the Country Club is investigating various places. It may be necessary to rent quarters for this winter, but the directors will be pleased to consider any propositions which may be submitted by which the club may secure at once property of its own.

The City Trustees will hold an important meeting Monday afternoon to establish the grade on Sunset boulevard between Highland and Hartford. Property owners on that section of the boulevard are invited to be present.

The first public exercises of the High School associated student body were held this afternoon. Addresses were made by John Hampton, Vernon Churchill, Charles Haley, Holman Coffin, Harold Ferguson and Wayne Jackson. Warren Ferguson played a violin solo. Prof. Thomas Fillmore of Minnesota favored the school with two piano solos.

The High School girls have organized an athletic association, with twenty-four members. Lela Baird is president, and Louise Blondeau, secretary. The boys' association has been organized, with Holman Coffin, president, and Jack Hampton, secretary. Montgomery Douglas has been elected captain of the baseball team for the coming season.

KYLEMERE CASTLE.

Beautiful Place in Ireland May be Bought by an American Millionaire.

[New York Tribune:] Rumors are current in England to the effect that James Henry Smith of New York is in negotiation for the purchase of Kylemere Castle, the beautiful place on the Lough of Kylemere, in Connemara, which the Duke and Duchess of Manchester bought a year or so ago, but which they have never inhabited. Indeed, it is not even known with any degree of certainty whether the purchase was ever completed. Although the Duke and Duchess had made all sorts of preparations to receive there the King and Queen on the occasion of their last stay in Ireland, and also the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, neither of these royal visits materialized, and among the stories circulated as to the reason for their abandonment the one most generally accepted is that it was due to the discovery that the ownership by the Duke of the place was not complete.

Whatever the cause, the Duke and Duchess have not been at Kylemere at all this summer, and, when in Ireland, have spent all their time at Tangerase Castle, in County Armagh. It is there that James Henry Smith has been visiting them, following their long stay at the lodge which he had leased for the season in Scotland.

The young Duke and Duchess are apparently estranged from Consuelo, Duchess of Manchester, and, as announced by cable dispatches, are coming very soon to this country. It is said that the differences are due in a great measure to financail causes, and certain it is that, while the widowed Duchess is spending very liberally the fortune left to her by her brother, Fernando Yznaga, and is enjoying a degree of luxury unknown to her up to the time of his death, her son and daughter-in-law are not admitted to share her social prestige or her affluence. Indeed, they have been conspicuous by their absence from all her numerous entertainments, house parties and yachting cruises.

Kylemere Castle figures in one of the best known of Charles Lever's novels. "Bishop's Folly," which plays so prominent a role in "The Bramleighs of Bishop's Folly," is Kylemere Castle, and the "Bramleighs" are no other than the Blakes of Ricevyle, one of the most ancient families of Ireland, from whom Mitchell-Henry purchased the place. Mitchell-Henry, as every one knows, spent an immense amount of money in improving the castle, particularly the grounds, and was passionately devoted to his beautiful country home until the day when his young daughter met death by drowning in the Lough of Kylemere, under the very windows, so to speak, of the castle.

INSTITUTE OF ENDEAVORERS.

FORTY-FIVE SOCIETIES ARE IN THE CONVENTION.

Ten Different Denominations Are Well Represented—First Gathering of the Kind Ever Held on the Pacific Coast—Banquet to be Given This Evening.

First of its kind on the Pacific Coast was the Christian Endeavor Institute, opened last night in the First Congregational Church of this city. Forty-five Christian Endeavor societies are represented, and these come from ten different denominations.

The institute is held under the direction of the city union, and its president, F. D. R. Moote, is presiding. On account of the inclement weather last night the auditorium was but half filled. The room had been handsomely decorated in the purple and gold colors of the Christian Endeavorers. Back of the pulpit had been arranged a large bamboo screen, covered with smilax, and in the center of this was the golden emblem of the society. The pillars that supported the gallery were wound with the purple and gold, and many flowers had been used in the decorative scheme.

A praise service was led by R. H. Arbury at the beginning of the meeting, and this was followed by devotions led by Rev. William Horace Day. The First Congregational Orchestra played, and Dr. Hugh K. Walker of the Immanuel Presbyterian Church gave an address on "Rallying."

"The spectacular part of the Christian Endeavor Society is a thing of the past," said Dr. Walker. "The time has come when we are pressing forward to substantial, permanent and aggressive work. After the great and sweeping revivals of the seventies there came a reaction and the world said the church was moribund and could never revive again. It needed the great uplift, spectacular though it was, of the organization of the young people to again surcharge the church with vitality.

"But in place of the spectacular has come a great deepening of the Christian life, a consuming zeal for the salvation of the world which has never been equaled by the religious crusades of the world's history.

"It is a good thing to believe in a real heaven, and it is a good thing also to believe in a real hell. The trouble in so much of the evangelistic work of today is that people do not realize that there is a fearful future in store for the unsaved.

"The Christian Endeavorer ought to be well aware of the conditions of society and to know that souls are going down to perdition. There are men and women in this town today that I know and that you know are only fit, in their present condition, for hell.

"There must be a rally along the old lines, and an especial effort on the cause of missionary enterprise and of civic righteousness. Let the heroic in Christianity come again into your hearts, and see to it that you do something. Jesus Christ depends on His young soldiers to carry His banners, and if you don't carry it, the banner will not be borne. A tremendous responsibility for the advance of Christ's kingdom on earth rests with the Christian Endeavorers."

Rev. E. W. Darst of Berkeley also spoke, his theme being "Every Man His Man." He spoke on the necessity for personal work by the Christian Endeavorer and said: "We are outgrowing the institutional tendency of Christianity and are not thinking so much today about churchianity as about real, vital Christianity. We have come to the spirit of St. Paul and can say: 'For the love of Christ constraineth us.' Doctrinal discussions and theological controversies are being dropped, and a personal God, a personal consecration to His service, is the idea of today. Thus we come into the right relation with our fellow-man as children of one Father and as brethren in the cause of Christ."

The institute will continue today and tomorrow, and this evening at 6 o'clock a banquet will be served in the social hall at the First Congregational Church. The programme for the coming sessions is as follows:

Among the notable features of the larger sheets next Sunday will be "THE YOKE," by Elizabeth Miller; a romance of the days when the Lord redeemed the children of Israel from the bondage of Egypt. This is one of the great novels of the year, and is admittedly the greatest semi-religious novel since "Ben Hur."

"THE RISE OF JAPAN" and the consequent need of Pacific Coast fortifications; a comprehensive review of the progress made by the Japanese, their ambitions, their growing commerce and what the Pacific Coast needs in the way of protection against possible future aggressions of the "little brown people" and other nations. "ROOSEVELT AND PANAMA," a ringing poem by John S. McGroarty, embellished by a handsome and artistic FULL PAGE ILLUSTRATION by Mr. Coffman, a Times special artist. This is one of the best poems Mr. McGroarty has produced, and in its splendid setting makes a noteworthy feature.

"THE TIMES WORLD'S FAIR EXCURSION." An interesting and entertaining sketch of that far journey, written by Harry E. Andrews, City Editor of The Times, who was one of the gentlemen in charge of that unique party.

Tomorrow's Times will contain more than one hundred pages filled with a variety of choice articles.

THE NEWS OF THE WORLD will be found in the telegraph columns.

There will be further discussion of THE PROPOSED NATIONAL FORTIFICATIONS CONGRESS, an undertaking the success of which means a great deal to the Pacific Coast and to the nation.

In addition to the foregoing special features there will be the usual complete record of Society events, theatrical news, domestic topics, news from the labor world, book reviews and other literary discussion, and much other timely and interesting matter.

Canes and Umbrellas.

"Applied silver ornaments for canes and umbrella handles are much in favor this year," said Stanley Glidden of Portland, Or., who represents one of the biggest umbrella and cane houses in the country, at the Hotel Pfister. "Other designs are in perforated gold over ivory, pearl, or gun metal, and these handles run into heavy values, as much as $75 or $100 apiece being the wholesale price.

"There is plenty of sale for these expensive goods. One customer of mine thinks it nothing unusual to sell three or four umbrellas at $75 each in one day. The applied silver designs, which are made on wood, silver or other metal bases, are rapidly supplanting the engraved silver work. They are a new creation, and have received a most favorable reception from the trade.

"In canes, the styles this year will run a trifle heavier than for the last few seasons, but the extremely heavy stick is not in fashion. They are made in Ceylon wood, cassia and English white ash. The German waxel is still popular. In the ornamentation of these sticks the applied silver is favored, and silver inlaid work meets with a ready sale."

Mr. Glidden's stock of samples, which includes many of the most expensive styles, looks like a jewelry store when it is exposed, and it is so valuable that a transit insurance of $10,000 is carried on it. "This does not include the burglar insurance," said Mr. Glidden. "These solid gold handles are a temptation for thieves, but we are well protected against them."—Milwaukee
